Next Friday is the blood drive. It promises to be the most successful yet.

Last Tri the ERAU netted 360 pints of life-saving blood for the Volusia County Blood Center. Needless to say, we were tickled red with the outstanding participation at ERAU, but now we have a chance to outdo ourselves.

Four hundred pints of blood is not an unreasonable goal for this drive. It will be held for two days, March 16 & 17, between the hours of 9:00 AM and 3:00 PM. We were successful in obtaining room 110 in the Academic Complex. This should be more convenient for students, faculty, and staff.

In addition to our goal of 400 pints of blood, we are trying to enlist participation from the faculty and staff of the school. In the past this has been a weak point in our drive. We encourage everyone connected with ERAU to participate. There is no truth to the rumor that you have to be Irish to give; everyone is welcome.

As in the past there will be prizes, lots of them, such as dinners, shows, and gift certificates. The grand prize hasn't been finalized yet but it promises to be outstanding.

In keeping with the tradition of the holiday, we'd like to see everyone wear green. Try to get some spirit started. As usual, the fraternities are encouraged to promote the drive and participate by competing for the blood drive trophies.

If we all work together and put forth a little effort, we can reach our goal. It takes very little time, doesn't hurt, and is a rewarding experience. The blood we donate could be the Pot of Gold at the end of the rainbow for a loved one or a needy person somewhere. So, let's get out and give next week. Believe it or not you'll feel better in the long run. We will even make a guarantee; you won't turn green!

SCOLARSHIPS GIVEN

The Embry-Riddle Scholarship Committee awarded scholarships to eight deserving students this past week. Presented to senior Roland Sicotte was a full scholarship for the academic year starting in Sept., 1971 and ending in April, 1972. This award will cover full tuition in recognition of his outstanding efforts as a student here. This was also the only full scholarship awarded.

One hundred dollar scholarships were also awarded to the "rising" sophomores of the sophomore and junior classes and to the top students in the Division of Maintenance Technology and the Division of Flight Technology. John Pierce was the sophomore receiving the scholarship; Paul Reeder was awarded the junior scholarship.

In the Maintenance Technology division and the Flight Division, Norman Hankel and Michael Oliver received scholarships.

Three other scholarships were granted, two of them by the $300 Zonta Scholarships for women. Nancy Lucas and Vickie Smith received the awards. The final scholarship was given to Embry-Riddle by the Volusia County International Relations Club.

St. Pats Blood Drive Next Week!
Hi guys, the score is still Lions-5, Christians-0. Flash: We are having some more domestic training films this Trimester. The films will be shown right after a business meeting at the recreation hall over at Lakeview Mobile Home Park. Show up about 8PM (Friday) - there will be free beer for all members. Also, watch your mailboxes for details of a dinner dance we have coming up Saturday the 18th of March. The dance will be at the Club Morocco with live music, a buffet, and a rumored two hundred dollars in door prizes. The deadline for reservations is Tuesday, the 14th of March. You may make your reservations anytime before then over at the used bookstore.

Our volleyball team finished up their season last week with a record of two wins - three losses - two huts - good shopping and lots of fun. A Vet's Club thanks goes to all you players, supporters, and especially to the captain, big Frank Melody. Our softball team is still hanging in, tied for first place. Wn't forget about the movie tickets that are available at the used bookstore; for $1.25 you can get a ticket to any show at the Daytona Theatre.

The petition drive for increased Veteran educational benefits that I mentioned last week is in high gear this week and going well. If you haven't signed the petition, or would like to help us get signatures, we would appreciate your stopping by the bookstore and letting us know; we'll fix you up. That's all for this time. Drive carefully and let me assure you there is no truth to the rumor that Bob Bako is going to be the consulting physicist for ERAU.

There is no truth to the rumor that Embry-Riddle is merging with the Army, Air Force, Navy and U.S.M.C.

What are you doing next Tuesday evening, March 14th? The best place to be is at the Lakeview Mobile Home Park recreation building at 7:30 PM. We will hold nominations and elections for the officers for the new term. This is a very important meeting for all of us to attend.

If you haven't heard, beginning with the 14th, our club will have all meetings at the Lakeview Mobile Home Park recreation building. The entrance to the park is at Reed Canal Road near its intersection at Nova Rd. in the South Daytona Area. Al's Market is on Nova Road at the intersection of Reed Canal. Please come to the meeting this Tuesday night, give your support and vote!

CO-ED CORNER

Miss Cheryl Wimbash recently started in the Pro Pilot program.

She was from Greensboro, N.C., and lived in Orlando Beach for the duration of her stay here at ERAU. Her interests include motorcycles, flying (naturally), and she would like to start skin diving during her stay in Florida.

She also promised to submit articles to the AVION (we're hoping she will join our staff). Welcome aboard, Cheryl.
I want to congratulate and thank the students for their cooperation and conduct at the Student SGA Dance on March 4. I feel everyone attending the dance had a good time, enjoyed themselves, and as far as I know we had no violations of local ordinances.

The jukebox in the student center is being contracted for repair. We are going to take into consideration the amount it will cost to repair it before we issue a contract. The jukebox is getting old and starting to give us extensive problems. We are thinking of the possibility of replacing it with a stereo amplifier and tape deck to be placed in the barber shop and controlled by your friendly barber, Fred. Any suggestions along this line would be appreciated.

The SGA President's Corner

I have talked with Malcom Jones, who is on the county commission, and he informed me that the lease for building 12, which is to become the Student Beer Hall, is to be on the agenda this Friday, and we should know by next week whether the lease has been approved. If it is approved, we can anticipate an opening within 30 days after receipt of the legal lease.

I would like to extend on behalf of the SGA most sincere "Get Well" to President Hunt. We are looking forward to seeing him back on campus in the near future.

Seniors desiring to attend the Senior Class Party, Sunday night, April 16, please stop by the SGA office and fill out the required invitation card. Once you fill out these cards, the invitations to the party will be sent to you. Only seniors receiving invitations will be allowed to attend the party. This party is for all Seniors graduating this year 1972, not just those graduating in April.

An abundance of generalizations concerning involvement and indirectly apathy slashed through the presses last week. These two words, involvement & apathy, make periodic appearances here on campus. In retrospect though, the voices that screamed those words so loudly in the past were soon forced into silence. Undoubtedly the new voices that are rising now, face the same consequences as those before-unless of course, they find unity with cause.

This all relates to a phone call received last week from a DBC student. He questioned the validity of priorities with the actual content of The AVION. This question pinpointed the consciousness of articles printed and reflected on reasons for this. I had only one answer for him: the one expressed in the first paragraph. As to that first paragraph, I can speak first hand.

What can be done then to alleviate this situation? History reflects that the majority of journalists take a liberal outlook. This is especially true with the college newspaper staffs today. The newspaper is the voice of the people. To reach the people with ideas is the object of every paper. Conservatism only breeds stagnation, and this is your opportunity for change.

The true value of our Student Government Senate is the proper management and representation of the student association. The newspaper and Senate Committees are the major parts of the general scheme of operations. In order to achieve that change, the student must work within the system. The AVION is part of that system: use it.

The last time we went to Gaylord's, we made reservations. When we arrived we had to wait anyway. This could be easily explained because it was in the middle of a tourist event and the whole town was full.

We were shown to our table...it was the worst table in the whole house - next to the Busboy's dropoff and just around the corner from the kitchen, so the waitresses were rounding the corner and almost bumping into us.

We told the hostess that we would like to have another table (the place was thinning out and there were several available). These requests are usually most easily handled with a little palm greasing, but in this case we felt that since we did have a reservation that wasn't honored, we were entitled to at least have a table where we could enjoy our meal.

This was the biggest deal in the world (we were still standing with the hostess and a couple of steps in either direction could have solved the problem). Finally, the hostess consented to allow us to have another table. It started our evening out on the wrong foot.

This time we went in a group. When we were seated the owner's husband very solicitously asked us if we were enjoying our meal, etc. He then turned to a longer haired fellow in our party and said, "How about you miss - are you having a good time?"

He didn't leave it at that. Twice more during the evening he made references to our friend's haircut. Things were getting a little tense, and "Mr. Gaylord" didn't realize how close he came to having a customer serve him a plate of food - in his face.

Gaylord's is a fantastic fish house. Their selection of food is the widest around, and everything is delicious. Their wine list is extensive, and the service once past the hostess is very good.

I think Gaylord's has seen the last of us for a while, however. Two hassles in a row, one due to a poor selection of an employee, and the other due to Mrs. Gaylord's poor selection of a husband, have sent us packing.
REBUTTAL TO PEANUTS & POPCORN

Dear Mr. John Storm (whoever he may be):

Yes, I do know what I am doing. The Senior Class has about 450 students in it. If each one is allowed one guest, some 900 people could show up at the senior party. Add to that figure an additional 200 people from the faculty, administration and VIP guests. That means that the senior class officers must plan budget for 1,100 people on an allocated budget of $2,500. Nor does a hors d'oeuvres cost a minimum of 75¢ per item. Some of the hors d'oeuvres you want cost over $1.00 each. If you would like, we could throw a BYOB senior party.

Since you believe the old wives tale that solid food in the stomach soaks up alcohol, may I suggest that you bring a loaf of bread to the party. It would fall within an acceptable price range and would more than adequately serve your purpose.

You further insist that eating staves off cirrhosis of the liver. Again you are incorrect. This is our first and last college graduation. May I suggest that several years delay is in order for you as you are obviously not ready for this one?

As president of the senior class, I am bound morally and legally to do my best for the senior class in planning the senior party and aiding in the coordination of graduation. I welcome constructive criticism at all times. I welcome even more voluntary help in the planning of the senior party.

Since tomorrow is the big day, we've been doing some last minute chores, mostly cleaning up the house. After the softball practice tomorrow at 8:30, all the pledges and brothers will meet at the house to clean up and sparkle again. Later in the afternoon, Alumni Pat Phelan is flying in from California to attend the banquet. Representatives from National will be our regent, Phil Schenere and Field Secretary, Paul Bolman. Congratulations telegrams and letters have been coming in all week from various Delta Chi chapters all over the United States.

It's been a long way from local Pi Sigma Phi to Delta Chi chapters, but it's not the end of a long road; just an appropriate beginning of things to come. I think now since only one day remains, we should thank Brothers Bob and his Chartering Committee for all the time and work they put in for preparations.

Be back next week!

Delta Chi

The brothers and pledges of Sigma Chi have again been very busy, and things don't promise to slow down in the near future.

Recently we solicited for the United Fund, collecting over $345.00 for this worthy program. Although this was slightly below our goal, it proved to be an interesting and rewarding experience for those who participated. We were surprised by the number of large dogs that abound in the area. Now that we have completed our United Fund campaign, our efforts will shift to the Easter Seal program that is to start in a few weeks.

While the fund collection was in process on Saturday, part of the pledges were planted trees along the faculty parking lot at the academic complex. It was very attractive and practical project that impressed the brothers of Eta Iota. It would appear that Jim Patterson's boys are shaping up very well indeed, and will be an asset to Sigma Chi.

Any student who changes his program, or wishes to change his major, should contact his full time basis both terms of the summer; will be subject to the increased tuition. If there are any questions please refer to the bulletin of the Alpha Rho Omega on the campus in October.

Eta Iota's first anniversary banquet is slated for March 17 at the Plaza Hotel. There will no doubt be the social function of the year for the chapter. We are all looking forward to it. Brothers Nick Kropog, Terry Gardner and Jerry Fry have been working hard on making it a success, and from all indications they have done their job admirably.

We have also been keeping active in campus functions. The dance was well attended by the brothers, pledges, and alumni of Eta Iota, and we all enjoyed it very much. This was a fine event and from what we hear just a preview of what to expect from the new social committee. After the dance we all met at brother Roger Moody's apartment for breakfast. Brother Roger's hospitality was appreciated and we'd like to take this opportunity to thank him. Breakfast was accentuated by a (social) visit by Dean Mansfield and the cooking prowess of Mark Rogers.

On the sports scene, the bowling season is now over (thank goodness) and although we came in last, the spirit was there and the games were enjoyed by all who participated. Our softball game Sunday was postponed due to poor weather, but all our players were still game, so they had a practice game at the inlet. Brother Skip Beard also participated in another sport: boating. When someone tried to use the ball diamond for a bike course, but all turned out well (the guy rode away).

All in all it has been a busy week for Eta Iota, with much more in store shortly.
Dear Aunt Lucy,

When you called last night, you probably won¬dered who was speaking so loud. That was me. A loud voice was who answered the phone and what that barking was in the background. It was Wilbur, my first college roommate, staying with me again. We used to room together in one of those small dormitory rooms with thin walls, tiny dressing stalls, indoor-outdoor linoleum tile—you know, a typical college dorm. I remember my first day at the dorm, wondering what my roommate would be like. I arrived three hours before he did and I guarded the bed near the window, making sure I’d get custody of the top dresser drawers so I wouldn’t have to bend over more than necessary.

And then Wilbur arrived, with a knapsack and a menagerie of cats, hamsters, birds, gerbils, chameleons. Wilbur was an animal freak. I’d wake up in the middle of the night and find Wilbur’s ten gerbils stuck between my toes, his four cats taunting the mynah bird, which was caving obsequies that made the college newspaper look innocent. But he didn’t have a dog.

And now after three years of being away from that room, I am rooming with Wilbur again. And not alone.

I always wanted a dog. I explain when he arrived here. "You know, I used to see those movies like Rin Tin Tin, Lassie, and National Velvet..."

"National Velvet was a horse. I know, but I used to squint my eyes real tight and it looked like a dog. I always wondered what Elizabeth Taylor was doing riding a dog. Of course I called the stuffing out of it.

And he did. And as he did, Wilbur tried to rumble something about "a dog, a dog..."

"Oh yeah? I’ll teach you not to call my wife a dog."

And he did teach Wilbur. An eye, an ear, and a nose worth.

And Wilbur moved out. Quickly. And moved into my place. Quicklier. So you see, Aunt Lucy, that’s what Wilbur and his dog are doing here.

So now Wilbur spends his days at the doctor (a good eye, ear and nose man) and looks for a new apartment, although he doesn’t seem to be in too much of a hurry. And I spend my days with an unruly dog named Paddington, wishing that Liz would leave Dick and ride away on Pad into the sunset until a big The End flashes across my mind’s screen and this whole mess—Remembrances and all—is over.

I haven’t gotten around to telling my new wed neighbors, Pat and Leonard Meister, about the dog yet. I’ve been too busy with the dog, trying to teach her to behave -- you know, "lay down, Pad...stay, Pad...sit, girl...roll over...get off my bed..."

Oh, now she’s jumping on my desk and I think she wants some attention. "Do you want me to rub your belly, Pad?"

Hey, someone just came in the apartment. It’s, it’s Mr. Meister. He’s coming at me...anyway. I finally got a dog a few weeks ago. She’s sitting on your table...didn’t you notice?"

Devouring my table was the biggest sheep dog I had ever seen; so large that even Richard Burton would be afraid to ride her. And if I hadn’t noticed her before, I certainly noticed the little Remembrances she had left from the door to the table, a la Hansel and Gretel, without the fairy tale charm.

"Her name is Paddington," Wilbur said. "But you can call her Pad."

"Pad?"

"No, Pad. Consider her your third roommate."

"But will she pay rent?" I asked as Wilbur walked away.

When Wilbur first got Pad, he lived in one of those apartment complexes (Withering Arms Terrace East) for swinging singles and your harried marrieds with paper-thin walls — just like the dorm. Robert Cher, a jealous young husband, and his wife, Pat, lived next door to Wilbur.

But Wilbur was preoccupied, trying, in his unique booming voice, to teach Paddington tricks. "Roll over, Pad...sit, girl...stay, Pad...lay down, Pad...get off my bed, Pad...bad girl...good girl...let me scratch your belly...how does that feel, Pad?...up, Pad...and on and on...

...until Robert Cher came bounding into Wilbur’s apartment.

"Okay, where is she?"

Wilbur asked twice.

"My wife. My wife," Mr. Cher answered twice. "I heard you calling her, you disgusting wife snatcher, telling her to lay down and roll over and get off your bed..."

"Better off than on, huh?"

"Okay, kid," Mr. Cher said, grabbing Wilbur, "Where is my wife?"

"Beats me..."
A number of students made an unnecessary trip to this office on Friday thinking it was pay day. So once more I will do my duty and inform the uninformed by telling them that pay days are the 6th and 21st day of each month. The only exception to this is when one of these dates falls on Saturday or Sunday, then you may pick up your check the preceding Friday.

I'm sure that by now most of those students eyeing the world of employment have heard rumors of Career Day, scheduled for March 31. To date the following companies will be represented: American Airlines, National Airlines, Inc., Eastern Airlines, Inc., Civil Service, Federal Aviation Administration, LTV - Electro Systems, Inc., North American, Inc., U.S. Air Force, U.S. Navy and U.S. Army.

Career Day is for all those students graduating in the calendar year 1972. Please stop by the Placement Office at your earliest convenience and indicate if you will attend Career Day. I will have lists of companies participating and would appreciate your signing for those you are most interested in. This is only to determine the number of persons that will have to be accommodated. Representatives will be on campus from 8 AM to 4 PM and will be available to talk with students from 10 AM until 11:30 AM and from 2 PM to 4 PM. If you have any questions, contact Kevin Phillips, Frank Meyer or myself. Major Cordrett, U.S. Marines, will be on campus Monday, March 20 and 21. Major Porton, U.S. Air Force, Balin Air Force Base, will be on campus March 22 to recruit students nearing graduation for ROTC and Flight School. Anyone interested in interviewing with Major Porton must make an appointment in the Placement Office.

INSURANCE FOR THE COLLEGE MAY NOT BE YOUR LIFE! ADVISES C.U. (Prepared by Consumer Reports)

Unless a college student has children, as a rule he should not buy life insurance. In fact, says the nonprofit Consumers Union, "The last thing most college students need is life insurance."

"The exception would be the bursar winner on campus and would be dependent until they grow up. Despite this atypical circumstance for a collegian, CU says "The life insurance agent has become a familiar figure on many campuses."

Bearing this out is an industry survey of more than 300 life insurance companies which turned up 20 percent with sales programs aimed at college students and student professionals who are not yet earning enough to pay the premiums.

Isn't it difficult to sell a policy to someone who can't afford it? Insurance men have their sales pitch so programmed to this hurdle that they can often turn it into a selling point, says Consumer Union, they approach the premium paying problem by offering to finance the first annual premium, and frequently the second, with a loan to be paid off perhaps five years later.

The interest on that five year loan? It's payable at an annual rate of 6 to 8% or more. And, says CU, in many plans the policyholder cont'd page 8

As an example of what life insurance loans can cost, the nonprofit consumer organization tells of a $10,000 policy sold by Fidelity Union Life of Dallas in 1970. The 21-year-old student purchaser paid an annual interest rate of 8.5 per cent. The compounded finance charge on the first year premium loan of $151 comes to $76.07.

From the creditor's standpoint, such loans are among the safest imaginable, says Consumers Union. Its full report on the sale of life insurance to students, contained in the January issue of Consumer Reports, explains why lender's risk is so minimal.

One element involves a miniature endowment policy built right into the insurance policy. At the end of five years, the insurance company gets most of the cash value in payment of the policyholder's debt. The promissory note itself has built into it an acceleration clause, a typical feature of retail installment contracts. If the student fails to pay any premiums on time, the lender can demand immediate payment of the entire loan. With the promissory note, he can also readily obtain a court judgment ordering payment.

Entitled "Caveat Empor on Campus," the CU report warns that as with most retail credit agreements, an insurance policy financing note may be impossible to cancel. Life insurance is customarily sold for a year at a time. When a student is persuaded to buy a policy and sign a financing agreement, he is committing himself to buy a full year's protection.

None of the policies or promissory notes examined by Consumers Union had a provision for refund of premiums during the first year. And, says CU, the policies are relatively expensive cash value policies with lots of extra-priced features.

Companies doing a big business in college policies often set up special agents in college towns. They like to recruit as salesmen popular campus figures such as fraternity leaders, recently graduated star athletes, former coaches and even faculty members and administrators.

One professor at Michigan State University is cited as reporting some students he interviewed didn't know they were signing a contract committing them to buy insurance. Some thought they were signing a medical form. Others thought they were getting the first year's insurance free. All were being sued by the same insurance company.

There is no truth to the rumor: That this is the Book Store's spy camera in action.

BASEBALL
by Coach Brown

Last Wednesday, March 1, the Eagles dueled a tough U-of South Florida squad, and came out on the short end, 8-0. As is sometimes the case, the final score did not indicate the closeness of the game. USF poked 6 hits and made 1 error, while Riddle managed only 3 hits but played an errorless game. Walks hurt the Riddle cause though, as three alone came in the first inning when USF scored four runs.

Captain Steve Sullen-trup came up with the fielding play of the game, driving for a hard hit ball in back of second base and flipping to the shortstop for a force-out, stopping cold a possible big inning for USF. Two of the extra bases, as Gary Hup connected for a double in the first inning, and Runyon for a triple in the ninth, Riddle's record as of this writing is 0-3. On Saturday, March 11, Riddle plays F.I.T. in a twin - bill, away. Game time is 1:30 PM.

TENNIS

Through a misunderstanding about who would keep the AVION informed about the ERAU Tennis Team, no one has; and so this is to give the student body and faculty information about the team's activities this year.

Our record this year looks pretty bad-- until we compare it with other years, especially last year. Until this year we never defeated a college team and had come close only once. This year we've been soundly beaten once, we've soundly beaten another team once, and we've lost three by one point. Let's look at last year's and this year's scores:

Getting It Together

by John Eaton

At the beginning of my Junior (not to mention my Sophomore and Senior) year in High School, I was very much looking forward to the rewarding benefits and changes that college would bring to my life. In order to make the "big step", I began improving my scholastic ability- upon the advice of my Guidance Counselor- just to make sure I could handle the challenges and pressures that college would bring.

At this point, I would like to direct these questions to Pres. Hunt, (if he reads the AVION) and/or to whom else it may concern: "What, in your opinion, is a college's role for the student?" And, if you can answer that one, here's another: "What, besides an education, does Embry-Riddle Aeronautics offer the students?"

Within my daydreams, I was envisioning such responsibilities as the freedom to think and act for myself and to live my own life as I want to live it, not for parents, teachers, and principals to live and decide for me. Pres. Hunt, this is your biggest and most important mistake, concerning on campus students. E-RAU does not give students the right to decide for himself what is morally right or wrong. Examples of this include: races, inspections, class attendance, of course 24 hour visitation! One of the hopes that parents have when they send their kids away to college is, of course, to provide them with a good education, but also to help their "children" develop into responsible human beings with the capacity to successfully meet the outside world. If your answer to my first question was just that, then aren't FULLY considering this to the development of your students.

There are enough regulations in this college to fill a 747. Speaking on behalf of the residents of Dorm I- we feel extremely restricted in developing ourselves morally and psychologically to compete with the challenge and pressures of the outside world. We feel, like most every college student, that the purpose of a college is one of learning by experience. College, in the parents' eye, is the crucial point in their sons or daughters' life! I'm sure that if the parents fully realized how college is, of course, an important mistake, concerning on campus students, they would bring to their life. I'm sure that if the parents fully realized how college is, of course, an important mistake, concerning on campus students, they would bring to their life. I'm sure that if the parents fully realized how college is, of course, an important mistake, concerning on campus students, they would bring to their life. Despite all these regulations? These rules, which you are using against us, indicate your disrespect and low esteem, not to mention your underestimation of us! A very fine example of this lies in Dean Spears' response to 24 hr. visitation during the last meeting, which was that he would resign if and when Dorm I got unlimited visitation on the weekends. Dig that! GIVE US A CHANCE!

We, the readem of the AVION, will be expecting your reply, to the above questions and comments. News of your reply, if any, will receive considerable publicity.

As I stated before, this column has been created in the hope of increasing student Administration relations- START DOING YOUR PART!

Hi guys, the score is still Lions-5, Christians-0. Flash: We are having some more domestic training films this trimester. The films will be shown right after a business meeting at the recreation hall over at Lakeview Mobile Home Park. Show up about 8PM (Friday) - there will be free beer for all members. Also, watch your mailboxes for details of a dinner dance we have coming up Saturday the 18th of March. The dance will be at the Club Morocco with live music, a buffet, and a rumored two hundred dollars in door prizes. The deadline for reservations is Tuesday, the 14th of March. You may make your reservations anytime before then over at the used bookstore.

Our volleyball team finished up their season last week with a record of two wins - three losses. Good show and lots of fun. Club thanks go to all you players, supporters, and especially to the captain, Big Frank Melody. Our softball team is still hanging in, tied for first place.

Don't forget about the movie tickets that are available at the used bookstore for $1.25. You can get a ticket to any show at the Daytona Theater.

The petition drive for increased veterans educational benefits that I mentioned last week is in high gear this week and going well. If you haven't signed the petition, or would like to help us get signatures, we would appreciate your stopping by the bookstore and letting us know; we'll fix you up.

That's all for this time. Drive carefully and let me assure you there is no truth to the rumor that Bob Kakak is going to be the consulting physician for ERAU.

There is no truth to the rumor that Embry-Riddle is merging with the Army, Air Force, Navy and U.S.M.C.
Sure wish I could drink this. I thought it was bigger than that!
