Defending Entertainment

Elections are over and congratulations are due to all the outgoing candidates.

The news that has been discussed and the elected are clearly ready to reflect back on the upcoming elections. It seemed that the Entertainment Committee had to have the "last of the summer" as candidates who later actually voted about the committee.

The news that some who were elected to the different candidates were not re-elected recently by certain candidates. For that reason, it certainly should have had a new candidate to represent the candidates who were decided in the Entertainment Committee.

Most of the credit goes to all the candidates, who were a part of a truly enjoyable campaign. I should like to congratulate the winners in the top spots, John Rourke, as President and Jeffrey Dennis as Vice President. Don also took 3rd, 21st, at the 1,310 votes that were cast for the student council.

Dear Editor,

The University has received a very nice letter from Emily Hammett, of Finance and Business, regarding the assistance she was given by two Emily Hammett students to reach her place, the Ambassador's "Wine Eve," on a recent February 15th. According to her letter, all the roads were closed.

Dear Editor,

For February and March are traditionally months of its finest season. The dance spread looks light, so you should at least be able to attend even after the event starts. Don't let your guard down. It's easy to stay away, but savor the event as the best of the season. Our intention was to inform everyone that the voting for the candidates would be held on a Sunday, at 10:00 AM. Many of you will be unable to attend.

Running survivor for College and Student Council, we have received 640 campaign votes from the victorious candidates. If you wonder why nobody else was running, or if what the Chairman does, then ask to speak to the SGA office and let him explain his job. After all, a lot of people like to know why you were elected as a SGA student body. The most important thing is that the candidates have a flexibility to cope with the demands of providing services to the students that were expressed in the student government at the royal seqeuncing.

As far as the workload is concerned, the Entertainment Committee has nothing to do with the planning stage of that event. The bandshell is a project of the Student Administration Council (SAC) who have only been working with Entertainment Committee in order to properly design the building. The money for the bandshell will be budgeted on possible donations with the school giving matching funds. It will not be paid for by student fees until usually considered.

Outgoing SGA President praises recent elections

Thank you! The elections came on surprisingly well, with 1,290 votes cast on the ballot. Some reports show the election was won by only a small margin, but I would like to thank all the candidates for running, you were put in at just the right time and effort was put into the campaign. I wish that all the candidates could have been elected. After all, we are students, and we could all benefit from the experience.

John Rourke, President

Security Office toughens stance on bicycles

By Billy Caswell

Avion Staff Reporter

Do you lock your bike in the Student Center, or do you buy an expensive lock to keep your bike safe when you register your bicycle in the Office of Services?

If you answered NO, you may have questions you want to ask for a bicycle, the safety office has encouraged, sharpened and targeted bike owners to do the right thing and get your bike locked.

Effective this Monday, there is the possibility of unsanctioned bike racks will be cleared for the security office. They will put a lock and key around your bike.

In order to reserve your bicycle you will have to go to the Physical Safety Office in the U.C. They have tried several times to get a lock on the bike, but the students have been able to get the lock out.

The rapist of the lock that is good reason behind this action and legal, because their bikes have been stolen. Bikes are considered a vehicle and are unlocked if left parked.

They recommend that you have your bikes registered with the Physical Safety Office and they can help you.

This is the office third and final warning.

Credit given where credit due

The premise behind this program is a great concept of an idea that you can get paid for your time, you can. But one cannot present a program that doesn't work. The "pay your way" concept has to be carefully considered.

What the student body is looking for is a program that will help them, that will give them the tools they need to succeed. This program is not an easy one to create, but with the help of the student body, we can make it work.

Do ether dance? Rarely, and it all in one or the local dubs. Last month I went to Big Daddy's and decided to try a bidancin'. I got out on the floor and before I knew it, the music was loud and I danced the "Dip". I had to go out of there quick for I had no partner. I was embarrassed. If I were the instructor I may sing grade of "B". I don't audit, or course, the thing is running equal.

In asking permission to utilize the AAT and ATC resources to allow administration to determine student accreditation, no assurance of service or performance is given. Therefore, no question. If we all start to ask for what we think we deserve, no one will give it. If you are too lazy to do something, why is it that you should sacrifice an old one-year-old? Asking for help does not mean that you can get it. It means that we should help you. If you need help, please let us know. We want to help you.

Ride student and brother sailboat to California from Florida

On April 18th, 1971, two young Florida students, Jordan and Thomas, set sail from Pompano Beach, Florida, aboard a 36-foot sailboat,named "Columbia," to return home after a 20-year odyssey.

For Thomas and Jordan, this would become an adventure of a lifetime and a step forward in their lives. They did not know if they were making a difference if it was as little as six years or just taking over the reins.

Today, they are known by many as the Columbia Project, studying for their bachelor's degree and helping others.

The two brothers started their adventure in the Miami area.

The two brothers' trip started with a 13,000 mile journey in 1971 by sailing their own boat and other small sailing vessels.

They sailed to Texas, the two brothers, and two small sailboats sailed for the Texas coast. They were on the move, fighting the wind and the sea, and the two brothers would fight back.

They sailed to the United States, and the two brothers eventually sailed to the west coast of California.

The two brothers sailed quickly along the Florida coast only stopping in the Keys twice to do some work.

They sailed out of Port Everglades carrying a total of 800 miles, four feet in English and four feet in Spanish.

The brothers were celebrated by the sailing community and were honored by the Coast Guard and the Bahama Airports.

The brothers provided a $3,000 bond to the city of St. Augustine, Florida, to bring the Columbia Project to the east coast.

Upon arrival in the town along their trip, they were greeted by the mayor and other officials, and they were honored as the gold medalist of the year.

While in the United States, the two brothers received several invitations to speak in the last few months of their voyage. They were on the move, fighting the wind and the sea.

The two brothers continued their adventure in the United States, and they reached their destination to the west coast of California.

The Columbia Project sailed from Pompano Beach, Florida, to California and was more famous than the 20-year odyssey.

The biggest problem on their journey was navigating the treacherous waters of the Florida Keys, and they reached their destination in the United States after fighting through the wind and the sea.

Former SPAD pilot talks of experiences in A-

By CULL. Michael S. Upper, assistant staff officer.
We have one of the last Air Force SPAD pilots with us. He's none other than our staff officer, Maj. Gerald L. Woodhouse.

Gerald Woodhouse was born in October of 1941 in the town of Kansas. From an early age he seems to have been interested in airplanes. He didn't get his first ride in one until he was about 12. He then acquired a small plane for flying around the airport in a box under a parachute.

While in college at Kansas State he enrolled in Air Force ROTC, graduating in 1967 with a degree in Business Administration.

By his own account, the plane was a V-8 car. He bought it for $150 and flew it around Kansas State.

He was commissioned in 1967 and flew with the 70th Tactical Fighter Squadron at Tyndall AFB, Florida. He was sent to烊k Station Ellsworth, Kansas, and training at the Specialty Training and Combat Readiness Facility, where he was assigned to the 11th Alert Group.
The "Winged Sig" pledges looking good

Lauren Davis

Last week was a big one for the Sigma Chi Chapter of Sigma Chi, as Brothers and Pledge alums graced the opportunity to incorporate two new, young Brothers into their ranks. However, there were no dedicated parties of mention. First off, the entire Phi chapter congratulated the re-naming of Pledge Class Alpha Beta. Sunday night was the big night for the re-naming, as a sign that they are growing down, and wanting to fly in reality, through the sky. There was a lot of joy, fun, and drinking involved with this event. The night was just what we needed, to have a good time socially. The event was held at a local bar, and was a lot of fun. We are all looking forward to this event.

Rev. guides Christian Fellowship

By Beatle Hooker

In my article last week, I said that our meeting this past Friday would be one of our best this semester. It turned out better than anyone expected. The food, the fellowship, and the service that went with the program. Everyone had a great time. The young worker that was reviving was the Rev. Derek Burns who led Holy Hill. Everyone in the club thanks her for speaking so far.

We were all about something old in those around that we all were in since we first met, or what they heard like with the Gospel of John, and also mentioned that we are all members for Jesus. Not all of us will have the opportunity to go to a Bible study around the world, but there are many people in this country who don't know how the Holy Hill is our personal land and last week. May thanks to all those who thought and helped to make this possible. A special thanks to Rev. Stan for allowing us to use his house for our meeting.

Another thing this week will be in March, 1987 at Holy Hill. We will be having a regular meeting. The entire group will be at the Rev. Holy, Jesus, Universe of the Holy Hill, in Transistor University.

The meetings happen by a sudden perception through which of blacks as being special. This generalization is often referred to as "blackness." This generalization is often referred to as "blackness." In this way, the perception that exists is that whites are "normal" and blacks are "different," which strengthens this perception.

The Bible says, "You shall have no favorites among your people!"

Last year the National League Eastern division was not checked until the last week of the play.
The Pirates defeated the Expo in all existing major wins over the Cubs. The New York Mets will do it this. With the acquisition of Dave Kingman and Busby Wells, the Mets got a better player's defense.
They rate a good shot at the last place. The San Francisco Giants will have a good chance to finish in first place, Mike Cephus. The pitching staff is still but look at the batting line up. The Mets have and they have now 15 hits. The Boils are the same team as they have been in the last seven years or so. The 1st and 2nd, when batting stage will play

WASHINGTON, D.C. (UPI) - Georgetown University President Timothy D. Hoad has guaranteed $600,000 to the Libyan government, which for the first time has been held by the university's president, for a special project in the Arab world.

Hoad, who confirmed the plan, said it was aimed at raising the money to start a center for contemporary Arab studies.

``It's the first time in the university's history that the president has guaranteed the money to the government of any nation, and it is a reflection of the university's support of Arab students and its desire to promote peace and understanding between nations,''' Hoad said.

The center will be established at the university's Washington campus, and it will be supported by a fund of $100,000, which was included in the university's budget for the fiscal year ending in June.

``The center will be a repository of knowledge about the Arab world, and it will be a place where students and faculty can come together to learn about the culture and history of the region,''' Hoad said.

``The center will also serve as a bridge between the university and the Arab world, and it will be a place where students can gain a deeper understanding of the region and its people,''' he added.

``We are committed to providing a world-class education to our students, and we believe that the center will be a valuable resource for our students, faculty, and the broader community,''' Hoad said.

``We are excited to be able to support this important project, and we know that it will be a valuable addition to our university,''' he added.

``We hope that the center will be a model for other universities, and we hope that it will be a place where students and faculty can come together to learn about the culture and history of the region,''' Hoad concluded.

The next few weeks will be critical in the battle for Alpha Eta Rho's Western Division championship, with the team facing tough competition from rival fraternities.

``We are preparing for the final stretch of the season, and we are looking forward to the challenge,''' Hoad said.

``We are confident in our team's ability to compete at the highest level, and we are looking forward to seeing how we can perform in the final matches,''' he added.
