PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES' VIEWS

OWEN - IRVING

Team

Jim Owen thanks you for this opportunity to give his qualifications and views for the office of president of the SGA. His qualifications go back a long way. While in high school he became involved in opening a new school, helping to start the student government, to start projects to complete the campus, and to develop traditions. His first trimester at ERAU he became involved in the Dorm Council. The next trimester he was elected to the senate.

In the last year in the student government, he headed many committees, fought numerous battles, and helped reform the SGA into a powerful voice on behalf of the undergraduates at ERAU.

OPEN OFFICE

The SGA office is now closed to all students except the senators and officers. Jim believes the function of a student government office is to give the students a place to air their gripes and to make suggestions. If Jim is elected president of the SGA on Wednesday, the students will be open to any student of ERAU.

MEETINGS

As president, he has advocated open meetings since joining the student government, and has resolutions in committee to help accomplish this.

PARKING

There is nothing any president can do about the parking situation as it now stands. The solution to the problem is to increase the academic complex in progress as fast as the county is willing. The property for the new ramp will be sold by the University administration during the spring term.

The major problem is not the academic complex but near the student center and A & P complex. This problem is unsolvable until the new buildings are built. No policy by any president will add more than a handful of spaces to those now available.

As president, he will request that no parking near the student center be made into a ten minute parking for those who need to check their mail.

HARVARD INVITE

Embry-Riddle was invited by Harvard University to attend its model U.N. At present, however, no funds are available to accept the award winning team.

If last spring the social chairman saved enough from social functions to buy a car for a door prize at a dance, he could have saved enough to accept this prestigious invitation.

INFORMATION

A new service should be started by the SGA to give information to those students who arrive before orientation or during the trimester. These people needing to know housing, have been shunted around and given no information. As a student government we need to serve all the students, old or new.

Committee to Elect Jim Owen & Ann Irving to SGA President and Vice President

Owen - Irving.nominee for treasurer of the SGA would like to see better information turned to the students. Jim, a past president of the Vet's Association and now the manager of the Used Bookstore feels fully qualified to take over the treasury. He is now enrolled in A & P and promises to have better representation for the A & P section.

The team as a whole would like to fight for better representation of the student needs. The students in the flight line, A & P, and academics all have special needs and the team would have people from each of these areas to represent them. They feel the need for improvement in areas of parking, shuttle service for dorm students, and better rapport between student problems and the problem solvers. They would like to see better recognition of Embry-Riddle graduates. By working as a team, these four men will work to address these issues.

Jim Dailey, nominee for vice-president, is currently enrolled in Aviation Management. He holds an active interest in student activities.

He knows what he is getting involved in and has strong feelings for a better communication between the student body and administration. Mr. Woodward, a past A & P pilot would like to see better relations between the airlines and ERAU.

Bill Medley, nominee for the position of secretary, an Aviation Management student wants to see a strong SGA that will be representative of the student body.

Ken Woodward, the instructing pilot on the flight line has a chance to see and feel the problems in this area, and promises to see corrections made.

REMAIN - LEONARD

Team

I have just decided to run for the presidency of the SGA. My qualifications and experience have been a student at ERAU since August 1971 and an employee of the university in August 1973. I have served as a senator for two trimesters in the SGA and have been active as an Executive Board member, a Social Functions chairman, and am presently serving as the student representative to the athletic council.

My vice president Mike Leonard is currently the student council's justice of the peace and is without a doubt the best person to conduct the senate. He has represented ERAU at model U.N.'s at Auburn University and the University of South Alabama. Embry-Riddle received awards for outstanding performances at both of these conferences. Mike is also our present representative on the University's personnel board and the academic policies committee.

STEENBOCK - WOODWARD

Team

Stan Steenbock, nominee for president of the SGA has asked for support for himself and the Team. The Team consists of Stan Steenbock, Ken Woodward, Bill Medley, Jim Dailey. Stan, our present acting president, has a multitude of experience in SGA affairs. He is presently enrolled in the A & P program and is willing to represent both academics and flight line students and will be representative in these areas.

Ken Woodward, nominee for vice-president, is presently enrolled in Aviation Management. He holds an active interest in student activities. He wants to get involved and has strong feelings for a better communication between the student body and administration. Mr. Woodward, a past A & P pilot would like to see better relations between airlines companies and ERAU.

Bill Medley, nominee for the position of secretary, an Aviation Management student wants to see a strong SGA that will be representative of the student body. Bill, an instructor on the flight line, has a chance to see and feel the problems in this area, and promises to see corrections made.

The Student Government Association plays a major role at ERAU. These men and women of the organization are charged with bringing about the coordination of all those involved with Embry-Riddle. I would like to present to you today why I am nominating these men as candidates for the presidency of the SGA.

These carefully are aware of their capabilities and plans, and don't hesitate to approach them with any questions or suggestions.

6GA President's Corner

Another week ended with activities coming up this weekend; namely, the SGA Barbecue. My social functions chairperson, George Merian, tells me that this will be the biggest fish fry our school has ever had and promised to have plenty of soda to drink. An exiting parachute demonstration by E-RAU's Sports Parachute Club will also highlight the barbecue. The demonstration will take place at approximately 1:45 pm. The elections are drawing near and the deadline for petitions is today. To get and new voters candidates you must familiarize yourself with the issues. There are still slots open in Air Science and A & P. Become involved! Run for the Senate.

I was happy to have some good news for the Dorm 1 residents. During the next several weeks construction will begin for a recreation room and a snack bar adjacent to dorm 1. I hope this will help relieve somewhat of the plight in Dorm 1.

At a recent trip to Valdosta State College, Orlando, I represented our SGA at a Volunteer Services Fair. Its purpose was to promote a regional volunteer service bureau. My own feelings about this project are that the E-RAU SGA has done and is doing their part in the community.

Congratulations to Ray Brown (A & P) and William Moosley (W) on their appointments as Student Court Justices.

I regret to inform you that my statement in last week's AYDQ concerning our residence center in Germany was a bit premature. As of now, classes at the German residence center will begin November 6, 1971.

The intramural teams have informed me that the intramural flag football season is now in full swing. Come out and support your favorite team.

That about wraps it up for this week's message.

Your President,

Stan Steenbock

Bigot's News

Our Marshal of Man-kind's moral universe running out of time. The full-blown feather brain has four more months to dish out the smut and filth he sees in the movies. The son of a minister seems only corruption and evilness is everyone, excluding only the core of deviants who condone him. He has turned a possible licentious activity into a maddening.

After expending on the unworkable and unpunishable programs to get his nomination secured, he tried to sell them to the public. But the right-thinking public isn't buying his comic rot.

The misfit and his crew of deviants are all too late. They belong to the "spend ourselves broke" and "concede to the command" era of the Johnson administration, the man most responsible for putting a repudiation on Pennsylvania Avenue.

I hope George isn't really planning to move in! It looks though the present occupant will be signing another four year lease.

WHY VOTE AT ERAU

Next Wednesday morning the polls will open on campus for a number of SGA positions. There are four candidates running for the office of the president, with many senator positions. "But why should I take a minute or so of my precious time to vote in a school election?" For several important reasons.

First, the outcome of the elections effects each student personally. Some candidates will work for you while others will do whatever they feel like doing at that time. Check the previous records of those running for office and see if they have a background.

Secondly, the university's building plans are constantly in a state of flux, usually with student ideas and wishes being the last thing considered. A good example is the parking problem. A strong president and senate could straighten out many of our problems but the right people must be chosen for this position of responsibility.

Finally, unlike a national election, a few votes can make a drastic difference. As far as four votes could tip the scale the other way. So please, take time next Wednesday and vote for the person who will best represent you.

Jai Alai: Everything You Ever Wanted To Know

by Joe Green

The History

Most students are new to Daytona Beach, Florida, and probably don't know a pelota from a cesta. Actually they are the bat and the ball used in baseball. But, just what is jai-alai, and where did it start?

The Basilians and Mayan Indians are thought to have originated the game. The sport, as we know it now, started about five hundred years ago in the Pyrenees mountains.

Basque peasants, working from dawn to dark, six days a week, used Sundays as their day of recreation. They had contests, throwing a ball against a wall of the village church.

The playing court. Then it is in play, with each team taking turns to return the ball against the front wall. The ball must not touch the net, or fly out of bounds, or be caught by a player.

The Cesta

The cesta is a curved basket strapped to the player's wrist. The frame is of Spanish chestnut wood, and the imported reed is strapped.

The Peleota

The pelota is about three-quarters the size of a baseball. It is light and bounces as high as a golf ball, and often reaches speeds in excess of 150 miles an hour. Made of fiber glass, it has a 14-inch circumference, and costs $4.00.

The Court

The court is 9,600 square feet of playing area (400 feet long, 50 feet wide, and 40 feet high). There are walls on three sides and a screen on the fourth to separate the spectators from the players. The front wall is made of 12 inch thick granite locks, each weighing ten tons.

The Best Part

Jai-alai is played indoors in air conditioned comfort. There are bars, cocktail waitresses, and pari-mutual wagering. That's right, you bet on jai-alai, just like a horse or dog race. Even if you don't bet, it only costs $3.50 cents to get in, parking is free, and it's exciting.

The ETA Iota chapter of the Sigma Chi International social fraternity will be holding their fall rush for new members starting September 22, at 7:30 P.M. 520 South Ridgehome. You are invited to attend.
SOCCER SEASON BEGINS

Emory-Riddle, vastly depleted by graduation, enthusiastically opens its 1972 soccer season September 23 against a strong Marymount College team.

The game will be played at Marymount College in Boca Raton.

There are only three players returning from last year's undefeated squad (11-0). As well as being conference champs, Emory-Riddle was ranked seventh in the nation when the season ended.

Any team this may have a national ranking should have some support from the student body that is represents. Go out and win a few games.

Captain Gary Haupt said, "Despite all of our inexperience, I'm sure we'll have a fine season." Haupt would make no further predictions, however.

Sigma Phi Delta
by Mark Derendorf

Things are looking up for Sigma Phi Delta this term. Pete is throwing pledges at us right and left, and can we use them (oh, how we use them). Brett is the newly elected house manager (well, we don't really manage this trite as "house to the grindsaltone"). We hope to make our house the beat on campus through the help of our gifted brothers, eager pledges, and cool Schlitz.

Congratulations to Chase, who resigns again as chief engineer.

Every house should have a kick, and the mighty Sigma Phi is no exception. His name is Rebel (what else)? Ordinarily, one can find him bending over his darting board, turning out a wing structure (or a dirty picture). Come football time, however, our quiet, studious Atlantans turn into the Superstar Quarterback, object of admiration by thousands of girls and the target of mayhem by a few blood-thirsty rabble. But does any of this affect his grades? I'm not sure, but what can you say about a guy who went from living in a box to being a kick ass Quarterback?

All seriousness aside, however, aren't things a little fast and loose in the parking lot? Even the love bugs have trouble deciding which car to martyrize themselves on. And to you guys on cycles, I wouldn't be worried just about love bugs, if you know what I mean. Put a blue flasher on your bike and you shouldn't have any trouble.
