Aviation History Program

The History of Air Traffic Control

by Rose Marie Kern,

Air Traffic Control Specialist and Aviation Author

Did you know that the United States Aviation program began as a subdivision of the Federal Bureau of Lighthouses? Hear the fascinating story of the steps taken to bring organization to the wild, new and exciting world of aviation at the beginning of the 20th Century. Rose Marie, an experienced Air Traffic Controller, will also discuss how the various branches of ATC came into being as well as some future plans of the FAA.
