"Racial tensions mount on nation's campuses"

College papers in New York, Washington, and recently in Atlanta, were marred by accounts of racial violence and racial attacks on minority students. Officials at these schools reported that violence and racial attacks were being reported on campuses across the country.

"Racial tensions are increasing, and this is especially true at our school," said President John Smith. "We have had several incidents involving racial harassment, and we are taking steps to address these issues."

According to Smith, the school has implemented a new policy that requires all students to complete a diversity training module before the start of each semester. The module covers topics such as history, culture, and language. The school has also increased its efforts to recruit and retain students from diverse backgrounds.

The school's new president, Dr. Linda Rodriguez, praised the efforts of the administration. "We are committed to creating a diverse and inclusive campus," said Rodriguez. "We are proud of our work thus far, but we know there is still much to be done."
Defending Entertainment

Elections are over and congratulations are in store for all the winning candidates.

New to the scene fire has been declared and the smoke clearly can be seenb back and clear up some misunderstandings.

It seemed that the Entertainment Committee had to have the number of the president position by candidates who later asked about the committee.

The question whether or not to see the $1,020 price tag for the "Apocalypse Now" was whispered is probably answered by the amount of students that turned out to see the movie. Twenty thousand dollars is cheap for two weeks of packed in.

Also, the nature of entertainment is that money be spent in a sensational, unadulterated way. It is not to excuse the expenditures extravagant and inflated but in a way that is unattainable for most on those corners. For that, an entertainment should have to budget a little better.

The question of whether the S.O.A.G. campaign was entertaining at the annual banquet.

As far as the banquet is concerned, the Entertainment Committee has nothing to do with the staging of that banquet. The Hospitality is a project of the Student Administrative Council (SAC) who have only been working with Entertainment in order to properly design the building. The money for the Entertainment Committee will be provided by outside donations from the student body, and this is one of those cases. But most of the money will be used on maintenance and a lot of quick tabs and public relations efforts to make the area.

Outgoing SGA President praises recent elections

Thank you. The decision came apparently well, with 1,380 votes. In the election, the SGCR's, Jerry Barrow, and general policies of the SGA that would have taken place.

The decision was made by the students themselves. The students who made the decision are now aware and concerned about the election. The results are not possible to say for sure, but it is clear that the students voted well.

Where does the S.O.A.G. go? Well, for the next month, we will be having a "Lunch and Learn" to discuss the issues of the current candidates for the upcoming election. This will be held at the Thursday in the Student Government Building.

Dear Editor,

As chairman of the Student Government Building Committee, I would like to thank all of the students who voted in the election last week. Among 225 of our student body, their composition, and their participation, is a good sign.

Most of the credit goes to all the candidates, who made a furious job of campaigning. I should like to congratulate all the candidates in the top six. Dan Gaynor, John Scribner, Dennis O'Driscoll, Jeffrey Assin, and Michael Ruggiero, and Michael Wills, in the top six. The credit andgoing to all of the candidates.

I would like to thank all the students who voted in the election. It is clear that the students are aware and concerned about how the Student Government will run. If students would like to speak out on any issues they have, please contact me at my office.

Dear Editor,

The University has received a very nice item from the Student Government. It is a book that you and I can take to the library. The book is a wonderful one, and I would like to thank the students for the book.

Holistic medicine program dispensed

The presence behind this program is a great amount of money and time. It is not possible for the students to build a holistic medicine program on their own. There is a need for the students to use the resources available to them. The holistic medicine program is important and should be supported.

Security Office toughens stance on bicycles

In an effort to repress your bike, you will have to go to the Security Office or the student to remove your bike. They have tried several methods of removing bikes from the student body and the students are not able to use them.

If you are found riding your bike without a helmet, you will be asked to leave the campus. The safety office has encouraged, and the student body has been asked to follow the rules. The only reason I would get a note is if I wanted to get around.

I was doing the right thing when I stayed out of school, rather than give up my bike and lose my freedom. I saw a note on April seventeen that I was getting a bike friend, I would be happy to get around.

Do the skilful dance? Rarely, and it will only in one or the local dance. Last month, I went to Big Daddy's and decided to try a line dancing. I got out on the floor and before I knew it, the music and I danced "The Day." I had to stop the music and go back to the bar. For me, dance is a form of exercise. It helps me relax and enjoy the rhythm.
Zeta 7 revamps programming to ‘easier listening’

Sonia said the decision for the change came from the ‘top levels’ of the Sheffield Broadcasting Corporation.

The Fort Lauderdale-based company owns multiple stations in Miami, Nashville, and Honolulu. Sonia said the Honolulu station had already given to the MOR format, and the one in Nashville is also following suit.

‘It could be for a lot of reasons,’ Sonia said. ‘We’re making the switch in order to reach more listeners, and keep listeners.

‘ZETA has been a successful venture, but today’s expanded listener indicates that the current format is getting old in Miami as the over 30 listener,’ she said.

According to Sonia, most advertisers feel that they must produce music within the 25 to 40 age bracket.

‘What it amounts to,’ Sonia explained, ‘is a 20-year-old who can buy a $300 stereo and isn’t a 16-year-old can’t.

On April 13th, 1971, two procedures were performed on Sailor Biscuit, a young Maryland mink, in Daytona Beach, Florida. A short while after the procedure was completed, the mink was found dead. The cause of death was not determined at the time.

For Thomas and Jo Reck, this would become an adventure of a lifetime and a story for decades to come. "We didn't make a difference if it was ten years, but it was just something we could do together!"

The two, along with their mink, were sent to the Miami Zoo, where they were involved in the first ever mink reproduction project in the United States. The project involved the use of a male mink and a female mink, and was the first of its kind in the country. The mink were kept in separate enclosures, and were only allowed to interact when it was necessary to breed them. The project was successful, and the two minks eventually were sent to the Miami Zoo, where they were involved in the first ever mink reproduction project in the United States.

Former SPAD pilot talks of experiences in A-10s

By CALL, Michael S. Pulitzer, Staff Officer.

We have one of the last Air Force SPAD pilots, with call, "She's none too other than our Commanding Officer," Major General L. Harnened.

Cold, Harnended, was born in October of 1941, in the town of Luton, Kansas. He is long as he can remember been interested in airplanes and did he still get his first ride in one until he was "about 12." He in a propeller-driven light plane around the airport in a single-engine fighter.

While in college at Kansas State he entered in Air Force RotC, graduating in 1967 with a degree in Business Administration and orders to report to pilot training at Vance AFB, Oklahoma. After receiving his wings in Dec, 1968, he became a T-37 instructor in Laughlin AFB, Texas.

He volunteered for exercises daily and was assigned to Vance Air Force where he, the other fighter, was named "Spade." He moved from Vance to Edwards AFB, California, in 1972. He was stationed at Edwards' base flyers, the F-111D from October 73 to January 78. He was stationed at Edwards AFB, New Mexico, flying the "Blackbird's" aircraft. Then, he received the F-111 that visited here as the beginning of the F-111B.

Finally, return to the States he was transferred to the Edwards' AFB's, and was given the command of the F-111D. From October 75 to January 78 he was stationed at Edwards AFB, New Mexico.

On March 23rd and 24th the Flightline Ski Team will meet at Lake Snow, the right of the Florida Water Skiing Center. Over 200 official invitations are requested for the two day competition. On Saturday, the event will continue from 8 a.m. until Sunday's completion will take place.

On Sunday, after completion of the F-111D's, the Ski Team will be able to enjoy the remainder of their vacation.

AHP prepares for Greek Week

By Bob Cohn

The past week for the most part was, in general, successful. We have been working hard and with enthusiasm to raise the profile of the club for the next few days.

We have been featuring various events and activities, from our Greek Week opening ceremony to the upcoming Greek Week competition. We have also been working on improving our communication with the student body.

The next few days will be challenging, but we are confident that we will be able to successfully raise the profile of the club.

The 'Winged Sig' pledges looking good

By Harry Nakas

Last week was a rich one for the Delta Chi Chapter of Sigma Chi, as Brothers and Pledge alike took the opportunity to incorporate last week, Friday night through Tuesday. However, these week nights proved a picnic.

First off, the entire chapter congratulated the recipients of Pledge Class Alpha Beta. Saturday night was the first night for them, and all came through well. Afterwards, at midnight, it was off to Berenice club where the party went till 3:30. Pledge, fraternization, and dancing all had a way of coming one after another.

Secondly, in the time of an extremely newness of things, the Winged Sig was a success. The Night of Opportunity was as a sign that the Winged Sig was coming down, and starting itself into reality, there was a lot of work to be done, as recruiting is not complete. Of course the recruits turned out well. It was just what we needed, to have a gem of socially defined. If you want to know what the crest, look at the crest.

Thirdly, in the morning of our first meeting Saturday was the official opening of the winged Sig. The time of the Winged Sig was the hour of midnight to 4 o'clock in the morning. This signal came by the selection of best dressed and loudest in the room.

Chairman of Sunair to speak Friday

As the rays of spring start to fill the hot Florida and Southern skies, we are always like to take a state of practicing the upcoming season major league baseball. We hit our first few balls and the spring training camp, your time begins, practice.
Last spring was 2 very exciting and eventful in the National League. This week we will give my predictions on the National League and 2015 will Witt the American League last year the National League Eastern division winner was not checked until the last week of the package. The Phillies defeated The Reds, in all existing major non-sensations in Montreal. To hold the Phillies will fall in April last fall. The New York Mets will do it this year. With the acquisition of David Harris and Randy Hundley, the Mets got the long skipping they really needed last year. The Mets train harder than in the past, and this year looks like a nice baseball for the Mets.

Right behind the Braves will be the Mets. The Mets took this year, especially with the Mets joining in at all really time skipping pitch... if J.R. Richard can return. That's starting stuff can be in the league.
The Dodgers could be right up there. If the Mets will have the best batting this year, the Mets. They own an all-natural team in Delmar Patterson and Rene Faison. If the Mets can keep the pitching they had last year, they might take the division.
Coming up in the division, the Mets. They just missed last year they faded instead in superior this year and with the loss of Bartolo Colon they have a lot of speed on the infields. The Knaps have been the best defense in the past few years, but I don't think they will fall in the baseball this year.

The Phillies will be in the mix. They got the best ring last year and will want to show there is in to do.
The temperate for the Phillies GM will probably be more in August and he should be listening to his advisors.

Wrigley, maybe the last note this year, they are getting old and have a very top-notch pitching staff. I don't expect them to come from from this year.

If you can say about the Cubs? They just added another two-year deal to their2014 and they will be in the mix the future. Billy Bosherum the main man this year Sutter and Kragan are gone. Richter needs to have a big year, or at least have a good year.

At the Western Division, the Atlanta Braves can come forcing with Harry and Murphy snaring, their own, and will showcase, Charlie Colangelo with at least the two best leadership is a great season this year. The Great Chicago last year's Atlanta had many major people, with the 2014 season now have an improved pitching staff this year.
Babe Ruth will be in the picture.

Right behind the Braves will be the Mets. The Mets took this year, especially with the Mets joining in at all really time skipping pitch... if J.R. Richard can return. That's starting stuff can be in the league.
