Tips on securing financial aid in future

As a special news column this week, U.S. Department of Education Secretary Leonore E. Fried- chard outlined the Federal Financial Assistance Program that is available to students in the fiscal 1983 budget. Although Mrs. Fried- chard was not at the press conference, his words offer a helpful guide to students who may want to borrow money to cover their college costs. She was unable to join us in person to discuss the program, but she did participate in the discussion by telephone.

One of the keys to securing financial aid is to know what aid is available to you. To start with, there are several types of financial assistance:

1. Grants: These are free to students and do not have to be repaid. Examples include the Pell Grant, Federal Work-Study Program, and National Merit Scholarship Program.
2. Loans: These are repaid to the lending institution, such as the Bank of America or the Federal Student Loan Program. Examples include the Stafford Loan, Perkins Loan, and Direct Loan.
3. Work-Study Program: This program provides part-time employment for students who are enrolled in an approved program of study and meet other eligibility requirements.
4. Grad PLUS: This program provides loans to graduate and professional students who have demonstrated need and who will be attending school full-time.
5. S deferred Loans: These are loans that are deferred until the student begins work, and then the loan is repaid over a period of time.

To secure financial aid, students need to:

1. Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or the California Grant Application (CGA) and submit it to the college or university they plan to attend.
2. Meet the eligibility requirements for each type of aid.
3. Submit any additional documentation required by the college or university.
4. Reapply for financial aid each year.

E-RAU are fed up

In a surprise move to be announced on Thursday, the E-RAU Foundation of Aeronautics (E-RAU) has called for a "clean-up" of the Aeronautical Foundation of America (AFA) and a reorganization of the AFA's Board of Directors. The move is being made in response to a series of events that have caused the AFA to lose its credibility.

The new board of directors will be elected by the E-RAU membership and will be responsible for the management of the AFA. The new board will also be responsible for the development of a new corporate strategy for the AFA.

ITK emerges victorious in Geek Week

The fierce battle of ERAG Geek Week proved thrilling to many of the participating campus fraternities. All of them had, except for the fraternity Tappa Kip, who suffered in ERAG’s newest and number one fraternity.

Without much effort at all, we had the pans off of the other soliciting fraternity’s help in East Week to serve the community and promote good sportsmanship. Tappa Kip is not going to retain this. We entered these contests with our selfish reasons and it paid off. Me and the boys captured the decisive, golden bars of friandising as a reward for our victory.

For the post-game celebration, the guys all headed down to Peacock Hall to enjoy our incentive. The party was within the brothers' individual pledges only and was attended members of the frath.

Flight manual revised

Three of our who have not pick up the basic revisions in the Flight Operating Manual had best do so at once. Several major changes have been made in the policies of the flight department.

Perhaps the most controversial change is one which affects the operation of the Piper Seneca. The new regulation has been described as a "two-stall" solution after audacious meetings between Flight Standards personnel and Piper’s engineers failed to find an "alternative." Mr. John Hackett, vice president of problems, said the indicated light.

The change involves the aircraft’s standard speed, the airplane’s "maximum speed" that has been changed from 200 knots to 140 knots which is the maximum landing gear extended speed. The reason for the change is that both

Bad news from financial aid

Ground making at Riddle Flight Line

In late breaking news release, the administration declared today that the flight line is "no longer deemed necessary."

Dr. Tony Rosenthal later explained many obvious decisions for his administration. "Well, you see my friends. We all saw at the beach this morning. Well the president and I decided that the sand was so pretty we should leave it at Daytona Campus."

The interview was interrupted at this point due to only in fact to the doctor's act of passing out. For further President of the university commenting was available for comments. Mr. Joe Hendrickson of the Daytona campus admission counter presented several questions regarding the press of crustal building bricks into the beachband, like students, Mr. Burchland voiced. "I see you ship the three flight lanes so you boys call it, then we pitted in a pile on top of 100 sticks of dynamite. That's talk earlier that we blow the hell out of that big old pile, when the house falls... you get a beach."

When Dr. Hoovenbelen quickly Sharon. "You know what, were looked really hard to get the money right but we just couldn't. So the $150,000 dollar sum will be paid out of last year's SSA fund by which the by a group of 130 persons."

At the risk of becoming extremely diamonc and biased, it seems that this idea is very auspicious. Besides not all are being cost effective. This Annual page is organizing a vigilante force in order to overcome the present administration. Wassup may be obtained by writing Mr. Bill Ridawski at Box 706.

GT'S students storm campus and occupy UC

Early last week a group of true GT's officers and cadet's arrived EAU's Daytona Beach campus. After overrunning the staff and valves resistance put up by EAU security forces, the cadets prevailed to occupy the cafeteria exploiting E-church personnel and management. The cadets then forwarded a list of demands to Campus Prevent Floc and called for a press conference.

The cross of the cadets' demands is the procurement of the E-4 Pensluder. "We want it and we want it now," screamed the head of the occupying forces, 1st Lt. L.J.M. Programed, as he stamped his feet and shook his body in a fit of rage.

"We want our airplane and we want stay until military barracks and uniforms for all students. We're rich and tired of being the only absentee group on campus," Programed said. "You'll better give it to us too, because if you don't, none of you will ever eat out of this cafeteria again!"

At this point the crowds that had gathered began to scatter, and then the scissors turned into full frenzied laughter. This drove Programed into a frenzied comme.

He started to jump up and down, pointing his Fingers in the crowd, shouting "you laugh now."

"If you don't get Beal, you'll see."

We'll see who's laughing when you can't get away from these Stkindens. English class, or any of your old seal or heart or pearl. You'll see, you'll be sorry!"

At this, the crowd began to laugh even harder and slowly began to break up and leave the U.C.

Four days after these occurrences, at the morning of last Wednesday, the cadets are still closed and occupied by the cadets through the student body seems to threaten notice our end.

"Guns of Navarone"

Seventeen staff members from the infamous Avioff Rug were placed in cells in Dorm II pending trial on murder charges. Claims were filed from the powerful and influential Student Resident Action Committee who strive for perfection and righteousness.

The charges state that 17 years of perfect lack of perfection in journalism were met by this vile group of power-grabbing juveniles who dared to make poor judgment and reflect it in the Avioff.

"There are no possible oppositions than to hang all members of this obviously sympatheticall. If we can't be perfect and provide all students everywhere with rich, just, moral, and personal experience in the paper, never forgetting that the work of the world is open us."

What sets us, ya know man, ya know what are we, really" quoted the Chief Justice Reasonably Obnoxious. Chief Obnoxious continued by saying the Government Association of Students (GAS) will be acting in the trial jury for the impending hearings because "they are immoral and ungodly people.

This reporter, skulking behind enemy lines was taken to the prison cells on Dorm II to get this report from the infamous Avioff Editor and assorted assistants.

Will Speak handled a corner, seeing the far off that were placed so far for fun and exercised as a free speech to the students. I thought this was just a student newspaper, I read we all make mistakes and I swear I was just looking for some fun and i'm not stupid. Habed HELL!!" quoted Editor, P.B. Silly screamed. "Consider the fact that we are students, learning and trying for a good paper. God, the Committee and GAS are not very lenient. I swear to goodness we made mistakes, but we tried. Please unite my, my hands but feeling a day ago?"

Reporter Cus Laddie just kept muttering, "Mom, help me, I want to come home.

Layout Editor Melly Cass stood at the wall and screamed, "Take me away, Cages."

This reporter trying to hold his sobriety, sat from the room and went over to GAS's headquarters to talk to the present Emperor.

"There is no hope of reform," this reporter asked. "Just one, Please Emperor Number One." They then removed all worldly goods, and claim total allegiance to GAS.

We'll keep no state privileges in this line, just using GAS with the Committee. If we lose, we lose a 20-year line for human behavior."

Constitutional theme set for the field with the present Miss Hanging being held in the Pub with happy hour held to bring in the crowds. Only one punch from students' punchcards will be needed to get free beer for two hours.

The sight of masses of students is over before being worked on by Dr. "Couns of the Month" Wiltzr, legal wanger.

Good luck guys, see ya, Alkal

Ground making has been taking place at the Flight Line for quite some time now. According to officials close to the source, this is the Flight Line's effort to be constructive. They expect to have the building completed to its original state very shortly.

I don't know if anyone would ever think it was SAC. I really think that with some minor changes the plane could be a great asset to VRAU. I would really appreciate it if a few of you would help me get the plane. Thank you for your comments.

Future managers need ability to change with time

By Bert Kaufmann
Accountant

Prior to addressing the members of the Southeastern Leadership Honors Society, Mr. Craddock, the Director of Industrial Relations for Lockheed, Georgia, stated that one of his major challenges facing the management of aircraft manufacturers and the operations of their companies is helping employees cope with constant change.

Key beliefs that the manager of an aircraft manufacturer should bring to an employee are:

1. View change as a surprise and accept the change as a fact.
2. Change is an individual response, not a group response.
3. Change is a turbulent three-step process.
4. Change is often explained in terms of technological or organizational change.
5. Change is often accompanied by uncertainty and anxiety.
6. Change is often accompanied by resistance and conflict.
7. Change is often accompanied by fear and resistance.
8. Change is often accompanied by fear and resistance.
9. Change is often accompanied by fear and resistance.
10. Change is often accompanied by fear and resistance.

Mr. Craddock also stated that he has learned that change is a fundamental part of any company and that the key to successfully managing change is to recognize that change is a constant and to plan for it.

Crippled Seminole lands flawlessly

On Wednesday afternoon, the Experimental Aircraft Association (EAA) held its annual National Fly-in, which showcased various aircraft, including a seminole, a small, single-engine aircraft. The seminole was flown by pilot John Smith, who had recently landed at Wichita Municipal Airport.

It was reported that the seminole was experiencing difficulties during its landing approach. The pilot was able to correct the situation and land safely, much to the relief of the onlookers.

Gala dinner and Grand Earth, which will raise $5.5 million in local improvements. Gala dinner is a restaurant (name in the Orlando area for their push interior and grand amenities). At this of time General Mills has been given a lease but the deal has not been finalized. Following signing of the lease, construction should begin within several months bringing the airport much needed financial investment.

These developments on airport property are only the tip of the iceberg. As the airport is able to generate more revenue it will be able to implement more of its Master Plan. The formation of the master plan is based on expectations in acres in traffic and called for a new terminal to be built. Traffic since the study has not increased as was expected to concrete measures have not been taken, except for plans to generate more funds. To date the airport is working on the schematics of a new terminal by reviewing the estimating vacant space for expansions, and considering what additional needs would be needed. Final decisions will be made only after everything has been considered and official approval has been given to the project.

Mr. Henry and Dr. Lowery are currently reviewing the plans for the courts. Croft said that though the court had been completed and the plans for the courts had been approved, Croft did admit that with all the other construction projects currently underway on the campus there is a need for some adjustments to be made in order to best utilize the land. The area for the tennis courts currently has already been laid out and is expected to be completed by the end of the month.

Bruce Croft, Director of Facilities Development, suggested that the plans be discussed in order to see if there are any changes that can be made to better suit the needs of the community. Though the courts are not the highest priority, Croft said that "I'm holding the courts will be a key part of the airport project. Costs are protected by the airport's budget, and it is of the utmost importance that the courts be completed as soon as possible, whether or not there is a need for additional features like lights and benches. LSU has been compliance to the project."

The entire Avion staff has taken critical risk of the March 1 front cover of The Avion, an issue marked by the firestorm attack. The staff at the time would like to address these problems and announce some new policies that have readjusted.

The major issue of criticism was directed at a letter to the editor entitled "Human," the letter's author expressed disapproval with Julian P. Glenn's editorial, "The Avion is a member of the Colquitt Press Service." The writer cited some of the letter's problems, which must be pointed out that the next issue is not that of the letter, but that the style of the writing was correct. In the case of the rebuttal, the writer preferred not to have his name printed, thereby allowing no counter-reply to be made.

To extend this: I am working to simplify the statements and actions that we all have to make. The letters that I have written have been received by the staff members of The Avion and have not been submitted to any other publication.

As an editor-in-chief, I must be concerned with the actions that I take. In this case, the action was to write the letter to the editor entitled "Human." The Avion is the only way many students have to express their opinions, and the staff will try to keep censorship down to a minimum.

Delta Chi relaxes

By Geoff Murray

The final week just around the corner. Delta Chi’s social life has been held during the weeks and is no motions during the weekend.

Alumni brothers were out this weekend, but most stayed home in order to catch up on some needed rest and recreation.

However, the pledgees have been busy and are planning a fundraising event this weekend.

This will be chance of a break at the upcoming Spring Formal.

We hope that you will join us in the Delta Chi image.

The best way to win the best of both.

On this coming Wednesday evening there will be held for the Fall Formal, the competition is in some positions is tough, and all the candidates will vote, so do not forget to be at the cast your vote for the man of your choices will be held for the Steppen out...

A look at eating and drinking establishments in the Daytona Beach area.

By Tony Pinto

Entertainment Editor

This week Steppe
ted a little deeper down the ‘flours’ located downstairs in the Travel Leader Hotel. Stated in respect of A.A.A

and Broadway, this bar is a pleasant variation in Daytona’s string of hotel establishments.

The Bar at the Travel Leader Hotel is unlimited in drink and is open from 4 p.m. until early Sunday morning.

As you look out into the crowd of patrons, you wonder what they do like to eat? Do they desire live music for dancing or seek background music to listen to over dinner?

This is the place to be.

The Travel Leader Hotel is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs.

Dobrer, ‘Babor R’ and Dobrer’s duo, who’s golden origins from the 1950’s and 1960’s. During the course of an evening, among other things, you have heard the same music river, but with 70,000 records to choose from, that barely happens.

‘Babor R.’ is a 12-bar who knows when to stop talking and start playing.

We’ve never been a man for forgets you there to listen to music in himself. Taking a Janet down memory lane could never be more nostalgic.

You’ll find a mix of the finest bottles and a broad range of E.R.AU students who claim to be dedicated regulars. It’s really no surprise if you expected the Montesa some years ago and seek an environment for the greatest recreation of those days.

One of the problems a bar like the Encounter is space limitation. It’s good if you want to meet someone, you have no choice when it’s allowed. In contrast, it is bad in the respect that if you wish to be alone, you may find it a little crowded. Drinking is another story and should be approached by those with a high tolerance for alcohol.

Drinks prices are commensurate with size and it’s treat to have some special attention because you’re from Florida. With quite a few bars moving towards electronic achievements in bartending, it’s nice to see one back in the saddle and proud of it. Being able to serve you straight without an order is what makes us happy, as though they’re happy to serve you. Specials abound and if you mention you’re from E.R.AU, you’ll get the red carpet treatment.

Whether you’re an onlooker or someone looking for a new crutch or encountering the bar is a bar to keep coming back and meet some friends.

Until next week.

National League; Expos look strong in '82 season

With the major league baseball season just around the corner, I thought it would be a good idea to present my views on the upcoming season. The strike last year left a bad taste in many people's mouths. Many baseball enthusiasts are looking to this year to get past the strike and enjoy a game with a few less political ramifications. The new strike format has been in favor in the past few years and it will be interesting to see how well it works now that the strike lines have been officially erased. With that said, I'll be looking at the senior league of baseball, the National League. The teams were very close last year and the season should remain very close this year.

The National League's Western Division owns the championship of baseball from last season. The Los Angeles Dodgers finally grabbed the brain ring and gave their fans a reason to believe this year. Unfortunately I do not before they can repeat this performance this year. The Dodgers, as a team club and they might not repeat last year. Fernando Valenzuela was the darling of baseball for the first half of the season but failed to impress on the second half after the strike. While having seven wins and only two losses in the first half of the season, they will only six and six in the second. Davey Lopes has been shipped off to the San Diego Padres and the Dodgers will have to dig in and find some replacements in the already weakened lineup. They should finish second behind the Atlanta Braves.

I know, I picked the Braves last year. They really did have a good team. They just had a few injuries and couldn't get it going. New manager Joe Torre may just be the difference the club needs to get back on top. The Braves definitely have the hitting power with Dessieu, Henderson, Carter and White. The defense should be on the same level as last year. The starters are strong. The pitching crew is still fairly strong. The rotation will consist of Dave Stieb, Tom Glavine, and John Smoltz. The bullpen will be led by John Landry, John Franco, and John Smoltz. The infield will be led by John Olerud, Dale Murphy, and Fernando Tatangelo. The outfield will be led by Chris Speier, John Wetteland, and Mark Lemke. This team will be very strong this year.

The Cincinnati Reds were among their own Glaziers this year. They just added trades and have a lot of exciting young talent. This year. Good guys go out to see George Foster, Ken Griffey, Ken Griffey Jr., and Cal Ripken. The Reds are just the team to watch this year. They have a lot of young talent and they will be very exciting to watch.

In the National League West, the Cincinnati Reds are probably the best team in the league. The San Francisco Giants, Los Angeles Dodgers, and Atlanta Braves are all very close and will be very exciting to watch.

The San Francisco Giants have added a lot of young talent to the team this year. This season has been filled with new players and it is shaping up to be a very exciting season. Lenny Dykstra, Del entrance, Frank Robinson, and Will Clark have all added to the lineup. The starting rotation will consist of John Sampras, Matt Williams, and Will Clark. The bullpen will be led by Matt Williams, Ray Knight, and Dave LaRoche. The Giants have a lot of young talent and they will be very exciting to watch.

The Los Angeles Dodgers have added a lot of young talent to the team this year. They have added new players like Steve Finley, Gabe Kapler, and Eric Karros. The Dodgers have a lot of young talent and they will be very exciting to watch.

The Atlanta Braves have added a lot of young talent to the team this year. They have added new players like Chipper Jones, Andruw Jones, and Greg Maddux. The Braves have a lot of young talent and they will be very exciting to watch.

Alpha Eta Rho rallies to second place finish

The members of Alpha Eta Rho showed that teamwork and sportsmanship really mean during their Week. They did an excellent job of cooperating and when the odds were against them they held together and came back with everything they had. Alpha Eta Rho started out slow during the beginning of the week, placing fourth in both intramural and interfraternity events, but began to turn the tide during the middle of the week.

The frisbee throw and engineering egg toss events were in first place in the overall standings when, because Delta Chi complained about not understanding the rules of the egg toss event, the engineering egg toss was called over to give Delta Chi enough time to prepare for the event. When the event took place for the second time, Alpha Eta Delta lost with an almost perfect showing leaving Alpha Chi in first place.

Several weeks ago at the frisbee throw, Alpha Chi lost in the top ten, first in the second event, third in the third, and fifth in the forth. This week they wound up with the chickens and placed third in the overall standings.

This week's intramural events included a football game between Alpha Eta Rho and Alpha Chi. The men were so close that they had to go to extra time to determine the winner. The final score was 3-3, giving Alpha Chi the victory.

Preparation of Alpha Eta Delta was also quite impressive in the overall standings when they wound up with the chickens and placed third in the overall standings.
