VALENTINES DANCE CANCELLED

For those who haven't heard, the dance has been canceled. Yes I made a very large, very bad mistake which snow-balled. It now threatens the Social Functions Committee, the SGA and our standing in the entertainment community. To those people let me say its my mistake and mine alone. My deepest apologies. To those people who frantically tried to get a ticket, my thanks. I feel grateful that you tried and regret that our efforts were not more successful. I believe that it's deplorable that the SGA was forced to cancel...
This past weekend six ERAU students, Ann Irving, Hank Cothran, Jim Quinn, Bob Duden, Ollie Gagne, and Mike Leonard, represented the Soviet and Albanian Delegations at the Auburn University Model United Nations. They came back with a second place award for performance in the Security Council (Soviet Delegation) and Honorable Mention in the General Assembly (Albanian Delegation). On behalf of the Student Government Association, congratulations to these students for their superior performance.

We again are running into a small problem with damage to vending machines on campus. The damage is primarily occurring during the late evening hours and is resulting in extensive cost for repair to this machinery. The only way we can maintain any type of vending facility on campus is for you the students to make use of this machinery in the appropriate manner. Do not fight with the machines.

During the past few weeks, we have had several fellow students arrested for use or distribution of drugs. I think it is to your benefit to consider the consequences of drug use they can possibly do to your future. Don't get involved in any way with drugs.

Any university-associated club or organization can make use of the university buses for field trips. For further information, contact the SGA office.

It is my displeasure to inform all students that the Valentine's dance scheduled for the 12th of February has been cancelled. The reasons for this are too extensive to put in this article. The new Social Functions Chairman will be setting up a dance with a possible Valentine's theme within the next two weeks. Thank you for your understanding.

FRANK A. MAYER
SGA PRESIDENT

The word was passed and naturally the last to receive it was the AVION. Seven of our comrades were locked up for illegal purchase and possession of alcoholic beverages. According to Florida law, the clerk who made the sales has been charged too. Dean Spears has asked that this information be made known with hope that care will be taken by the under 21 students. The Daytona season has just started, and the local police forces will be on the toes, so to avoid any hassles, just stay out of their way.

Now that ERAU finally has what might be considered a professional newspaper, some interest might be generated from the students in our planning committee continues, enrollment may be down again next year. No University can grow when the yearly admissions are decreasing. It only seems apparent that the cafeteria facilities we do not have are slowly choking our future. Some kind of arrangement should be made now, especially in the light of the loss of Dorm II.

As you might take note, the AVION has a new column entitled "Dining Out". Consider this and then think about the need for such an article if ERAU had dining facilities. In actuality, no plans have been made for a cafeteria in the near future. If this short sightedness on the part of our planning committee continues, enrollment may be down again next year. No University can grow when the yearly admissions are decreasing. It only seems apparent that the cafeteria facilities we do not have are slowly choking our future. Some kind of arrangement should be made now, especially in the light of the loss of Dorm II.

There is no truth to the rumor that Dorm 1 has been changed to "Herbie Hall".
STRATEGY FOR PEACE

The highest priority of my Administration is to bring about an era of peace and prosperity by pursuing this goal through partnership with our allies. Military strength and deterrence are not adequate to prevent aggression, negotiate solutions with those who have different goals, or achieve our national security objectives.

We seek peace to reduce the human suffering that is an inevitable part of war. With peace we can release resources and energies that can be used to improve the quality of life everywhere. We have accomplished much of this high purpose during the past three years, especially as a result of the Vietnamization program.

South Vietnamese forces have assumed the responsibility for ground combat operations. Vietnamization is moving forward to other areas as well. As a result:
1) U.S. casualties due to hostilities have been averaging less than 10 per week, as compared with 300 per week in 1966.
2) The authorized troop level in South Vietnam will have been reduced from 549,500 in January 1969 to 69,000 as of May 1, 1972; and
3) Draft calls have been reduced from a Vietnam war high of 382,000 to 94,000 in calendar year calls.

Negotiations with the Soviet Union on strategic arms limitations are progressing. The United States has reached with NATO members on a five-year plan to strengthen their defenses, with a substantial increase in their financial contribution.

Security assistance programs are being planned with a view toward better coordinating them with our over-all security effort. In some cases, this may permit additional reductions in U.S. manpower needs over time.

Our efforts toward peace have not been-and will not be-at the expense of our military strength. Indeed, measures to maintain that strength are a vital part of our peace efforts. Accordingly, this budget proposes a substantial increase in defense programs to provide for the following improvements:
1) Additional resources for our strategic forces to increase emphasis on sea-based strategic deterrent force and to continue modernization of present offensive and defensive forces; and
2) A major increase in shipbuilding, reflecting the high priority I place upon modernizing our naval forces; a sizable increase in research and development to assure continuation of our technological superiority; and
3) New equipment, higher manpower levels, and further training to improve the ability of the National Guard and Reserves to supplement the Active Forces; and
4) Continued development and procurement of more effective systems for the land and tactical air forces; and
5) A major effort to achieve an all-volunteer force. Toward this end, a career in the Armed Forces was made more attractive by doubling the basic pay of first time enlistees in Nov. 1971. Other increases in military pay are

The Delta Chi Region 9 conference was held last weekend at the Delta Chi chapter at the University of Florida. Delegates from all over the southeast came and Mike Harvey, Bob Levinson, Greg Lawton, Tom Tompson, Dennis Gerle and you truly, Ed Fusco headed the Embry-Riddle delegation. The various aspects of fraternity problems were discussed and much valuable information was learned.

Pledge initiation was last Friday also. Fifty-five initiated and the names will appear next issue.

The softball team has faithfully been practicing and scrimmaged last Sunday. Coach Lawton look ready for the first game this Sunday.

In anticipation of our chartering next month, Delta Chi's Executive Secretary came to Daytona Beach to visit our colony last Monday and Tuesday. Dr. F. Kenneth Brasted, '37, University of Florida, who was president of the Gainsville Chapter in 1936 and has been at Delta Chi, for years helped with final preparations and now we're set for the chartering banquet to be held March 11. Many thanks to Dr. Brasted who traveled from the Delta Chi National Headquarters in Iowa City, Iowa to our colony. He told us of the problems of the present day and how we must face as though your children were in the other car.

See ya next week.

Lambda Chi Alpha

After much preparation and excellent teamwork, our house was looking great, fully ready for our Smoker on the 3rd. This was a formal stag party where everybody came in couples. We were all ready and asked questions about Lambda Chi Alpha. The following evening was our long-awaited Rush Party. With nearly 25 girls decorating our house, the evening was easily a great success with couples in every corner.

Our new Associate Brothers are to be congratulated into joining our newly formed ranks. These men have the distinction of being the first pledge class in our chapter, and a large responsibility will fall on their capable shoulders. They are: Brian Fralin, Chuck Shank, Bruce Leep, Tony Margiotta, John Collins, Ben Suydam, Tip Fuller, Ray Hanson, Rudy Ortiz, and Bill Brown. We of Lambda Chi Alpha welcome you into our fast-growing social fraternity on campus and look forward to many happy moments, building a strong brotherhood and lasting friendship.

Sunday, the 6th, our first official meeting was opened by our recently elected President Bill Ryan. With Vice President Ed Bular, Secretary Les Williams, and Treasurer Stan Payne backing him up, Bill got right down to business. The Associate Brothers were introduced, the operations and goals of the eight-week pledge education program and even given their distinctive pledge buttons. Each of the officers spoke briefly to the brothers, and plans for future activities were discussed. We then adjourned our meeting and headed for Stetson and our Lambda Chi Brothers there. We had a barbecue chicken and beer party, climaxad by a very busy and happy weekend.

HAVE YOU CONSIDERED THE ARMY ROTC 2-YEAR PROGRAM??

This program affords the junior college graduate an opportunity to earn a commission as an Army Officer upon graduation from a four-year college. To make a good thing better, you receive $100 per month as well as a draft deferment while in the program. Those who are interested are also eligible to participate in the ROTC flight training during their senior year. You might also want to investigate the possibility of a two-year scholarship which would pay all expenses except room and board.

ROTC trains you for leadership in civilian occupations as well as military. Be among the best!!

FRANK MAYER GIVES AWARD

Alpha Rho Omega received a plaque from Student Body President Frank Mayer at the Feb.2 meeting. This plaque was in recognition of the fraternity's outstanding efforts during the fall blood drive. After the presentation, Mr. Mayer opened a question and answer period. The question of most concern to students dealt with the facts surrounding the expiring lease on Dorm Two. In April those students will be forced into Dorm One or elsewhere. FLASH! We were also informed of a planned Career Day for sometime in March. Many different employment possibilities will be presented through field representatives.

Alpha Rho Omega's contributions to ERU politics now included Skip Dawson, who was elected sonic class secretary, and Steve Ward and Kim Morris as A&P senators.

The Rush Party on Feb.4th was a tremendous success. The Starlight Room of the Carousel Motel was the scene of the latest "HOME" movies. The most well received portrayed a "Woman Walking Her Dog." Dinner included beer and pizza.

All those interested in joining Alpha Rho Omega and those who did not sign the list at the rush party, contact Norm Henkel, ERAU Box 781.

Remarks an airplane pilot gets tired of hearing:

"Is it much harder to drive an airplane than it is a truck?"

"Ooooh, he looks so military in his uniform. I don't know whether to kiss him or salute him."

"I suppose you guys are just like sailors and have a girl or two in every port."

"When you pass over Omaha, would you mind circling around it a few times? My son Rodney was born there, but he's never seen it from the air."

"You jet pilots get paid so much these days it's a wonder more of you don't buy airplanes and go into business for yourself—like cab drivers do."

"What do you mean you don't think I should have a third drink before dinner? Why I have at least three drinks before I reach for a cup of coffee every morning."

GOODYEAR

The Goodyear Blimp will arrive at the Academic Complex on Thursday, Feb. 17. The area marked on the map below will be blocked off. All students are requested to keep their cars clear of this area as long as the Blimp is being docked in that area. Thank you for your cooperation.

DINING OUT

The Avion’s new look and expanding editorial policies has given birth to this column—a guide to eating in and around Daytona Beach. It will be published weekly (finances permitting) and will attempt to guide ERAU students and friends away from the tourist traps and into the few decent restaurants that the area offers.

The Beef and Bottle was visited this week. Starting with possibly the best restaurant in town will undoubtedly cause the next few restaurants to seem humble by comparison, but we will try to stay objective.

The Beef and Bottle is the type of place to take a date. 7:30 is loaded with intimate atmosphere and discreet waiters (they must have thought my wife was my girlfriend). We had drinks and they were up to standards (big and strong). The salad bar was next; and a half helping ourselves to all the salad, tomatoes, olives, and dressing (even the乙ogurt) we could fix. I was ready to go home after the salad, but we decided to stick around and have the Prime Rib we had already ordered. It’s a good thing we did because it was fantastic. It arrived with a mammoth baked potato—my eyes were bigger than any I’ve ever had anywhere; the wife and I both carried home a doggy bag. Quality and flavor were equal to quantity. We found out later that the owner, John Welch, flies the meat in from Colorado and cuts it himself... thus giving the customer the best piece of beef around.

We wandered around after dinner (very slowly). We found out later that the owner, John Welch, flies the meat in from Colorado and cuts it himself... thus giving the customer the best piece of beef around.

RICK MITZ

His press kit contains a large glossy photo, a four-page bio, ten newspaper articles about him, and twelve yellow "33 and 1/3"-cent Randy Newman Reprise stamps. Representing the latest work of an artist of 1971, the press kit offers: Randy Newman. And then the adjectives spew out: "the finest," "great," "best pop singer," "a major star," "a pure delight," "mind-bending" and on and on and on until one wonders.

Do you stop reading now? You may not have heard Randy Newman, but this Newman is a new man on the composing and singing scene and, as much as he'll fight it, Randy Newman probably will live up to all those adjectives, the four-page bio and about ten nail-biting stamps.

The writer of such popular songs as "Mama Told Me Not To Come," "I'll Be Home," and "Thinkin' 'Bout You," Newman -- an owlish-looking 28-year-old -- was making the rounds of the college circuit recently.

On stage he's meek and mumbled humble, muttering an occasional "What would you like to hear?" or "This is a song I wrote". He's unpretentious almost to the point of being pretentious. But not quite. He ends the quiet, hour-long Randy Newman song fest with a quick and quiet "goodbye" and the audience loves him. Finally, when he sings them, those strange lyrics make sense.

So what does he know and/or like? "All I care about is how I'm writing. It's so much the main thing that the rest of the stuff isn't important. I'll look at the record sales figures and there's James Taylor out there and there I am down there. But it isn't a big thing."

"What do you do in your spare time?"

"I stick pins in my little doll of James Taylor."

"What do you spend your money on?"

"Pins."

And then he laughs -- no, cackles -- because none of this is serious. Except when he's writing his music -- "which matters nothing else matters. He's putting me on and he's putting himself on. And man and everyone should just leave him alone and let him write. He laughs at me, fortune and stardom because they don't exist for him. His manner and his music want us to remember that he's just Plain Folk Like You And Like Me. But what if he ever becomes a superstar?"

"I won't let it happen. I'll do the wrong thing. I'll mess a-round. I won't work. I'll make a bad album. You know."

Don't believe him. His music is important to him. His songs have been recorded by Judy Collins, Helen Reddy, Barbra Streisand, Harry Nilsson, Ella Fitzgerald and himself on three Newman Sings Newman albums. And who interprets R.N. the best? Simple answer: "I do."

Every once in a while a kind phrase slips out like "It's flattering to see those people coming to my concerts" -- but he quickly checks himself with some flippancy remark. "I have no friends," he said dramatically. "There are just fans."

His lilting bulbay-escalate melodies have an undertone of menacing macabre. His music is a coy combination of black and white humor, cynical satire and small town nostalgia, presented in gentle character sketches that range from down home naivete to "All In The Family" set to music. His songs are short and semi sweet. He writes about the Yellow Man "eating rice all day/while the children play...he keeps his money tight in his hand/with his yellow woman he's a yellow man". Or, "Sister Sue, she's short and stout/she didn't grow up, she grew out/Mama says she's plain, but she's just being kind/Papa thinks she's pretty, but he's almost blind/Didn't I tell her out much 'cept at night?/I don't care 'cause I'm alright.

And a middle-American love story: "We met one summer evening as the sun was going down/she was lying on the beach in her graduation down...they sent her to high school, they sent her to low school, she just wouldn't go no further."

Off-stage, Newman is shy and yet brash; meek yet mouthy; evasive and abrasive. "When I have a choice between saying something or not saying something, I don't talk at all," he said at the beginning of our interview. "I don't like reading about myself and I don't like listening to myself. I don't know who buys my records, I don't know who sees my concerts, I don't know what my appeal is."

The interview is over. And his songs take over where he left off. Like this one I heard him sing at the end of the concert. "I've been around this world, had my pick of any girl, you think I'd be happy, but I'm not. Everybody knows my name, but it's just a crazy game."

Oh, it's lonely at the top. Listen, all you fools out there. Go on and love me, I don't care, Oh, it's lonely at the top. "Goodnight."
Peace

Lasting peace is a quality of mind and heart; it is not a state of political affairs. Peace cannot be legislated. It cannot be forced. It evolves in the human heart when one’s knowledge and understanding of man rise to superior levels of consciousness.

When we first can live at peace with ourselves, we then learn to live at peace with others. As more and more humans gain personal inner peace, more and more humans will live at peace with one another. If you have found that inner peace, you are radiating peace to others and in this way you do a great deal to bring about world peace.

In time, great numbers of people will be living side by side in peace and friendliness (alive or dead). Peace begets peace. The peacemaker is the salt of the earth—not loud nor disorderly—but an example of peace and contentment. The man of noble heart walks quietly and is at peace with himself and all living things.

GRADUATION POLICY CHANGE

The following changes in the policy concerning student participants in graduation. There will be three graduation ceremonies each year—April, August, December. Only those students who have completed all the requirements for graduation will participate. Participation in the graduation ceremonies is required to receive a diploma. A graduate may apply for graduation in absentia to the Dean of Student's office, and if approved, his diploma will be mailed to him. Students completing degree requirements in June will participate in the August ceremonies. However, in order to accommodate June graduates in 1972 who had anticipated participating in the April ceremonies, those students will have a choice to participate in either the April or August ceremonies this year only. All those who wish to participate in the April ceremonies must apply at the Registrar's office by Feb.

Who did you vote for in the SGA elections?

I don’t remember his name, but he was the one who had the girl posters in the men’s room.

MINI-STOCK RACES

As the racing season is upon us and cars dot the landscape all over the nation, I would like to enlighten you on the mini-stock aspect of racing. The mini-stock division is a fast growing type of racing due to the low cost of getting started and building a car.

First for those that don’t know, a mini-stock is a small import sedan: no sports cars, no American cars. The most common cars used are VW’s, Volvos, and Anglias. For national competition they are limited to 1600cc’s and only one carburetor allows just about anything.

As I am directly connected with last year’s champion, I would like to promote our sport. We will return to defend our title on Fri., Feb. 11th, Sat. the 12th, and Monday the 14th and Tuesday the 15th. The races will be held each evening over Memorial Stadium here in Daytona. The program will consist of feature races with the Daytona 50 on Tuesday night which pays $500.00 to the winner.

Defending his championship from last year will be Dave Decker from Elmhurst, Illinois driving a VW number 32. If Elmhurst sounds familiar, that’s where Fred Lorenzen comes from. We all know Freddie. Dave Oldenburg built the car as more or less a novelty back in 1968 and then proceeded to take the track championship at Joliet, Ill., the national championship at Tampa, Fla. In 1970 he made it there in a row at Joliet and took the championship at Raceway Park in Blue Island, Illinois. In 1972 he took top Daytona series and dropped to second at Joliet.

Everything is shaping up for a repeat performance this year as the crew has been preparing the car for the past two months. Come on out to the stadium and see if we can beat off the rednecks for another year. Stop by the car after the races and tell us you’re from Riddle. We will be happy to know we have some friends on our side.

Pratt & Whitney, West Palm Beach, has informed me of several openings for Engineering Assistants. Basically, they are interested in students who have completed requirements for an Associate in Science degree in Aeronautical Engineering Technology, or Aircraft Maintenance Engineering Technology.

Mr. E. Lowell Chrisman, Chairman, Division of Aviation Management; Dean John Spears, Dean of Men; and Barbara A. House, Placement Officer are members of the recently established committee for Cooperative Education. We will be on campus from February 14 - 15 at the Student Center.

ROTC PROBLEM
by Steve Barbour
The administration has done it again... there is going to be an ROTC unit on our campus beginning with the fall '72 trimester. The reason behind this move can only be guessed.

Why should a colonel, captain, and two sergeants be opposed to the most obviously anti-military atmosphere in the entire south? No one is thinking about the affect this will have on their families and personal morale; it could result in permanent mental (physical) damage.

The administration probably can't emphasize with the situation because (as everyone knows) none of them has ever been in the service. A check around school revealed that the only veterans are two APG students, but no dispersion should be cast upon them; their discharge was under dishonorable conditions - good show boys!

Everyone remembers that Veteran creep who was here last trimester (the guy who answered the roll with "Here SIR"). We showed him what we thought during the demonstrations last March - June. The bum tried to break the picket line almost every day for a week.

Honor has it that the ERAU Chapter of the SDS is planning a "warm" reception for the ROTC kids this fall. Do the 4910s a favor this time guys and don't throw incendiaries at the reporters - the editor is still griping about the truck and two cameras we lost last time.

So, good luck ROTC... you're expecting the worst we know, but you don't know just how bad it is here at ERAU.

keep you informed as we make progress in this area.
Time sheets for student payroll must be in the Placement Office no later than 4:30 PM on Monday, Feb. 14, 1972 for processing for this pay period. Cooperation by all those involved is appreciated.
DANCE REBUTTAL!

Yes, the dance has been canceled and Jim Owen does take full blame. But is it right to nail him to the cross because of one error? It is my opinion that he does not have to take full responsibility for the cancellation.

We could have had a dance this weekend from information I received. It would not have been in the Grand Ball Room but in the basement of the Plaza Hotel. It may not have the beautiful carpet or hanging chandeliers, but it is cheaper. The money saved by having it in the "bargain basement" could have been used to spruce up the place.

So when you have to find something to do Saturday night after you made your plans, remember one thing...Jim Owen did not have the last word in the affair. Elected officials of the SGA did.
