NATIONAL AIRLINES SCHOLARSHIP FIRST AT E-RAU

Students at Embry-Riddle will be among the first in the nation to be awarded a $1,000 scholarship sponsored by the National Airlines. The first such airline organization to create a scholarship program at the aviation university.

The total scholarship consists of four $1,000 gifts—each covering the cost of tuition at E-RAU for one Term.

This scholarship will be awarded based on merit.

Other factors being equal, the award will be based upon need. Selection of the first recipients will be made in the near future. It is anticipated that the National Airlines Management Club Scholarship will be an ongoing program.

We're anticipating that this will be the first of a variety of airline sponsored scholarships to be established at Embry-Riddle. The University already offers many other types of scholarships and financial aid plans.

Two of the scholarships will be for entering freshmen. Sophomores and juniors will be eligible for two. To qualify, students must come from areas served by National Airlines or from any part of Florida, and must be enrolled either in the Aeronautical Engineering or Aviation Management academic programs at E-RAU.
EDITORIAL
By Keith Kollarik

In an effort to keep the students informed, here are the objections of the Acton, as presented in our composition.

The objections of the AVON REDACTED. There is a list of them. The first of them is to the formative of the students and for the students of Embry-Riddle. The AVON is a student body publication and must be kept, as such, truthful, pertinent, and objective in the information presented to its readers.

The second is to the inclusion of a value. The AVON, as "the voice of the students," must present opinions and ideas in a consistent manner, backing statements with facts whenever possible. Student views are the backbones of the newspaper - they must be presented effectively.

The third is to be humorous. Humor is one of man's best defenses against shock or stress, but humor needs both substance, creativity, and imitativeness. It is most used to work in a team.

In order to carry out these objections it is imperative that we receive comments and criticism from as many students as possible. From my first month as Editor, I have learned that students from students and faculty interested in seeing that Embry-Riddle has the finest papers possible. With your continued support, I'm sure that we will not only reach our objectives but surpass them.

UPON EATING AT THE UC CAFE

Recently the "Avon" ran an article called, "The Hating Reporter." The article asked a number of students what their opinions of our cafeteria was. The reporter heard comments, but they were in general agreement that the cabinets were modern and needed improvement. However, there are many more students that are unhappy and many feel that the cafeteria does a less than perfect job of serving food.

Many students complain about the food being so good that they don't have enough time to eat. They believe that they are too busy to spend time with proper nutrition. Others claim that they can't eat the food there because it is not nutritious enough to satisfy their hunger. Therefore, some students are just undercooked. Some meat is in the age, keep them fresh and longer when they are well cooked. Other complaints about the food are that the foods are not hot enough, the grilled products are too green, the soups are out of order half of the time, the sauces are not satisfying and the cafeteria is only open so little hours.

On thought in defense of the staff of the cafeteria is that it is just that, a cafeteria, not an exquisite restaurant. The serving of such a large crowd as the student body makes it very difficult for the setup of top quality products. In addition to the tremendous amounts of food needed to supply the demand.

Even though there is a large demand for food, the maintenance of high quality food still can be achieved through careful planning, good management, and a little concern for the health of the students.

Perhaps the most common complaint is the lack of the food, and the arrangement of its layout. This is an expensive college. Many students are working on a tight budget and can not afford to pay for food everyday. They pass through the cafeteria, without taking the time to look at the offerings to see if there is something they like. Students should have enough money to pay for the food they choose. The cafeteria staff needs more concern.

Many students know that the food is poor, but they do not have enough time to eat. The students that go there are not satisfied with what they get. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria. They are not satisfied with the food. They are not satisfied with the cafeteria.

As an Avon student, I know that our cafeteria does not need much of a change. Many students have complained about the food, and the cafeteria staff has been trying to improve it. My suggestion is to ask for the students' suggestions to improve the cafeteria.

Dear Editor:

I mustn't have seen the Avon. The question of whether or not this fine institution deserves more liberal student criticism was asked of some students. The students generally expressed their liberal dollar views of the students of which had to be deciphered because of student bias. Many students who come to school early in the morning to get a good breakfast before the class begins can't read the student's point of view, but it makes a difference when they come. The student's point of view, which is not known, is that you can't see our opinions (this is very rare, but it happens). The students are very glad to see their views change, more than you can say that you are over and some students even change.

Perhaps the worst meal for many students is the "balanced" one. Many students have had to pay for the food with the extra dollars and forty cents and dollars and forty cents. This is not enough to fill the student's stomach, and when the students come to school early in the morning to get a good breakfast before the class begins can't read the student's point of view, but it makes a difference when they come. E-RUJ student Glen Hiebert is also a professional drummer for the popular local group - Frangipani. This band will be the featured entertainment for the next few weeks here at Riddle in the University Center. The group will be performing on Oct. 4 at noon and 6:30 p.m., Oct. 11 at 6:30 p.m., and on Oct. 18 at 6:30 p.m. and on Oct. 25 at noon and 6:30 p.m. in the U.C. for your enjoyment.

Frangipani captures and wins each audience with variety in song and style. Their musicianship is superior and their enthusiasm genuine. Never has there been a group so willing to entertain the masses, regardless of age or taste in music. Frangipani is equally comfortable playing rock and roll as country-western or jazz. It is the variety in style which so impresses their audience to stay later after hour demanding more and more.

Best members include Glen Hiebert, drums; Dominic Citrical, bass guitarist; Richard Ben-\under, instrumental backbones; and lead singer, Ron Smaller. The group is co-sponsored for these concerts by the Stu-\dent Activities office here and Daytona Beach's free night spot - The Pirate's Cove.

RIDDLE CONDUCTS WORKSHOP

About 50 Volusia area primary and secondary teachers got the latest information on aviation educational resources for their students recently when the teachers attended a career
planning workshop at Embry-Riddle.

E-RAU offers its Aviation
Education Resource Center
(AERC) to educators and conor specialists of Volusia County as a community service.
AERC is a joint effort of 135 agencies and manufacturers
who provide informational material pertaining to aviation in the areas of history, science,
mathematics and communications.

Judy Luther, E-R Media
Services Director, explained that the University provides these materials to all schools in the area, both public and private, elementary through college. The purpose of the program, she said, is to provide educational materials for te-chers to use in aviation career
education.

AERC materials come in various forms: displays, tapes, 16 millimeter films, books and newspapers. Most materials are housed out. However, certain pieces must remain on campus. Speakers will travel to schools to give special talks
on aviation history, flying,
meteorology, model airplanes and purchasing issues of the University may do also be addressed.

"The program really takes advantage of students' natural interest in rockets, airplanes
and space vehicles," said Luther. "Young people seem to have a particular fascination with flight. Through this program, we hope to nurture that special interest and possibly lead students into an interesting, rewarding career."

Aviation has become the second largest employer in the U.S., and, Luther said, "Young people should be exposed to the tremendous opportunities
that exist in this area."

AERCs are located primarily at colleges and universities
throughout the U.S. A program is especially valuable because we have available the resources of an entire university
that is devoted exclusively to aviation," said Luther.

Also included in the teachers' workshop was a visit of the E-R AU Flight Test at the University's new Aviation Maintenance Technology Center
and a hands-on talk by Roy West,
E-R AU Dean of Astronautical
Studies.

Teachers interested in using AERC materials should contact
Luther, Kathy Fain or Jon
Mattuck at 723-5851, or visit
the 9-R AU Motor Center, Slot
A, first building on left off
Clyde Street, one-half mile south of Volusia Avenue.

Air Arnold Air Society members joined the PGC and the GMU's at the Erevonation this past Friday night. It was the 'Grand Slam' evening' to say the least. The best was just the beginning of the active AMS members at the "GROD B.O.W."

For food, ten square inches were served and the fare included chicken, fish, meatballs, and a variety of sides. It was a very good and educations evening.

Early last week, AMS held their "second round" of the trimester. Many things were discussed including the

Now that the trimester is in full swing, and our officers and members have begun their interest in the new positions, work has begun on several interesting projects. The first major one is the "City Guide," which is plenty of activities to keep us busy after work and on the weekends too! We also plan to spend more time socializing, eating at their preferred restaurants, and doing things together. We are looking forward to spending our nights and weekends as a team.

If you are interested in doing work that will benefit your classmates and the community at large, then the 1978-1979 term is the right time to get involved! We need people who are interested in the fraternity. Our chapter has many resources and we need people to help us make the most of them. If you are interested in getting involved, please come to a meeting or contact one of the officers.

The Marines are coming.

Begin planning your career as early as possible. Establish goals. Whether you desire a civilian occupation, a military career or a combination of the two. The Marine PLC (Platoon Leaders Class) Program allows you to complete pre-commissioning training only during summer training increments.

There are no drills or class requirements during the school year. You are paid for your summer training and you are not obligated to military service if you choose not to accept your commission. For pilots and law students, aviation and law programs are guaranteed. Unrestricted officers have a choice of all other fields.

Not everyone possesses the integrity, judgement or flexibility to be a Marine Officer. For those that do, the rewards are great.

1. Initial obligation 3 years for unrestricted officers, 5 1/2 years for aviators.

2. Starting salray $14,500 to $15,800 (Ground-Aviation)

THE PILOT SYNDROME

By Joe Arent\nAsian Reporter

The pilot syndrome is identified by the writer as a person who goes out of their way of dressing like a pilot and ensuring that everyone knows they are a pilot. This is caused by pilots who are anxious about being seen as non-pilots.

In most cases, the pilot syndrome results in a harmful situation where the person suffering from this syndrome expects people to play the role of a pilot. However, there are some cases where the syndrome can be harmful. At a certain aviation event, several pilots were seen in non-pilot attire, which caused some issues.

The writer mentions that it is not necessary for everyone to conform to the pilot syndrome, as there are two sides to this argument.

The writer also mentions an anecdote where a pilot was leaving his home and his dog was accompanying him. The writer reflects on the idea of being a pilot and the expectations that come with it.

The writer concludes by mentioning that the pilot syndrome is a complex issue and that there is no one right way to approach pilots.
