HALLOWEEN BASH

It was a wild night. Embry-Riddle and DBCC got together Saturday night and had a bash. Held in the U.C., there were plenty of strange characters in evidence. Students from both schools got dressed in their Halloween best to come out and boogie. The band was a local group, Friends, and provided entertainment from 8 until midnight.

To say that most everyone had a good time would be an understatement. Costumes ranged from the ridiculous to the sublime. There were clowns, freaks, sand people and Little Annie Fannie, to name a few, with the winners picking up cash prizes. The best couple/group was won by Bill and Cindy Liberty who dressed up as a CB radio and microphone. The best male costume was won by Art Brooks, dressed as the Hunchback of Notre Dame, and runner-up was Russ Gaumer dressed as one of the Sandpeople of Star Wars. The Best female costume was won by Jean Snyder dressed as a clown, with the runner-up being Kitty Blaisdell dressed as a Revolutionary War English Soldier.

Al Graves, the S.G.A. vice president was quite pleased with the success of evening, as the turn out from both schools was quite good. This meant that there were more unescorted girls making the scene, which should please the guys at E-RAU.

Jimmy Hilburger, who is the S.G.A. social functions chairman, stated that Embry-Riddle and DBCC will continue to have joint social functions.

1977 5th ANNUAL RIDDLE REGATTA

By the Bee Dee Jive

The Riddle Regatta held last Saturday was undoubtedly the greatest success in the five year history of the event. The forty or more rafts entered in the race put on one of the most spectacular shows the Halifax area has ever seen. The rafts and their crews ran the gamut from motley to precise but the competition was uniformly fierce and the pace was frantic. The three winning team entries made their way down the two mile course in less than one hour as did the first place two-man raft, barely giving the judges time to arrive at their places at the finish line. The winning teams and their times were:

THE SILVER BUCKET
47 minutes and 55 seconds

DINO'S PIZZA
43 minutes and 7 seconds

PORT ORANGE FIRE DEPARTMENT TEAM NO. 1
55 minutes and 8 seconds

In the doubles category, the winners and their times were:

THE U.S. ARMY STUDS (Sigma Chi)
52 minutes and 33 seconds

THE BLEVITS
George Smith's Team
1 hour, 4 minutes, & 47 seconds

QUICK SILVER II
1 hour, 10 minutes, and 48 seconds

In the singles category, the winners and their times were:

YaHoo's
1 hour, 14 minutes, and 13 seconds

DRAKE'S WAKES (Mike Drake, Vets Club)
1 hour, 24 minutes, and 36 seconds

and the BIG DADDY'S SPECIAL (Pat Hassett)
1 hour, 39 minutes, and 6 seconds

The winners in the media category and the only two to finish the race in their category were our own Riddle Radio WERU in first place and WNDB in the S.S. Mullet, taking second place, WROD having had trouble early in the race with Titanic 1 and 2 were forced to drop out. Receiving the President's Trophy for the most unusual rafts were:

PAPPY'S HUNYAKS (with over 57 tubes lashed to form their raft),

and

DELTA CHI NO. 2 (the New Harley),
3rd PLACE

This event could not have been such a great success without the help of the many people of their time and effort to make it the great day that it was. The Vets Club owes a debt of gratitude to all the sponsors and local area business.

BURNT PEANUTS AND GIRLS

The S.G.A. is to be commended for the success of the Halloween Bash. Bob Allen is delivering on his campaign pledge of joint social functions between Embry-Riddle and DECC. I was pleasantly surprised at the turnout - Why, there were more girls around than this school has seen in a long time. And even if DECC were to never ask us to one of their dances, this one cost us no extra to have their participation. With continued goodwill from both schools, social events could well become downright enjoyable. Only one request - better refreshments. - Soft drinks for the nonalcoholics, and burnt peanuts we can do without.

letters to the editor

"Riddle Regatta"

Ray, I know the AVION is primarily for letters from the students, but while it is fresh in my mind I want to tell the students how very proud I was of all of you at the Regatta last Saturday afternoon.

Several mature citizens (I refuse to call them 'Senior Citizens' because they have more energy and enthusiasm than many of us) asked me what was going on. I explained and pointed out several of the near-by participants and told them their first names. My new friends got caught up in the spirit and hurried off to watch from the several bridges I met up with them at the last bridge before the finish and they were cheering and calling out to some of the students by name. One dear, little lady said she was quite surprised at the lack of profanity (she almost seemed disappointed, but maybe she was pleased - she was so exuberant it was impossible to tell). When one of the students called up and asked if anyone on the bridge would throw down a beer, she remarked, "I will be here next year and, believe me, I'll have some beer for them!" With her attitude and determination, I feel sure she will.

Again, congratulations to all of you! Not only did we of E-RAU have an afternoon of good, clean fun(Halfax River clean?), but I know the students of Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University have made many new friends in the community - and that's the way it should be!

WISE UP!

A few 'words of wisdom'... Dr. Jeffrey H. Ledewitz

Continuing our series of articles on the FAIR CREDIT BILLING ACT, please remember that open end creditors must give a notice summarizing the dispute settlement procedure to all customers who have active accounts or open new accounts. After the first notice, additional copies must be provided every six months. Creditors may, alternatively, send a shortened version with each monthly statement, but if they do so, they must also provide the full notice at the customer's request and whenever a dispute is filed.

WHAT DOES THE DISPUTE SETTLEMENT PROCEDURE REQUIRE?

In Case of Errors or Inquiries About Your Bill

The Federal TRUTH IN LENDING ACT requires prompt correction of billing mistakes.

I. If you want to preserve your rights under the ACT, here's what to do if you think your bill is wrong or if you need more information about an item on your bill:

A. Do not write on the bill. On a separate sheet of paper write (you may telephone your inquiry but doing so will not preserve your rights under this law) the following:

1. Your name and account number (if any).
2. A description of the error and an explanation (to the extent you can explain) why you believe it is an error.
3. The dollar amount of the suspected error.
4. Any other information (such as your address) which you think will help the creditor to identify you or the reason for your complaint or inquiry.

B. Send your billing error notice to the address on your bill which is listed under the words: "Send Inquiries to:" or similar wording (or send to creditor's name and address).

Mail it as soon as you can, but in any case, early enough to reach the creditor within 60 days after the bill was mailed to you. If you have authorized your bank to automatically pay from your checking or savings account any credit card bills from that bank, you can stop or reverse payment on any amount you think is wrong by mailing your notice so the creditor receives it within 16 days after the bill was sent to you. However, you do not have to meet this 16-day deadline to get the creditor to investigate your billing error claim.

II. The creditor must acknowledge all letters pointing out possible errors within 30 days of receipt, unless the creditor is able to correct your bill during that 30 days. Within 90 days after receiving your letter, the creditor must either correct the error or explain why the creditor believes the bill was correct. Once the creditor has explained the bill, the creditor has no further obligation to you even though you still believe that there is an error, except as provided in paragraph V. below.

III. After the creditor has been notified neither the creditor nor an attorney nor a collection agency may send you collection letters or take other collection action with respect to the amount in dispute; but periodic statements may be sent to you, threatened with damage to your credit rating or sued for the amount in question, nor can the disputed amount be reported to a credit bureau or to other creditors as delinquent until the creditor has answered your inquiry. However, you remain obligated to pay the parts of your bill not in dispute.

Media Center

Overdues are a hassle for us and for you. We would much rather have our books back on time and available for others. (So it goes!) The Media Center has a new overdue policy which no longer involves student suspension. Instead, your account will be charged for any books not returned after two notices. These reminders are sent from the Media Center within a week after the due date stamped in the back of the book. The third reminder you receive will be a "charge slip" which means that your account has been charged. If you return the book (please do!) and pay the fine, your account will be credited. Remember! Make sure your name is properly cleared when you return overdue materials. The best way to avoid these hassles is simply to check that due date in the back of the book. Return it and renew it, if necessary. In our effort to provide the most service to the most people, we have seen the elimination of suspension for overdue books. Help us to keep the materials available to everyone.

In the Suggestion Box this week we received a request to make E-RAU textbooks available to students. Our policy has been to not buy any books sold in the bookstore as textbooks, for obvious reasons. We find that these books disappear when they are required for classroom use. We will, however, honor any requests to purchase materials desired by students for the Media Center. We want to see those order cards filled with requests for the Suggestion Box. Curricular and extracurricular materials are desirable purchases, but textbooks are not. Thank you for your interest.

MEDIA CENTER WEEK IS COMING.....

Of 30 lawyer specialties, attorneys ranked securities and tax, and antitrust lawyers at the top while at the bottom of the list ranked poverty, divorce, and criminal lawyers.

They gave the go-ahead to Trans World Airlines to fly its Boeing 747s non-stop from Denver to London. There is only one snag: TWA has since discovered. Denver's mile-high atmosphere is too rare to permit a loaded 747 from getting off the ground.

IV. If it is determined that the creditor has made a mistake on your bill, you will not have to pay any finance charges on any disputed amount. If it turns out that the creditor has not made an error, you may have to pay finance charges on the amount in dispute, and you will have to make up any missed minimum or required payments on the disputed amount. Unless you have agreed that your bill was correct, the creditor must send you a written notification of what you owe; and if it is determined that the creditor did make a mistake in billing the disputed amount, you must be given the time to pay which you normally are given to pay undisputed amounts before any more finance charges or late payment charges on the disputed amount can be charged to you.

V. If the creditor's explanation does not satisfy you and you notify the creditor IN WRITING within 10 days after you receive his explanation that you still refuse to pay the disputed amount, the creditor may report you to credit bureaus and other creditors and may pursue regular collection procedures. But the creditor must also report that you think you do not owe any money, and the creditor must let you know to whom such reports were made. Once the matter has been settled between you and the creditor, the creditor must notify to whom the creditor reported you as delinquent of the subsequent resolution.

VI. If the creditor does not follow these rules, the creditor is not allowed to collect the first $50 of the disputed amount and finance charges, even if the bill turns out to be correct.

VII. If you have a problem with property or services purchased with a credit card, you may have the right not to pay the remaining amount due on them, if you first try in good faith to return them or give the merchant a chance to correct the problem. There are two limitations on this right:

A. You must have bought them in your home State or if not within your home State within 100 miles of your current mailing address; and

B. The purchase price must have been more than $50.

However, these limitations do not apply if the merchandise is owned or operated by the creditor, or if the creditor mailed you the advertisement for the property or services.

CO-OP RECOGNITION DINNER

By Marlene Via

Cooperative Education Recognition dinner was held Thursday night, October 20. The purpose of this dinner was to recognize the students who have participated in the co-op program since its inception in 1976.

These students have shown a great deal of enthusiasm, maturity and have brought back to ERAU valuable information about the changing trends in the aviation industry, not to mention the valuable experience and acquaintances they have obtained.

Attendance included 70 plus students, Dr. Motzel, Division and Program Chairmen, Faculty Advisors and the co-op staff members.

Guest speakers included Dr. Lee Fredericks, HEW, Washington and Mr. Bill Gross, Douglas Aircraft Company.

Portions of Fredericks speech will be published as soon as space is available.

The Riddle Regatta turned out to be a super event. We had a couple of entries representing the chapter and didn't come away empty-handed. The cooler full of beer that Brothers Steve Schmidt and Steve Bobnick thought would add ballast turned out to hinder their winning efforts, but made losing a lot easier to take. Congratulations to Pledge Brother Paul Jensen and his friend on their victory in the two-man competition.

On Sunday night we held our first Pledge review. The brotherhood was impressed with their performance as a whole and with each of the individuals within it. We think we've got a fine group of young men whom we hope to someday call our brothers.

This coming weekend is an event we all look forward to, the initiation of our Little Sisters. Hats off to Brother John Wrightington for his excellent work in getting this program off the ground. John did a lot of individual and group recruiting here and at D.B.C.C. We've got a great bunch of gals whose help on most of our service and community projects we deeply appreciate. They are one of the main reasons for making our chapter closer than its ever been before. For the brotherhood, we're doing great so far, let's keep it going!

Well, the first half of the fall trimester is over and it has been a good one. The tri has been going pretty fast and a lot of us are trying to keep up with it, but as true Sigs we did some heavy partying this weekend. On Friday night our pledges sponsored a Happy Hour. We had a good turnout for the event and met some new faces. The pledges worked well together and succeeded in removing many of us from a sober state.

AHP

PROFESSIONAL AVIATION FRATERNITY

By Ken Morse
Historian

Alpha Eta Rho members had a real good time at our second annual Hayride at the Flying W Ranch in Ormond Beach. Two wagons and a few horses were mounted by a large AHP turnout last Friday night. The weather was perfect for such an event with cool temperatures and bright moonlight. Bodyheat and beer kept everyone warm during our trek through the woods near the Ormond Airport. Hot dogs and marshmallows were cooked over a campfire after the trip to wind down the evening.

Even though the hayride lasted until the early morning hours, several dedicated AHPers participated in the Riddle Regatta the next morning. This was the first time AHP entered the race, so the art of raft building was learned the hard way - during the race. Thanks go to "Skipper" Bill Gibson for organizing the team.

This coming Sunday, Nov. 6, will be the date for our seafood dinner in Deland. More information on this will be available to members at this week's business meeting.

Plans are being finalized for our aviation related projects for this trimester. Again, more information on how these projects are developing will be available at this week's meeting.

DELTA CHI

By "PJ" Lee

Delta Chi started off this past Halloween weekend by attending a costume party put on by the little sisters. Just about every size, shape, and form costume, which was required to gain entrance to the party, was worn by the brothers and little sisters. I hope that some of the costumes didn't reflect the true personalities of the brothers! All in all, it was one of the liveliest parties of the trimester, with the true party die-hards keeping things rolling until the sun came up.

As a Halloween service project, the brothers will spend some time Halloween night trick or treating for the children in the Halifax Hospital.

Saturday afternoon, we entered our two rafts in the Riddle Regatta. In the team event, Chuck and Steve were holding their own until the wicked currents of the mighty Halifax overturned their craft. Despite efforts to get underway again, they were forced to shore so Chuck could have his cut hand bandaged. Lou showed strong determination in the single man event. Lou did a good job navigating the river, but unfortunately he pooped out. Lou walked across the finish line to claim last place. Even though Delta Chi didn't do well in the actual race, we did manage to bring home the third place trophy for the most unusual raft. Nice going Lou, Steve, and Chuck!

Sunday morning we played our last football game with Sigma Phi Delta. Once again we were beaten. We only have three things to say about the season. One, we did defeat Sigma Chi, two - everyone enjoyed playing, three - everybody had better look out for our football team!

A couple of announcements to the brothers: make plans to attend the Palm Coast retreat on the weekend of November 12. If you can't attend or will not be staying overnight, let Tom Reres know as soon as possible. Also, there will be an AHP meeting this Saturday morning at 9:30.

AE

Sigma Phi Delta

By Joe Biebel

Alpha Epsilon has finally gotten its feet off the ground for the Fall trimester. For those of you who do not know, AE is Riddle's only sorority. Membership is open to all women currently enrolled (full or part-time) at E-RAU.

We will be holding our first annual wine and cheese party this Friday, Nov. 4 at 6:00 p.m. in the Common Purpose Room. This will be an excellent chance for all of us "females" to get together and meet each other. Most of you have already received invitations in your mail boxes. For the few who haven't, please forgive the oversight and consider this your invitation. We look forward to seeing you there.

With midterms out of the way, the engineers of Sigma Phi Delta are back into the swing of things.

Last Saturday was the Riddle Regatta, and the eight man team did not fair so well as they were the last team to finish. With materials and time extremely low, the brothers of SPD built what they could, and it was off to the river! Shortly after the race began, all eight men took turns falling into the river, some more often than others. This wasted a lot of time, but was fun. With a drive of determination, the SPD team finished the race, not in the best of time, but a finish nonetheless. In the meantime, other fraternity team rafts that found the going a little rough had given up.

The going was much better for the SPD football team, as it rolled over Delta Chi 15-0. Two George Frawley TD runs capped by an extra point pass to Craig Otto led the offensive drive. The defense was also tough as Craig Otto forced a safety, and three interceptions were grabbed, two by Oz Alfert and one by Bill Hennum.

The SPD football team will be looking forward to a fun and profitable season next year.

Last weekend was an extremely busy weekend for us. Friday night started with a party given at Brother Phil's. It was not an official Lambda Chi Party, but a good number of the Brothers were there. And we all had a real good time! So thanks to Phil and his roommates!

On Saturday we entered the Riddle Regatta, in what started out as a highly spirited team turned into a tired bunch of landlovers! After being in last place for most of the race we decided to call it an afternoon and get dry and warm! It was the general consensus that we should stick to airplanes rather than to inner tubes!

On Sunday we had a very much needed workday and also a football game. Well, in the football game we did something never done before, we forfeited the game. This has terminated our league status and we are able to look back at our 1-2 season and laugh! Oh well, better luck next year!

The Associate Class is holding a "Fine Beer Raffle" from now until November 12. The prizes include: one + 1/4 cases of imported beer (Beck's Light, Pilsener, Lowenbrau Light, St. Paul I Girl, Steinlager and Heineken). Second prize is a case of Heineken, third prize is a case of Michelob. Tickets cost only $.50 and are available from any of the Brothers, also look for our table set up in the University Center during this week and next! The drawing will be held at the homecoming dance November 12th. So all you come out and take a chance!

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY
BILL ROBB WILSON, MG.

By Kitty Blaisdell

Well, this is the last week of the countdown to Road Rally time. The Road Rally will be held this Saturday with registration at 12:30. All drivers with their vehicle and navigators will be set loose to find their way to the end and have the most points. The route was tested by our two road rangers Dave Sain and Doug Livernois. (If they can make it you surely can). The entrance fee is $3 per car which isn't much considering the good time you'll have and the three road rally trophies to be awarded to the three most skillful teams. Who will be our winners? It has been said that Det. 157's own two captains plan to take first. We shall see if that little blue 'bug' can outdo Riddle's finest.

Tomorrow our members will get a football team together to "entertain" the kids at the Detention Center. An alternate plan is showing movies if it rains. We will be making such plans through this term and following terms to make this a successful project.

Last Sunday some of the members, still very young at heart, got dressed up in Halloween costumes and went looking for Trick or treaters. Our ghosts and goblins could not come to us, so we went to them at Halifax Hospital with Halloween treats for them. We have done this in past years and it has made a lot of children happy.

PLEDGE PROGRESS

The remaining pledges of the Fall of '77 are anxiously awaiting final interviews. They have completed the initial portion of the pledge program and have been examined on the many facets of the society. # E. R. A. U. AVIATION SEMINAR MGT CLUB

By Patricia Neuzil

Congratulations to the Management Club team in last Saturday's Riddle Regatta. They all put forth a supreme effort!

Don't forget this Saturday's beach party at Ponce Inlet. It starts around 11:00 a.m. and beer and soft drinks will be provided by the club. Volleyball and grille will also be there, so bring plenty of food. Directions were put in everyone's mailbox, but if you have any questions contact me at Box 3558.

Within a few days you should all be receiving a questionnaire concerning our dinners in your mailboxes. This is very important so please fill it out and return it to me or have it put in my box.

See you at the beach this Saturday!!

The first of four aviation seminars for wives got off to a successful start last Thursday night. Embry-Riddle's chief flight instructor, Russ Lewis, addressed the approximately 15 participants on "An Overview of Riddle Flight Programs." Lewis covered such areas as phases of flight training, general aviation, licenses, and ratings. Many interesting questions were raised and those who attended enjoyed and learned from the experience.

These aviation seminars are being sponsored by the counseling center and conducted by members of the aeronautical science faculty. "The counseling center is very grateful to the men who have volunteered their services for these seminars," stated Marty Keller, Director of the counseling center.

Keller continued, "The origin of these seminars goes back one and a half years when we were trying to form a student wives club. There was dissatisfaction, confusion, and frustration by the wives who wanted to know what their husbands were doing in flight. At social events, the men would get together to talk about aviation while the wives talked about their husbands."

Three more seminars will be held on the first three Thursdays in November. T. Digrolamo will discuss "Flight Safety", T. Connelly will talk about "How and Why Airplanes Fly," and on the final week, F. Wenzel will talk on "Weather". The seminars, which are open to student, faculty, and staff wives and the community, will be held at 7:30 each week in Room G-109 at the Gill Robb Wilson complex. There is no charge.

Keller pointed out, "These seminars will give the wives an opportunity to get involved in what their husbands are doing."

FLYING TIGERS COLLECTION DONATED

A collection of original oil portraits of the members of the Flying Tigers who died in the service of their country in WWII was donated to the university in memory of the late William D. Pawley, the famed combat squadron's founder.

The 27 portraits were painted by Raymond P. R. Neilson, a noted portrait artist whose other works are displayed in the Luxembourg Museum of Paris. Additional works by Neilson were commissioned for the private collections of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill.

The Pawley collection will be displayed as soon as a suitable exhibit area is prepared.

AFROTC

By Oz Alfert

Last weekend was a busy one for many of the cadets. Friday started it off with the second Pretzel Hour of the Trimester. Highlighting the event was a volleyball game between the FOC's and the GMC's. As was expected, the former were in complete command and of course won the game.

Saturday saw most of the cadets journey over to MacDill AFB in Tampa for a base visit. It was very exciting for everyone. As you might know, MacDill is the home of the 56th Tactical Fighter Wing, and there are thousands of F-4's (Phantoms) everywhere. If one were to spend six weeks there, he could very well become quite bored and tired of seeing F-4's flying around. But the jet fighters are very impressive. Also, there was an F-15 Eagle that many got a chance to sit in. That must have been a very unique experience for some of the cadets. And, even though I'm not sure the cadets were able to visit this building, one of the most impressive sites on base is the Headquarters of the United States Readiness Command. MacDill is quite an active base, and I'm sure all of the cadets who went on the visit were very glad they did.

But there are even more exciting events coming up soon. These include the Field Day, the Arnold Air Road Rally, the Dining-Out, and more Pretzel Hours. So just keep tuned in to this article for all the straight information.

(Why, thank you doctor, may I go back to my home planet of Zelgaton now?)

THE ELUSIVE SWIMMING POOL

By Dick Butler

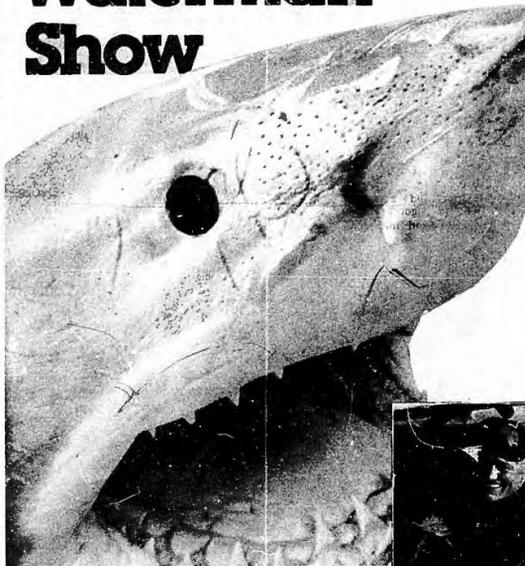

A phone call to Mr. Bob Vandiver, Director of Facilities and Plans, yielded the following update on the status of the Embry-Riddle pool.

The pool will be "L" shaped, with 25.25 meters on one side, and 75 feet on the other. The Pool will have one end set aside for diving. This end will be 14 feet deep and have four diving boards, 2 one meter boards and 2 three meter boards.

The contract for construction of the pool has been awarded to Weller Pool Constructors. The total cost for the pool, bath house and parking lot will be $518,000.00. Construction is now in the design phase; when this is complete, a request for a building permit and a certificate of public health will be sought.

Actual ground breaking will occur about December 1 and completion should be April, 78.

DB TRY CENTER NEEDS VOLUNTEERS

By Marty Becker

The Daytona Beach TRY Center, located at 208 Ridgewood Ave., Holly Hill, is looking for volunteers to help rehabilitate juveniles who have been in trouble. You can help the children in areas such as remedial mathematics and reading training (junior high school level). Volunteers are also needed for physical education classes, group therapy sessions, and clerical assistants. No prior experience is necessary.

The TRY Center is a Residential Group Treatment Center. The juveniles who attend there are all from the Halifax area. The facility is funded both by the State of Florida and Volusia County. However, this is not enough, as there are many gaps in the program which must be filled by volunteers. If you want to help these children and serve this community, please contact Earl Dryden at 255-8417 or stop by and meet him at the TRY Center. It is located across the street from Ray Kessler Datsun.

In addition to serving the community, you can gain college credit volunteering at the TRY Center. There is a course offered here at ERAU, Applied Social Psychology, SS-398, where you can pick up three credits towards your degree. It is offered in the fall and spring trimesters. Contact Mr. Deisserl in Room A 225 or Ext. 374 for more details.

These children need your help. If you have any spare time, spend it with them. They will appreciate it. You will appreciate it.

HAKEEM SAHID

As a senior in the aircraft engineering technology program, Nigerian Hakeem Sahid plays defense and sometimes a link position for the Eagles. Soccer is the game Sahid is most interested in. "It helps to keep me in good physical shape," he commented. Sahid has played soccer throughout high school in Nigeria and was on the Ohio State University team before transferring to Riddle during his freshman year. "Soccer is building up here in America," Sahid stated. "The Eagles have the players, but we need more support and encouragement," he pointed out. In the future, Sahid hopes to attend a graduate school and be a member of its soccer team, and then become a design engineer.

THEODORE N. DRAKOLOPOULOS

Coming to Embry-Riddle from Athens, Greece, this junior in aeronautical engineering plays the inside right position for the Eagles. He grew up on soccer and played in his high school in Athens, a youth amateur third division club, and two years with E-RAU. Drakolopoulos commented, "I like the game because it's fast and exciting." He continued, "Not only is the physical size important, but a player must use his ability and imagination." Togetherness is also a big factor." Speaking about the Eagles, Drakolopoulos points out, "With all the foreign students, there are several different styles of play. If we could put them all together, we would have a great team." Drakolopoulos would like to earn his Masters degree and PhD, and get a teaching job in the future.

CARLYLE HOLDER

"Soccer is very relaxing, especially after classes," points out Carlyle Holder. This right half and right wing for the Eagles come from Kingston, Jamaica and is a sophomore of the aeronautical science program. He's been playing soccer for six or seven years. Holder started playing in the high school as soccer was part of the Curriculum "The game relieves tension and I look forward to playing soccer," he stated. In the future, Holder hopes that soccer will continue to grow in America. He hopes to see students start playing in grade school so that by the time they reach college level, they would be close to the professional level. Holder commented, "The team is closer related than last year. Also, credit is due to the coach, (John Butler) for spending so much time with us." In the future, Holder would like to return to Jamaica and get a job with the airlines.

SEE WHY PUCH IS NO.1

Being the No. 1 Moped isn't easy. And it's not easy to explain. But we'll try. Puch mopeds are pretty much built by hand. Each one is fully assembled, started up and tested, before it leaves the factory. Key components like motor and frame are built by Puch. Which means a moped you can trust. A moped that's more fun because you spend your time riding it, not bringing it back to us for minor surgery. Look them all over, before you decide which one you want. We did. That's why we sell Puch.

CORROSION PREVENTION

By Jim Harris
Staff Writer

Embry-Riddle University, being located near salt water, causes reason for their airplanes to have a corrosion control program. Riddle's corrosion program is handled by Daytona Beach Aviation.

Garry Etten is the Director of Maintenance at D.B.A. and has explained that the best precaution for salt water on the airplanes is to not fly low over the ocean.

"Every time a plane flies under 1500 feet over the water, it costs Riddle large sums of money," stated Etten. Easterly winds cause concern because of the salt blowing off the ocean. This sometimes hurts the planes, but can more or less not be avoided.

The most effective solution for corrosion prevention is fresh H2O better known as fresh water, along with soap solutions and a special "gunk" for the belly. There are special chemicals available to try and prevent corrosion, but Etten feels fresh water works just as good as any of them, and its cheaper!

If corrosion is to form on the airplane, there is a chemical process called "acid etch," which makes use of the chemical alodine to coat the metal, sealing off any chances of air getting to it.

Once the alodine is put on, a primer is added before painting. This process is also done to the older planes about every two years to try and stop corrosion under the paint before it gets too bad.

Another method of removing already formed corrosion is by sandblasting, but this is an extremely messy job, and finding personnel to do this comes hard.

Riddle's planes go to D.B.A. every 100 hours and are washed at the time of this inspection, thoroughly. Etten mentioned that washing planes is not the most famous job for his mechanics, so the first thing he teaches his new employees is how to wash a plane, and they spend their first 30 days on the job washing Embry-Riddle planes, every day. Every 100 hours comes to about 15-18 days for the 172's, once a month for the Mooney, and about every five weeks for the 310's, which means alot of soap and water for new employees with Riddle flying 71 planes. D.B.A. does five of Riddle's planes every day, and at least two on weekends. Etten is working on a program now to wash these planes at night. That would mean Riddle would have about five more planes on the ramp every day.

Riddle, owning D.B.A., gets a large price break on these inspections and cleanings, but we do pay them because D.B.A. is a profit organization. Riddle is not. Even with this break, it still costs Riddle approximately $1,000 per year, per plane, on corrosion control.

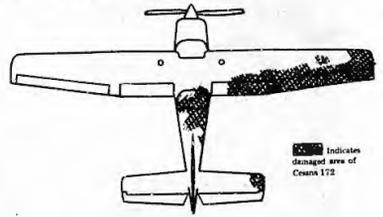

D.B.A. does all the work on Riddle's planes with the exception of radio work. Etten is the man who works directly with Mr. R. Sample to make sure that the students have as many planes "up" as possible.

Etten received his background on corrosion through the Navy, where he was in charge of corrosion control on their planes. With Etten's background, Riddle's planes rarely have any serious corrosion problems.

If Riddle's pilots can try to avoid flying low over the ocean, even some of the minor corrosion problems could probably be avoided.

CHOP, CHOP

An accident two weeks ago involving two Embry Riddle aircraft, a Cherokee and Cessna 172, has left one repairable and the other junk. The Cherokee suffered damage to the propeller and minor skin damage to both wing leading edges. The 172 was not so lucky, substantial damage was done to the right wing and mid fuselage section. The accident happened at night during routine VFR ground operations. The Cherokee rammed the 172 while a student and instructor were going through engine run-up procedures. The Cherokee was occupied by a solo student pilot. No one was injured, though the 172 was determined a total loss. The accident is now under study by Embry-Riddle and the local FAA, to try and determine how and why it happened.

SAFETY AT ERAU

By Dick Butler

A costly accident...

Last week's AVION article on Aviation Safety at E-RAU by Mark Shumway raised a question in my mind about what causes one airplane to run into another on the ground. Wandering around the flight line I discovered some rather interesting information. Did you know that on Aug. 2, 1977 Riddle 34 taxied into a J-3 Cub and did $1150.00 damage to 34. I was unable to determine what damage was done to the J-3.

On the 18th of Aug. another ground accident did $100.00 wing damage to Riddle 23. On Sept. 1, Riddle No. 56 was taxied into a fuel truck. The fuel truck was only slightly injured. Number 56 wasn't so lucky with $950.00 worth of wing damage. Two weeks later on Sept. 15 Riddle No. 23 was taxied into a new Mooney 201 over at Daytona Beach Aviation. The damage to No 23 was $100.00. I was unable to discover what damage was done to the Mooney.

Then on Oct. 4 came the bad one. A Riddle Cherokee taxied into Riddle 49, an almost new C-172 in the run-up area. The accident occurred at night during VFR conditions. The Cherokee Prop chewed up the right wing on the 172 then sliced into the fuselage 6 feet behind the flight instructor's seat. Damage to the Cherokee was $650.00. The 172 was not economically repairable with a damage figure approaching $9,000.00. Apparently this serious accident did not have a deterring effect. Although it could not be confirmed, an eyewitness reported to this writer another collision between two Riddle aircraft. About the 18th of October there was another accident which caused $200.00 damage to Riddle 38.

These accidents seem to be occurring approximately every two weeks. Damage in the last 90 days is over $12,000.00 in direct costs. One aircraft was a total loss and there was a total of 23 days of lost aircraft time. Indirect costs such as lost utilization, accident investigations, and administrative paper work will drive the total damage figure above $20,000.

A flight instructor informed me that this type of accidents are to be expected. This answer did not soothe my concern. Prior to coming to Embry-Riddle I served on the Board of Directors of a flying club, with 33 aircraft, for almost 5 years. This club also served as a flight school with approximately 250 students. During the 5 year period I was associated with this organization there were only two accidents. One - a 3,000 hour pilot was forced down in mountains at night by ice. The other accident involved a flight instructor walking into a prop. There were no taxi accidents. This organization had a functioning formal safety program which included monthly safety meetings (mandatory) and stiff consequences for unsafe practices. Embry-Riddle is currently taking an indepth look at this problem. My hope is that a good safety program will come from this self scrutiny. Even a safety program will not put a stop to these types of accidents without the help of the student pilots who operate the aircraft. Ask yourself this question: Can a pilot who does not have sufficient control of his aircraft on the ground to avoid running into something, operate this aircraft in the complicated, demanding realm of flight?

LIBYA CONTRACTING FOR ERAU EDUCATION PROGRAMS

One of the largest single groups of international students ever to enroll here is traveling more than 6,000 miles to attend classes.

An estimated 40 to 50 Libyans will be arriving soon at E-RAU's campus to participate in the University's latest Contract Service program. Under the Contract Service concept, Embry-Riddle provides specially tailored aviation academic and training programs to countries throughout the world.

The recent contract signing with the Aero Club of the Libyan Arab Jamahiriya marks the first time that a large group of Libyans has been enrolled for classes at Embry-Riddle. The 40 to 50 represent an initial wave of more Libyan students expected on campus in the near future, University officials said.

Some members of the first group will take part in flight programs including Instrument, Commercial, Multi-Engine and Certified Flight Instructor training, said Richard J. Queenan, E-RAU's Marketing vice president. Others will participate in E-RAU's Airframe and Powerplant 20 month curriculum, with selected students advancing into Avionics Technician and Aviation Maintenance Management programs.

"The University is delighted to see the Arab States concentrating on professional aviation education and training to satisfy their growing needs in general aviation," Queenan said. "General Aviation in the U.S. includes all corporate, air taxi, commuter airline and air charter operations, and is ten times the size of the scheduled airline business. The same quickly is becoming true in the Arab world."

The Libyan Aero Club is headquartered in Tripoli and responsible for all non-airline air transportation in the republic. This includes air ambulance, taxi, charter and agricultural flying.

Embry-Riddle, now in its 51st year, is the world's only accredited, fully aviation oriented university. Its Contract Service programs have served governments throughout South America and the Middle East.

Nearly 5,000 students attend classes at E-RAU educational centers in the U.S. and Europe. Of the University's 2,745 main campus enrollments, approximately 250 or 9 percent are international students, representing 45 nations.

RIDDLE REGATTA

By Paul Hansen

nesses that provided the many materials without which the Regatta would not have been as spectacular as it was and to the local area media for their coverage of the event. Our most sincere thanks are extended to: Barry Stripling of the Miller Brewing Company for donating the start and finish lines, number vests for the crews, and the coffee and donuts for the starting line; Sailboat Headquarters for the use of their life jackets and paddles; Goodyear Tire Company, Pan Am Tire, Steve's Tire Warehouse, and Economy Muffler and Tire Shop for donating the inner tubes; PFM for the use of their beer taps and their help; and the Pure Ice Company for what else but the ice. Our thanks go out to WNDB and WROD for all the exposure they gave the event and to WESH for the film coverage as well as the Daytona Beach News Journal for their coverage this year.

The club would especially like to thank President Hunt and Dr. Horwitz for giving up their Saturday to help make this regatta the best yet presented. We also wish to thank Al Graves, SGA Vice-President, for all his help and the support of the Student Government Association, the Lovits for their splendid job working the concessions and to Sigma Chi for bringing out the Coke wagon.

Congratulations to the Riddle Regatta committee members, Paul Slack, Mike Drake, Joe Golinski, Gary Loff, Mark Hansen, Brian Furber, Jeff Dunlap, Bill Dailey, "Exc" Nelson, and Dave Johnson for a fine job of coordinating the regatta this year. Our thanks to John Schaffer for a great job as race announcer, John Stuart, John and Keith Kolasko on registration, and Brad Frindle, Bill O'Connor, Art Brooks, Stu Pollack, Ken Wood, and all the other members who helped make the regatta run smoothly.

Congratulations to Mike Drake for bringing home the only trophy for the Vets Club in the regatta as the second place winner of the singles category. The outcome of the doubles and team entry for the club this year is almost too embarrassing to mention, but their fate was shared by many of the more unfortunate rafts, no beer to keep the drive alive.

Sunshine, warm weather, and good spirits characterized the hugely successful 1977 Riddle Regatta. The enthusiasm shown by our notoriously lethargic students provided a happy contrast to the midterm slump which has been so prevalent on the E-RAU campus lately. All the elements needed for a mellow Fall day were present in abundance - pretty girls, dogs, kids, old folks, hot dogs and beer. The crowd was large and friendly and held a surprisingly large number of local senior citizens who seemed to delight in the good natured foolishness surrounding them.

The rafts were marvels of non-seaworthiness and were launched with all the ceremony and decorum of a Keystone Cops raid. Steamlining of the vessels ranged from nonexistent to less than noticeable in the case of the U.S.S. Banana, which seemed to slip across the water with the aid of peals of laughter from its all girl crew. This Ms-guided craft was a surprisingly strong fifth place finisher, trouncing most of the male crews, and virtually sweeping past the team of aging warriors entered by Quad A.

The winning team, a mixed doubles effort sponsored by the Silver Bucket, seemed to be spurred on to victory as much by the prospect of Jiffy Johns as by the liquid encouragement provided by the Pabst Breweries.

The finish line, which seemed to get farther and farther downstream as the day progressed, began to resemble an overhaul station for the Bowers Olympians.

Next year's event should be just as successful - talk it up and keep showing signs of life - you might just find that there is something to do at E-RAU after all.
