DIGITAL FORENSIC SCIENCE
Faculty Opportunity

The Defiance College vision creates an educational experience of engagement in civic, cultural, and learning dimensions.

Located in the city of Defiance in northwest Ohio, Defiance College is an independent, coeducational, liberal arts-based institution.
www.defiance.edu

Defiance College seeks an enthusiastic faculty member to develop, refine, and teach courses in the rapidly-growing undergraduate Digital Forensic Science (DFS) major. Candidates must have a graduate degree, a strong affinity for student mentorship and community service, and be able to guide students through successful engagement learning opportunities in a robust hands-on curriculum. This full-time faculty position will commence Fall 2010. Duties include:

- Instructing courses on computer fundamentals; computer and small-scale digital device forensics; information security; network forensics; network intrusion detection; and legal, ethical, and professional issues
- Providing training to local law enforcement agencies
- Participating in development of a DFS graduate program

Further details and application procedures can be found at <http://www.defiance.edu/pages/employment.html>.
