Flight Courses Reservations

Based on projections made by several University hommitees, the "Demand" for Flight training will increase again in the fall. While we are aggressively pursuing ways to improve resource utilization and service, we will not compromise the quality of our programs, and therefore will be limiting the enrollment in the flight programs this fall. Present students will be given priority in reserving space in a particular flight course until May 1. After that, space will be allocated on a first-come-first-served basis until the quotas are filled.

To reserve space for yourself or a fellow student for the fall term, secure a reservation form from the Flight Records Office (Academic Complex) or the Registration and Records office (Admin. Bldg.) go to the Bursar's Office, and make the required $100 deposit (refundable if cancelled in writing before July 1st) at the Bursar's Office, and return the completed form with the Bursar's Field stamp to the Flight Records Office in the GM complex.

Please write in care of the Flight Records Office, GM Complex. Include your check and name and address and indicate the particular flight course and time of day you desire to fly.

The Flight Division has structured the flight offerings of the fall semester to accommodate the students of the first, second, and third groups of students flying out of September, with those who make the above flight reservation, retaining first priority. Any student who makes the above flight reservation will be given a flight assignment after the needs of the students who have been set up, on a strictly space available basis.

Flight reservations can be made in person or by mail from the list of April 1st through July 15, 1977. Any reservations not accepted on a space available basis will not be honored. If you are at first or second half of the new offerings, you are guaranteed a space for your flight.

The Flight Division recommends that you register for the fall offerings as soon as possible. Your space reservation, however, will be made on a first-come-first-served basis until the quotas are filled. The last day to cancel your reservation to receive a complete refund is July 1st, 1977.

EASTER VACATION EVENTS
SET FOR COLLEGE BREAKS

LAKE BUENA VISTA, FL
An exciting Easter season featuring fireworks, an old-fashioned Easter parade, special entertainment, and extended Magic Kingdom operating hours is awaits visitors to Walt Disney World, April 2-9. Popular rock group, Be Donaldson and the Heywoods will present three shows nightly in Tomorrowland from April 2-9, and blues singer, Pinetop Perkins will perform each night from April 10-16.

Le by Mr. H. Mrs. Easter Bunny, this year's April 20 Easter Parade will begin at 3 p.m. on Main Street, U.S.A. The parade, with theme "Fantasy in the Sky," will be featured on WDW Network. The floats will be unique cars, colorful floats, bands and Mickey and Minnie in their Easter finery.

Embry-Riddle Media Services
To improve our service to you, please note the following new policies:
1. Your ERM ID card is needed to check out reserve materials. Be sure you have it when you come.
2. If two notices from us on overdue books, the third letter will be from the Dean of Students office, resulting in suspension from classes if the matter is not cleared up immediately. Please return materials for others to use.

LIBRARY USES NOTES: All books are due no later than April 15th this term.

In response to requests for the Media Center to remain open on Sundays, we have planned to make arrangements for the weekends in April. HOWEVER, due to the lack of air conditioning we have postponed this idea. If you feel that you would attend regardless of condition, let us know and we will see what can be done. New books are now displayed at the end of the card catalog. Stop by and see what we have for you. We welcome your ideas, recommendations, and suggestions. Give us your input - our recommendation box is at the front desk in the Media Center.

HAPPY EASTER!!
After recovering from the shock of realizing that this Opinion page is actually read by a select few, I decided that Mr. Dykes' letter (below) is in fact a very valid observation of my editorial in the March 16th issue of the AVION.

The misunderstanding is a classical case of the "I know you believe you understand what you think I said, but I'm not sure you realize what you heard is not what I meant" syndrome.

To clarify, I was trying to describe the average Middle student, but I didn't mean that the characteristic I described was exclusive to "the average student" only. To relate some logic to this situation that I so aptly learned in Mr. Cumberland's HU-250 course, I said that the average student was apathetic, premise A. The average student is a member of an organization, premise B. You can not validly deduce from those premises that I meant every member of an organization is apathetic, although I must admit that the way I worded it implied just that. A member of a number of organizations myself, I don't consider myself apathetic. Indeed the Independent is the culprit, generally! Apathy does not belong to the independents.

Thanks, Jim, for calling this misunderstanding to my attention, and I hope this clarifies it.

VP THOUGHTS
by Dave Fraser

As stated in my article last week, the Senate voted overwhelmingly to modify the "Traffic-Security Committee" to the "Traffic-Security Committee on Campus." Last week the C.C.C. brought suit with another unanimous vote. This indicates that the students as a whole are indeed not happy with the traffic and security procedures here. I wonder how many students actually know that the parking lot area will be cut even more by the expanding of the flight line. The C.C.C. has even taken the matter one step further when they requested that all restricted automobile parking (family and administrative) be abolished on campus. I anticipate that this issue will be brought up in the next Senate meeting. I hope that the administrative council will make the decision to take the students view into account when the issue is brought up by our representative, John O'Neal, in his next meeting.

Three cheers for FPM for occasionally serving very appetizing meals containing freshly cut meat. I'm sure most of the students appreciate this as much as I do.

This weekend there will be an EGA movie outside over by the dorm with some beer, a fact which, Greek Week will swing into full gear directly after the movie (with some more beer). The next day the EGA will supply a barbeque with chicken and beef for everyone while the Greeks and clubs do their thing.

Jeffrey M. Rubin

I will answer the letter from Sigma Phi Delta first. I would like for you to tell me how the function you had was for all the students? If it was for all, why did you have to pay $20? The big joke is that you expect the SGA to pay the expenses out of all the student money and then charge them for the function. Also, do you really have to have 50 chairs and tables and give each one of them 2 kegs of beer we would all vote for that. I resolved to put the 5 movies and 1 CTCF. Is this what you expect of the SGA?

I am glad you took time to criticize the management in the paper because you sure hadn't the nerve to come by or put down in any way. By way, you didn't bother to come by and ask for any beer at your function. And last but not least, I think you sit down and take a look at yourself, you will find out who is very large indeed in the needs of the students at middle. You are entitled to your opinion and I am entitled to mine and this is mine.

Today (Monday) I had a very interesting day. I went to the Administrative Council meeting and we voted on the budget. 1st motion: to increase Student Service fee from $25 to $50. 2nd motion: that in lieu of increase of flight fees, the proposed hourly rate increase of $3 be accepted. 3rd motion: that bottom line reduction of any remaining revenue or of contingency funds be applied to a Campus Construction Program Reserve. 4th motion: raise A.M.T/W students tuition from $850 to $950. This is the way we voted. 1. No. 2. No. 3. No. 4. Yes. Reasons: 1. I don't think we need more Student Service fees. 2. I don't think we need to increase flight rates. I think it is a good idea to put up reserve for construction. 4. If it will eliminate these sources, I vote $850 an hour at no extra cost. They can now pay $3/week for these courses. The budget was approved by the Administrative Council and will now go to the President for approval or disapproval. Then it goes to the Board of Trustees for approval or disapproval.

Don't forget to come out to the Chicken on Barbeque Saturday, April 2. This will be our last big flier for the trimester.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the student who "borrowed" the Harbrace College Handbook from my desk. Would you please return it. It is the property of the Humanities Department and is needed. Dear Mr. Editor:

A couple of weeks ago, you wrote an editorial describing the apathetic Middle student. As I started reading the editorial, I thought, "All right. Somebody is finally going to sock it to the students." But a different attitude got hold of me by the time I had finished your article. Overall, it was a good description. But your accusations of the apathetic Middle student usually relating to a fraternity is unjust. I believe the number of fraternity members and other organizations on campus are usually the best informed students. As is what is going on. The argument I give is that why should a person who is informed go to college or for that matter, any organization on campus.

Apparently something the student wants is not being supplied by the school or G.S.A. I feel that we are looking for activities and events to get involved with and to establish relationships with some good people, like himself. Once involved in a process of enjoying school, events, and sports, your apathetic level will decrease. The argument I give is that why should a person join a fraternity or for that matter, any organization on campus.

FEEDBACK

QUESTION: When taking phone messages - it would be nice if the operators were advised to mention the name and/or date of the meeting.

ANSWER: I spoke to one of our "Tele-Communications Engineers" and she assured me this would be done in the future. She also suggested that staff check their P.O. Box daily, as messages are placed there daily.

QUESTION: Raffle off the "Viscount"?

ANSWER: We are considering a very small and exclusive raffle. Tickets would be available for $2.00 each with only 10 on sale. Want to buy one?

QUESTION: Please fix the air conditioner in the academic complex. It is very difficult to concentrate on a class, sitting in an 80-85 degree room. As a student who pays tuition to extend classes here, I don't think the student body should have to put up with this for so long a time. If the EABU maintenance people can't fix it, then bring in professionals to fix it.

ANSWER: In a recent luncheon, an EABU president mentioned the air conditioning in the Academic Complex. It seems the cooling pipes have malfunctioned and now ones are on order. So that you don't expect it immediately, we aware that it will take about a week for them to arrive.

QUESTION: Why doesn't WERU sponsor constructive university events, like a campus clean-up day? Having attended three universi- ties, I can honestly say that "Riddler" is one of the most littered. Junk could pile into the streets around the dorms for years before anyone would pick it up. It would rot to first. Is there no campus pride?

ANSWER: Eric Haunig, WERU station manager said that the priority for WERU at present is the station, the air by April 1, 1977. He went on to say that he felt the suggestion was a good one and would very possibly be used in the future.

Sreb Releases Statistics

ATLANTA—Total college enrollment in the state increased slightly last fall, over the previous high levels of fall 1975, even though the enrollment of women and first-year students increased markedly.

Analyzing preliminary data from the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES), Southern Regional Education Board (SREB) identified the following:

* Enrollment in the Southern public colleges and universities dropped one percent between fall 1975 and fall 1976, but the region's private institutions gained two percent.

* This spool was an overall drop of 1.6 percent in the Southern public enrollments, since public institutions accounted for 99.4 percent of the region's student population.

* The most significant decreases were in the Southern public four-year institutions, which gained nearly three percent from fall 1976 to fall 1976. The 2,600 fewer students enrolled.

* Enrollment in the same pattern was reflected nationally, according to the NCES data, which show a 1.8 percent decrease in fall 1976, a decline of 102,000 students from fall 1975. In the 14 SREB states, total enrollment was 848,000 in fall 1976, which is 18,000 less than fall 1975. The leveling enrollment trends in 1975 and 1976 followed the unexpected enrollment boom in fall 1975 when total enrollment increased by 13 percent in the South, as young people flocked to college in market in that year of recession and chose to enroll in college. Many of these students appear to have changed their minds in fall 1976 and dropped out of college.

* The stabilizing enrollment region and the declines in some states and for some types of institutions are basically an indication of large increases of the year before. For example, some state systems have experienced two-year projections made in Fall 1975 were underestimated the 1975 growth, but, with some states now in line with expected changes over the two-year period.

* The decline in the two-year college enrollment numbers generally indicates an extra educational and training were not returning to a more receptive labor market. Fall-offs for some institutions and states are too partly attributable to the concentrated enrollment of veterans due to the number of veterans eligible for G.I. Bill benefits dropped substantially in 1976.
Several members of Alpha participated in a Monte Carlo Night at the Hearst-Howe Holiday Inn in support of the American Cancer Association. Thursday we will be col­lecting over 300 Easter eggs for the Bremer Preparatory School for an Easter egg hunt at 11:00-12:00 Saturday, April 2.

A Beach Party is planned along with the Vets Club for an A.O.P. April 6 and 7. Bring your coolers and food and whatever else it takes to have a happy and warm (no teddy bears please). AAA will be participat­ing in the Stillwater Country Roundup Sunday. Would cer­tainly like to see all the AAA members there to support the team. AAA now has a 12-1 record after beating the N.M. Express 13-5, Tom and Steve Boys hit a home run. Our team consists of the most team member car. No one seems to have the slightest idea in the world at some time in the future and the teamwork was great.

SIGMA CHI NEWS

by Juan Gonzalez

Sigmas Chi and friends enjoyed another weekend of partying even though there are 25 days until graduation. This weekend everyone attended a party in a partying mood.

Friday night our pledges had a party and it seemed successful in all aspects. There was partying Saturday night also with many of us Sunday morning with headaches.

Many of our visiting Sigs and friends have disappeared since their spring vacation is coming to an end. So the majority of partying this weekend was done by our own chapter and friends. In the line of events, one of our pledges had his car's front end rearranged. It looks like there are some pledges using bicycles now. Our softball team struck with fury this past Sunday and mauled AHP 28-12. Everyone was a hitting star as we could do no wrong at the plate. Our pitch­er O.C. was in trouble most of the game with the slick fielding bailing him out of trouble. Credit is given to X.N. for an outstanding relief job. The team looks forward to playing next week in the conference pending the success of the Captain America party the night before.

We will all wish the softball team success and later wind up the season with a win.

I would like to start this week's column on a serious note. It seems that somebody stole Steve Mornings (sic) high chair from his car. Whoever did (sic) would, you please return it so Steve can see for­ever the dashboard.

This coming Saturday is the wine-tasting and spaghetti food party. For those who like St. John's notice, here are the details. It will be held at the San Remo restaurant, South Sidewood Ave., between 7pm and $3.00. The total cost is $11.95 of which $2.95 is being subsidized by the club. Let's have a lot of people show up and make this a big success.

Last Friday Joe Glinski led us into the wilderness of Pleasger Beach (or the desert). We got off to a late start and were not explained to Joe that Pleasger was not the best spot. Everything went all right and we had a good sleep. Hauser blew a tire. It seems that Ward his tire was flat for 500 miles. Q everyone got drunk and had a good time. The Big Blue Kecking Crew did it again. This week Miller Boys went down to defeat 13 to 29. The game was followed by hamburgers and beer.

A rather poor example was set by a friend of everybody. As usual, we were treated to a tour of one of our friends' cars. We en­countered a friend of someone who was out of Miami. It seems that Ward back­ed into a pole and was very embarrassed in the back of another member's car. He passed out. The young lady he was with was so impressed (sic) that she is using him for assault with a dead weapon. Finally, Mark Hans­sen was a real good sport and got a little drunk on our weekly column. He only wanted to find out how I found out. A little goat told me. Mark, Haas, has.

MTG CLUB

On Monday, April 6, we will be having our last dinner meeting of the semester. The meeting will be at President Hu'st's house in Gorman. Although we are fortunate to have Mr. Hu's house, we are not fortunate to have Mr. Hu. We are lucky to have located a house in Jacksonville, as we are not going to make reservations, with John Stewart, for this excellent meeting. It will be located at 2517 S. 24th Street. The phone number is 375-2151. The dinner will be held at 7:30, and will be followed by a talk by Mr. H. The election will be held at this meeting. Come and vote for your choice of club offic­ers. For more info about the meeting, contact Wade in the Student Activities Office.

Army ROTC

It began like your classic war movie. There were three outfits in the mother company. The first platoon was made up of the veteran—troops who had been called upon before, had proven themselves, and yet knew that the ultimate test of discipline and endurance was still to come. The accomplishments of the past did not help, once again, they were expected to perform successfully. After all they had done in the past...the second platoon consisted of the "green" recruits, troops who were young and itching to prove themselves. The first platoon looked upon them as upstarts who were naive as to the realities of facing a seasoned foe and who did not know the most of winning battles. On the other hand, maybe their morale, determination and organization were underestimated.

The unit could not even be called a platoon in any sense of the word. There were no understrengthened (squad size) undertrained, with no formal leaders, and without discipline. The members were from every possible background, had nothing in common and had been together by circumstance. All were considered either misfits or delinquents, or so it seemed. What are the stars of this "movie"?

John Wayne, Henry Fonda, Kirk Douglas, and Dean Martin? No, they were the members of the ROTC "Second Platoon," the Ants of Stetson's Army ROTC unit.

The LTP's, who are the juniors in ROTC, made up this "Second Platoon" during the Fort Stewart trip. Facing them is the five week Army ROTC advanced camp at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

However, the experiences that come most readily to mind of the LTP's (besides the mud under the beard, and the uniform under the bars) were those that occurred in and around the barracks. Though set of 10 repetitions of pushing the Georgia Clay further South, they learned such interesting facts as BGC (Basic Military Course—dug out), the revelation that trash cans were not allowed to contain garbage for more than five minutes at a time, and the unfortunate knowledge that gray notes were not constructed to support one's weight. Physical training consisted of over—class and only one lap around the track for the LTP's, which was great until it was discovered that one lap was two miles. (Several cadets suggested that the track was not designed for their own physical training but for the exercise of Jeps and that a serious mistake was being made.)

The "Young upstart platoon," during the Fort Stewart trip, consisted of the Raiders. Not only did the Raiders look like a sharp unit with a flag bearer, camouflage fatigue, and black berets during the trip but they proved themselves to be an effective, highly motivated platoon.

What do a gun carrier named Larry, a girl harmonier player named Bonnie, a frequency brother named John, an Aeronautical Studies student named Dave, an excitable Cuban named Armando, a high school junior named Guiseppe—harry from cassette, a Ridge backapeshooter named Steve, and a 13 year old son of a Lieutenant Colonel named Greg have in common? They, along with others of equal diversity, were inspired by a field artilleryman, Captain Jeff Johnson, to form a unit from scratch on their own.

How could such diversity in lifetimes and outlooks organize into a unit within two days with such determination that they, like the Raiders, defeated the LTP's in a tug of war? It all began in an impromptu lecture on small unit tactics when Capt. Johnson decided to illustrate his instruction on the Army's techniques by making the barracks an area of operations for a volume of ants who must bypass an aerodrome. This was the spark that lit the fire. The soon to be members of the "Ant Squad" were already desiring to participate in the activities of the LTP's and now they had disposed of the means to do just that. Calling themselves the "Army Ants," they designed an aerodrome and flag out of a piece of cardboard to become one of the most unorthodox units ROTC has ever had. They cunningly turned their being first year cadets with little training into their way of thinking point with their "ardvark cry" of ODD. They got dressing but high in a desire to learn). By the end of the weekend, the Ants were so active that Sergeant Major Morris affixed the star to their hats. In the long run they proved themselves to be the best of the group.

Finally, a very special and occasional Fort Stewart trip was ended on Saturday night with a unit party and several tasks. There was a look of satisfaction on everyone's face.

We finally did get to help out the March of Dimes 10 Mile Race on Saturday, March 19. So, cooking hot dogs, pushing drinks, driving pop-out cars, and for a few of us trying to pick up nice looking female police cadets, was the way we spent our Saturday. This past Saturday found us setting up the American Cancer Society's annual "Las Vegas Night" and later on, wheeling and dealing for it. Our new squadron commander for the 77-78 term was elected at our last meeting. He soon shall be revealed!

Our dining-in last Friday was a real success, as we initiated our new brothers and listened to General Fogle, U.S. Army, Retired, who was our guest speaker. Only thing is, who was that nut that was "Mr. Vice?" Okay, let's all go back on post and resume watching all the chicks who are due here for Spring break.

The most exciting game of the season ended on a sour note Tuesday for the Eagles as Williams (Mass.) exploded for eight runs in the eleventh inning to take a 5-1 decision at Exopville.

Eagle hurlers Nelson Solari and except for the eleventh, Craig Jones were outstanding for the home team’s cause. Solari gave up only five hits in his 6 2/3 innings while fanning 10. Also showed his best form of the season displaying a blazing fastball and excellent control.

Meanwhile, the Williams pride of Tony Stall, Peter Kastielis and Tad Seder also displayed ace-like pitching skills as they combined for a solid three hitter.

Stall and Solari matched blanks for the first four innings. Both pitchers were so overpowering that only two base runners reached first base while they were still.

Seder got their man to first in an infield single in the fourth while Sam Pagano was the lone Eagle to reach base via a first inning walk.

PAGANO eventually reached second on a wild pitch, but was left stranded as Solari fanned a and John Long skied to left.

Kastielis followed Stall’s example when he came in. He faced a miniature inn batters in his three inning stint, although he did surrender two free passes to Howard Taylor and Ken Holgard.

The Williams defense came to its rescue as they turned up a double play in the fifth and catcher Bob Knoll ruined any Eagle hope in the sixth when he threw Holgard out at second when attempting to steal.

Still, in the mean time, ran into a bit of trouble in the sixth. He hit a fielder’s choice resulting from a Natal error, and a walk loaded the bases with two outs. Michael was at the plate.

Quickly down two balls and no strikes, Solaris settled down and got the Williams catcher to tap back to the mound to end the inning.

Eagles were not so fortunate in the eighth, however. Leadoff hitter Rick Walter, batting for designated hitter Bert Milly, drilled a fastball to right. Roland Wylle, Eagle’s catcher, in right as a result of Ken Hooper’s knee injury, came in on the ball only to see it sail over his head.

By the time the ball was retrieved, Walter was on base and four runners scored as Wolves put Holgard out at home.

Despite this tough break, the Eagles did not fold. They came back right after Ted Seder, Williams third pitcher of the night, went in.

Out of the gate, Steve Lemos garnered the first Riddle hit of the game when he bounced a single up the middle. Ken Holgard, who had been outstanding at the hot corner in his last four games, followed through and out groundmed a single to center field.

Eagle daring came into play as Lemos bustled his way to third base, catching catcher Tony Stall tag on Horler in a close play at the plate.

On the next pitch to Rolland Wylle, the Eagles took the ultimate gamble. Sending Holgard on a steal attempt out.

B substantial advantage had him by twenty feet, but Holgard stopped and started retreating towards home plate.

This was all the time Lemos needed as he put his head down and raced across home, before second baseman Roger McEniry could put the inning-ending tag on Holgard.

In the ninth, a hit, an unusual force which resulted when Steve Lemos’ diving attempt to a fly ball center center fell a bit short, sent the ball led to the hook for Solaris. Craig Jones came in and retired the next four hitters in only thirteen pitches. During the last two innings alone, Williams could send up to nine batters and could handle the Jones fastball. His seventeenth pitch of the game was trouble, however, as Steve Harrington and Jeff Augur brought a runner to the bases with two outs.

After this, it was all downhill for Jones, Lemos and the Eagles as Williams put the game away.

EAGLE HIGHLIGHTS: Williams’ nickname is the “Ephs,” after their team’s original father Ephrain Will.

The visitors from Williamsburg, Mass., displayed a great deal of hustle, which coach Dick Belhara substituted freely getting good results.

The Eagle's took the ultimate gamble. Sending Holgard on a steal attempt out.
