Flying related to cancer

OKLAHOMA CITY - The Sargent Arms Hotel here is jampacked with cardboard boxes of medical files and documents. This is where the Oklahoma City Police Department has stored evidence of the body of a woman who was killed by a local gun battle.

The gun battle that killed a woman and wounded two police officers occurred on Friday morning. The suspect was later arrested by police. The shooting took place near an apartment building in the city.

The Oklahoma City Police Department said that the suspect killed a woman and wounded two police officers. The police said that the suspect was later arrested by police. The shooting took place near an apartment building in the city.

ITK emerges victorious in Geek Week

The fierce battle of ERU's Geek Week proved stimulating to most of the participants campus-wide. All of them had, except for the fraction of Tappa Keg, who succumbed to ERU's newest and number one fraternity, without much effort at all, we had the pans off for the other so-called fraternity. It's funny how the motto, "Through the ruthless in East Spec to serving the community and practicing good sportsmanship," Tappa Keg is not going to mention. We entered these contests with no selfish reasons and it paid off. We and the boys enjoyed two delicacies, golden bar rolls of bonuses as a reward for our victory.

For the post-game celebration, the gang all headed down to Peace Hall to enjoy our incentive. The party was within the brothers' competitive pledges only and top unusual members of the freshman persuasion.

After managing to convince the few girls who actually came, several of the Brothers demanded summarizing techniques in some of the pledges. Meanwhile the rest of us practiced our leg-rapping until we passed out. It was great waking up the next morning with half a barrel of beer and some 20 empty bottles. We quickly finished the rest off and went to McDonald's for breakfast. Afterward, we proceeded to the liquor store to fill the barrels (Tappa Keg brothers never forget to stop the guys and empties them again that night. We always make sure our brothers get a good night's sleep on a school night."

'Tappa Keg's rent party will be this Friday at the clubhouse. Again all females are welcome. We would like to see more girls show up to our parties. We're trying to forget that we're an ERU fraternity.'

$100 Admission
Ground making at Riddle Flight Line

In late breaking news release, the administration decided today that the Flight Line is "no longer deemed necessary."

Dr. Tony Poussin's letter explained many obviously desirable features about "ordinary" student "wastelands." "Well, you see my friends. We all know there's a beach this morning. Well the president and I decided that the sand was to pretty that we should have some of it at Daytona Campus." The interview was interrupted at this point that is only in fact to the doctor's act of passing out. For "Colony. Presumably, the wash- ing commission was available for comment. Mr. Joe Baskette of the Daytona Beach campus answered several questions regarding the process of creating the building benches into a beach and like substances, Mr. Baskette notably."

"You know, we were looking really hard to get the money right but we just couldn't. So the $325,000 dollar cost will be out of next year's SGA fee which by the way is going to separate our research need.

At the risk of becoming extremely disdained and belched, it seems that this idea is surely useful, besides not at all being cost effective. The Arnell story is organizing a vigilante force in order to prevent the present administration. Warren may be obtained by writing Mr. Bill Howstout at Box 700A.

Dear Mr. Editor: The AVIOFF has been without a doubt one of the best publications available for the price. It is really handy when an occasional forgets to buy today's paper. Dear Mr. Editor: As a student at ERAU I am up to any other fellow students in regards to their plans to acquire an old, beat-up F4 fighter plane. Why do they want this old refuel? I have seen this aircraft and have deemed it worthy. Incidentally the color scheme choosed. It gives an oathook the thought that the airplane fell into the hands of some commie fords. Furthermore the aircraft has obviously undergone structural changes as it handling qualities are very dangerous in the inexperienced. So ERAU flight instructors actually expect our FA-102 students to do their first solo in this fying dump-veg?

New biology course to increase diversity

In a move to increase the educational diversity of the degree programs at Embry-Riddle, university officials announced that at the beginning of the Fall 1992 semester, ERAU will be offering several new biology courses. In order to get a jump on students who will sign up for these courses, research teams have already been busy planting grass, shrubs, trees, and flowers. Most of the new courses will be in the natural science area, to include BC 130, introduction to Crater Mugh, RS 120, Spool Rail Fence 1 and BS 220, Sand Laying 1.

It is hoped that responses to these offers will be sufficient to warrant the money being spent on preparatory for them. Any students contemplating signing up for any course in the Biological Science Department should stop by after CME 407 and ask Dr. Gansoll, chairman of the department.

Crippled Seminole lands flaswlessly

By Max Cornue

Airport exit

On Wednesday afternoon, flight instructor Bill Brandon, a Seminole-based pilot, was preparing to land his aircraft at New Smyrna Beach airport. Upon landing, the left wing of the aircraft was observed to be damaged, and the pilot immediately announced that the plane had experienced an accident.

Brandon, an experienced pilot, reported that during the landing, the left wing was damaged due to a strong gust of wind that caused the aircraft to overshoot the runway.

The aircraft was a Beechcraft Bonanza, a popular model for flight training. Brandon stated that the accident was caused by a strong gust of wind that caused the plane to veer off course.

No passengers were on board, and there were no injuries reported. The aircraft was checked by mechanics and found to be safe for continued flight.

Brandon apologized to the flight training program and assured students that future training would include more emphasis on weather conditions and wind effects.

The airport has implemented additional safety measures, including increased training on weather-related incidents and implementation of new guidelines for landing procedures.

On March 23, President Jack Hart held a briefing with chief staff members of the university. I had the pleasure to attend this meeting in the new SGA President's office. Your presence to the administration, I relay the information as follows:

1. We must study ourselves and decide what our major marketing concerns are. We can use the Four-Week News, the Bulletin, the Student Magazine, Action, Computer Services and Flight Safety are considered to be direct competitors to Entry-Riddle.

2. Now that our accreditation is complete, we need to make a quick stop and check to make sure everything is in order and running properly.

3. We need to be competitively aware of what our competition is doing and look at this the state of the economy is a real world application.

4. The economy is the cornerstone of society and what you’re working and what isn’t, the system to make it function more efficiently and make it more effective to the system.

5. We need to remember that we are here to serve the students; that is our concern.

6. If we continue to work together during this economic period, EAU will become the cornerstone of the student vision.

I was impressed with the honesty in which this briefing was given. Goals and objectives were mentioned with the students in mind. In using the concept of President Harter to secure the function of Entry-Riddle, it makes one’s love for the school and the students it involves unique and authentic.

The SGA’s weekly issue of The Avion, the statement made to the “Avion Copy Editor” of my numerous public announcements concerning footsteps, leads me to understand that these announcements (see DING, page 10).

No guts

To the Editor:

I found it ironic last week to read the story on the front page of the Avion that says, “the award-winning student newspaper of the college,” when the next page, read the extremely biased editor of the Avion was quoted “disgusted.” As an SGA representative, I feel it is shameless and extremely unfair that the Avion would publish such trash.

On the issue of the voter registration cards, I feel that I was not a failure. I came up with that idea November as a way of avoiding the need for punch student ID cards to prevent a student from voting more than once. Last year, there was a problem with students who wouldn’t vote because they didn’t like the idea of having a hole punched in their cards. There was also the problem of these students who were here one for several years and their cards were full of holes. Yes, there is a problem of getting students interested in the SGA elections. I don’t think it was the fault of the blue card system. I find it amazing as how people seem to get into political or how to recommend solutions of local and state. Mr. Olson also claimed falsely that students were denied the right to vote when, in fact, no students were denied the right to vote. Those students who did not have their blue cards sent to return the U.C. state. I have no idea where the students were located or what students could be checked off on a student record.

As far as “SGA elected by a minority of 34,” it is an fact. You took a good look at the Avion newspaper itself. The Avion has a bond record in my mind for printing news and articled pertinent to the interests of the “Avion majority,” and see the student body majority.

In regards to the letter written by the disinterested minority within, I think that this vote is advanced of his own details. I have no respect for a person who..

Don’t pay

To the Editor:

With the result of the SGA elections new deadline, I am sure the results were analyzed. Freshmen and other students still are few, they do not vote because they see the voting cards, and 4000 people do not care to vote at all. Obviously, a lot of people are do not care about the SGA.

Let’s take a closer look at what the SGA President was saying. He said that the Avion was a newspaper that Every student should be required to read. As a member of the student body, I would like to blame the student government for this. If we have apaper with six words, then we try to get a story with six words. It gives us free sandwich and then have speaker come in on campus, students are eating. Who is to say that the SGA should be too many people.

Since a small minority of people take part in these elections, let them fund them. If there are 400 people per 251 each, they can vote and make a difference. If some letters, let them be payed at the door receipts, and if these people interesting in a paycheck, as much as it, and be helpful to the rest of it. After all, it is a advertisement for Kiddle.

If those 400 people were fed-up with the SGA enough to pay into Kiddle for their money and tell, we might see an end to the entertainment of a few funded to something. Now is the time to stand up. Don’t pay your SGA fees.

Sincerely, Bill Gahna

Admit it

To the Editor:

Two weeks ago, a pet letter to the Editor, I expressed my disgust about the shyness and incompetence of some of the members of “The Avion.” Last week’s issue of the newspaper was so much more of the same. Mr. Olson’s editorial referring to the SGA elections was disgusting and showed his lack of competence and integrity. Mr. Olson lost the election, and he cannot accept the fact. He is trying to blame his deficits on the student body and students who complained.

Who is to say that the student government should be run by a majority of students. Only a small minority of students were interested in the recall was the opinion of the majority. Kiddle needs to take a closer look at that the SGA should be too many people.

In my opinion, Mr. Olson’s letter, quote, gave me no reason than he deserved. During the election campaign, Kiddle did not make a move to change his position in “The Avion” and

Army ROTC explains summer basic camp

By Cadet Capt. Anthony E. DiBiase

Have you ever asked about Senior ROTC Basic Camp? Do you have friends who are wondering what do do this summer? Would you like to have them join you in Advanced ROTC next year?

If your answer is yes to any of the above questions, did you tell them about Basic Camp? There is still time for them to sign-up. Give them the facts.

The camp is conducted at Ft. Knox for the purpose of qualifying applicants for membership in the Advanced Senior Program.

The training is designed to develop in the cadet the physical and mental characteristics required of a junior officer of the U.S. Army. It also provides the cadet with the opportunity to participate in outdoor practical work and acquaint him with group living, military hygiene, environmental discipline. Instruction is presented by selected personnel skilled in the methods of providing formal instruction, motivation, and military training. Experiences offered and personnel directed from various colleges and universities motivate contact with the cadet on a daily basis and provide an avenue and objective of evaluation of performance.

In many categories for the camp cadet, you may enter and win one of the categories that gives you the opportunity to participate in the camp. The categories are:

- Leadership
- Military
- Physical Fitness
- Academics
- Community Service

For complete details about the camp, please contact your cadet officer at your college or university. The camp runs from June 1st to August 1st.

Hurry donors

By Jim Dillon

The Bloodmobile held by the Sigma Chi fraternity on Tuesday afternoon proved to be a great success with 370 pints of blood donated. The goal for Sigma Chi was to donate 400 pints of blood. The Bloodmobile was organized by a group of seniors and juniors at the college and was successful in exceeding their goal.

The proceeds from the blood drive will be used to support various Sigma Chi activities, including scholarships and community service projects.

Steppen out...

A look at eating and drinking establishments in the Daytona Beach area.

By Tony Pinto
Entertainment Editor

This week Steppen Out did a little stepped down the “Hills”- located downstairs at the Traveler Leda Hotel. Situated in the center of A1A and Broadway, this bar is a pleasant variation of Daytona’s string of hotels international offerings.

Some bars are for dancing while others are for eating or maybe a little of both. What do you do you like to do? Do you desire live music for dancing or seek background music to listen to over dinner? Are you one who will be entertained by a DJ, “Bilbo Baggins”, who spins golden oldies from the 1950’s and ’60’s. During the course of an evening, you may have heard the same song over, but with 70,000 records to choose from, that rarely happens.

“All 4 One” is a DJ who knows when to stop talking and start play ing. We’re often than none a DJ forgets you were there to listen to music instead of himself. Taking a jump down memory lane could never be more nostalgic. You’ll find a mix of the finest oldies and a sprinkling of E-RAU students who claim to be decibels regular. It’s really no surprise if you en counter the Mountains some years ago and seek an environment for the greatest recreation of those days.

One of the problems a bar like the Encounter sounds is size. It’s good if you want to meet someone, you have no choice if it’s allow able. In contrast, it is bad in the respect that if you’re with someone when you arrive at a bar, you may find a little crowded. Dance ing is another story and should be allowed by those with a high tolerance of others.

Drink prices are comparable with one and it’s a treat to have somewhat noise subdued while you have some fun.

Dancing is an event and it is or it’s supposed to be. It is nice to service the floor sometime to have a look at the dancers there is always some. So treat yourself and enjoy it. As long as you are having a good time, you’ll find that they are also a lot of events daily in the pool deck beginning at 1 p.m.

National League; Expos look strong in '82 season

The Cincinnati Reds are among their own Ohio fans this year. They just about traded half of their outfield before Christmas. This year. Goodbye go out to George Foster, Ray Knight, Joe Morgan. Jack Clark, Dave Kingman, and Fred Lynn. About the only thing the Reds need is a competent catcher. A weak bullpen may be the only thing without them in the lineup. Foster has been acquired in free agency. I'm willing to bet that he comes to life when he's in the heat of the action. The Reds have a chance to win the Eastern Division. So far, I'm willing to bet that they'll come out on top in the National League East Division. The Reds' best player is Ray Knight in right field. Porker will be Dave Kingman. Kingman is a good bat, but he may not come back to form. They've got the young hitting in the majors. I'm willing to bet that the Reds will come out on top in the National League East Division. They've got a good batting average and a good team. I'm willing to bet that the Reds will beat the Expos this year. The Reds have a good record in the NL East Division. So far, I'm willing to bet that the Reds will come out on top in the National League East Division. They've got a good batting average and a good team.

Alpha Eta Rho releases to second place finish

The members of Alpha Eta Rho showed what teamwork and sportsmanship really means during Cross Week. They did an excellent job of competing and when the odds were against them they held together and came back with everything they had. Alpha Eta Rho started out slow during the beginning of the week, placing fourth in both the personal and team events, but had an amazing improvement during the week.

The fisher throw and engineering egg toss events were their first place in the overall standings. When the Delta Chi team returned to their lockers after understanding the rules of the egg toss event, the engineering egg toss was called over and sent to Delta Chi enough time to prepare for the event. When the boys took place for the second time, Sigma Phi Delta met with an almost perfect show leaving Lambda Chi Alpha's team.

Several weeks ago and Delta Chi knew they had it in a can to roll up in the standings. They performed beautifully by coming in third in Thursday last, second in the egg toss, first in the four man, and second in the Discus.

A true professional approach to your flight training should include a consideration for the type of Helicopter. For our flight training, we utilize the Robinson R22. Our Robinsons also make transition to larger equipment easier. Consideration should also be given to the qualifications of your instructor; our staff consists of only experienced instructors. For more information on training, call Daytona Beach Aviation Helicopter Flight School at 253-0471 or the 24 hour message phone at 253-9800.
