New Registration Changes

The Registrar’s Office is considering several changes for increased flexibility. The questionnaires recently distributed are to provide initial information for a computer change-over from G. E. to Computer. The data will be used to calculate statistical totals to facilitate administrative responsibilities.

It is possible that pre-registration will be eliminated. Middle currently operates under eight separate registration periods; this is time consuming and costly.

In addition, a student pre-registering for the full term in the spring may be forced to overhaul his schedule if he fails a course during the summer term. Students who pre-register also don’t have the opportunity to sign up for examinations during the registration period.

The eternal cashier’s line may be shortened by pre-registration. If a suitable system can be developed, this would save time for everyone, but complications involving guaranteed tuition, etc., would require a highly organized program.

This spring, the minimum credit hours for full-time status will be lowered from 14 to 12 hours. There will be no maximum.

The student who can manage a heavy schedule will not have to pay extra. To adjust the 12-hour minimum to present tuition, costs per credit hour must increase to $53.

Congressman Chappell Visits Campus

Congressman William Chappell, incumbent U.S. Representative from this District, toured the Embry-Riddle Campus Friday morning Sept. 22 and in the process was able to meet many of the staff, faculty and students.

An ex-Navy pilot, Mr. Chappell is Dr In Link trainer in which he exhibited his piloting ability.

Mr. Chappell was of great assistance to ERAU in a new Air Force ROTC Training Program on Campus.

Mr. Chappell owns and flies his own airplane between his Washington office and the District he represents.

Library To Be Moved Over Christmas Break

This Christmas break the library will move to the downtown west side of A-Building, utilizing classrooms and offices from room 110 to 172. Jack Hunt states that since this is going to be a temporary move and since the removable walls aren’t easily removed, the library will try to operate with the walls they are at present. If proven disastrous, most of the halls will come down.

This catalogue will be extended to all students in the fall term. The present main library building will be converted into classroom and office space for use by the Air Force A.O.T.C.

Richard Reimann and Leonard capture SGA

Richard Reimann on the top position in the SGA obtaining 45.7 per cent of the vote, while his opponent cast 19.5 per cent. The closest candidate was Charles Reimann with 31.4 per cent.

Michael Leonard took the vice-presidential slot with 46.1 per cent, a clear victory over his closest contender, Ken Woodward with 28.3 per cent of the student vote.

When asked about their joint victory, Reimann and Leonard said, “We extend our thanks and admiration to the entire student body whose personal and group efforts have made this the most successful election in the history of Embry-Riddle. Never before have so many organizations and individuals shown such interest in the politics of this school.”

Special thanks and congratulations are to be extended to all of the other candidates, winners and losers alike. Without whose exhausting canvassing, fighting and providing the necessary funds and success for anyone would not have been possible.”

A close battle, Anne Irving surpassed Bill Meyer by margins of 7.4 per cent (49.9 to 42.5). Jim Dailey, although he was unopposed, received strong support (566 votes).

Air Force ROTC, E-RAU To Model UN

Harvard University has invited ERAU to attend a Model UN this fall. This invitation comes as a result of the superior showing ERAU made last year throughout the United States and in Model UN competitions.

Traveling to Auburn University, David Adolphson and Stetson, E-RAU has compiled an impressive record in these forensic events.

This invitation demonstrates the fine scholastic record ERAU is gaining throughout the country and is a credit to those students and teachers who have made these endeavors possible.

New Registration Changes

As long as the student has the privilege of writing his own schedule, registration is going to be a hassle. Improvements are being made and old procedures discarded to make it less trouble than in the past.

This week ground will be broken for a temporary food facility next to Dorm.

Frank Forest has stated that the new food facility will be capable of making sandwiches and anything available at a normal ‘grill’ when completed, about 90 days from now.

Russell Loomis commented that the grill will be located at the corner of the two buildings facing, facing the Dorm.

Bill Johnson added that the steel buildings will construct the 40 feet by 60 feet structure and a large patio cover adjoining the grill.

The dorm annex has three major areas. It consists of a kitchen area containing a grill, ice cream machine, deep frier, and a vending machine. The dining area is similar to the present student center with 40 feet of vending machines and an occupancy of 50 people at a time. The largest area will be devoted to light recreation, i.e., pool, ping pong, football.

Undecided as yet are hours of operation, the menu, and recreational equipment. It has been suggested that the student should start organizing their ideas for recreational equipment and their menu choices, to be instituted in January.

Richard Reimann wins the top position in the SGA obtaining 45.2 per cent of the total votes cast. The closest candidate, Clyde MacNeal lost by a margin of 31.4 per cent.

Richard Reimann took the vice presidential slot with 46.1 per cent, a near victory over his closest contender, Ken Woodward with 28.3 per cent of the student vote.

When asked about their joint victory, Reimann and Leonard said: “We expressed our thanks and admiration to the entire student body whose personal and group efforts have made this the most successful election in the history of Embry-Riddle. Never before have so many organizations and individuals all been so interested in the politics of this school.

Special thanks and congratulations go to Mr. Reimann for operating under the condition that only 50 per cent of campus interested in SGA were to be allowed to attend the election meetings.

It appears that only those students attending any of the three sessions were to be allowed to cast their votes.

The new registration changes this spring, the machines and procedures involved (guaranteed tuition, etc.) would result in a highly organized program.

This spring, the minimum credit hours for full-time status is being lowered from 14 to 12 hours.

Library To Be Moved Over Christmas Break

This Christmas break the library will move to the dormitory on the west side of A-building, utilizing classrooms and offices from room 110 to 117.

Jack Hunt stated that since this is going to be a temporary move and since the removable walls aren’t easily removed, the library will try to operate with the walls as they are at present. If proven disastrous, most of the walls will come down.

Keynotes: Directors of Library Services, states that Room 116 will be used as a separate reading room so that it can be more easily joined with room 106 as a large meeting area.

The library is presently attempting to complete the move of astronomical science books to the Room 116 Wilson complex and putting final touches on the central card catalog.

Students looking for material can find out what is available by checking the central catalog. The catalog, presently found at the main library, will give a listing of books, along with the books’ location, in the book Wilson building or the main library. This catalogue will be moved with the main library in December.

The present main library building will be converted into classroom and office space for use by the Air Force ROTC.

Harvard Asks ERAU To Model UN

Harvard University has invited ERAU to attend a Model UN this December.

This invitation comes as a result of the superior showing ERAU made last year throughout the Southeast in Model UN competition.

Reflections Of A By Gone Era

by Curtis J. Forcee, Jr.

THE GREAT NERR SCHICKELGROEBER

There's a rumor around tho' strange it may seem, of the great Herr Schickelgnubr and his marvelous dreams.

Being tired of the Russian, he took to his bed and above all things he dreamt he was dead.

To heaven he went straight in a pompador manner and banged at the door awow in his banner.

But Peter called out in tones cold and clear, "Boopen, Adolf Hitler, we don't want you here."

So away did he turn and off did he go with a real German goose step to the region below.

The devil to his lips gave fair warning, "I'm expecting Hitler this dreary morning."

"Don't let him in for I've got the fear, he's a worse guy than I and he'll want to rule here."

"Excuse me for eavesdrop- ping," the Dictator said. "But I couldn't help and is my face red."

"If you don't let me in where am I to go?" "Well," said the devil, "I really don't know."

So he spit on the great and vanished in smoke, and just at that moment he woke.

He jumped to his mirror, his moustache away, then he let out with a loud shrieking cry.

"Heaven I've lost, I know very well, but whoever heard of being kicked out of hell?"

This poem was written by a young college student in 1943 with the help of a German nun of the Dominican order. The nun had been forced to leave Germany and was teaching at a boarding school in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The boy entered his poem in a contest to win ten, two-five cent war bond stamps.

The point of this editorial is to share with you an experience a college student had with a teacher who he'll never forget.

The humor of the poem reveals more about the teacher than about the boy. It shows the great influence she had on him, and the sort of relationship the two of them had.

One can only wonder if she knew how often she would be remembered. Many teachers are thought of and remembered this way, and some are thought of in the negative. Both kinds, though, have a tremendous impact on the life of the student. Teaching does have its rewards if only being remembered in the prayers of a grateful student.

By the way, I won the contest.

THEOPINIONS EXPRESSED IN THIS PAPER ARE NOT NECESSARILY THOSE OF THE STUDENT BODY, NOR DO LETTERS APPEARING IN THIS PAPER NECESSARILY REFLECT THE OPINIONS OF THE STAFF.

This morning, he blushed deeply and told his story in court to state the facts, and follow him to the light.

How can someone running into your rear end be your fault? The old lady got no ticket for speeding in the parking lot when she hit my wife.

Finally, how can that smug judge just sit there and say "no" and then fine you even though he knows you're right?

Think about it the next time you're out to cruise the beach or drive the streets. If you get pulled over by the bond because you're just driving in a court in this area.

If you don't believe me, go into Daytona's "courtroom" at the Police Station during the day between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. and listen to someone then pull up, and then the plea, and see for yourself-

Pete Smith

Dear Student Body:

I've been letting this build up in me for a long time, but what happened today prompted me to let you know so it doesn't happen to you. What is it?---a permanent dispatch for the local police department and for the judicial system in Daytona Beach.

I've been in this area for 11 months and never have been confronted by charges five times, 1) loitering (blocking a sidewalk on the beach); 2) speeding--40 mph in a 35 mph zone he clocked me while was accelerating from three blocks back; 3) illegal parking (I double parked for the Post Office for 1/2 minute); while the light was red I jumped out and dropped a letter in the mailbox there; 4) illegal parking again (blocking an entrance to the sidewalk which was barricaded by barrel of garbage); 5) drunken driving (It happened so close to the entrance of the patrol car and the way officer noticed him was he turned his head, and he didn't like the distance."

I've got a ticket for illegal backing in South Daytona when an old lady smashed into the rear of me while she was backing out of the Crystal parking lot.

Can anyone call this justice? How can talking to some people on a cigarette break a crime? They arrested thirteen of us, and the only one who got his due was the officer policeman and charged $37.00 bond to get out of jail. Two of the thirteen were under 13 years old.

How can blocking an already blocked driveway or dropping mail in a P.O. box while the light goes red be a crime worthy of a $5.00 fine or $50.00 if you plead guilty?"

How can a policeman clock me three blocks ahead of me while he accelerates to catch me and swear I was doing 45 mph because he was?

How can pulling up behind a motorcycle (police man's or otherwise) within which he says he was six inches, it's illegal and he called following too closely? Did you ever follow a stopped vehicle?

My wife got a ticket for eavesdropping on me. If I ever do something you might not like, I'll smile and say "it's only the start of the party!"

That's my story and I hope you'll learn something from it.

David Ackles hasn't put out an album in two years. For Ackles, whose fans have thoroughly discussed all albums since those two years as a sort of holding pattern. The years is a long time between albums, but during the period, he mastered his artrough many years of work and seems to have learned a lot of his music. David Ackles' newest release, American Gothic, is well worth the wait.

It is a revolutionary album and probably the most important record since the Beatles' Sgt. Pepper. American Gothic requires repeated listening to fully appreciate the quality of the music.

It is almost unrelated to rock and can be more closely associated with musical theater. It is good music, listen to the music, and there is nothing a band like it can do. We could possibly keep any- thing from fully enjoying it handicapped international musical forms which were preserved and brought from the world of rock. The mood of the entire album is mellow. Music that has been put to good use. We are going to enjoy it, somewhat.

I can't believe it! There's actually a restaurant that will feed you as much food as you ask for at bargain prices ($1.49 for adults, $1.00 for children). The Boarding House, located at 331 Ridgeview Avenue, is definitely the place to go if you're hungry and short on cash.

Here's how it works. When you order the "pot luck supper", you are served a meat entrée, vegetables, corn bread, cole slaw in a family sized bowls on a lazy susan in the middle of your table. If you want, you're also served a platter of chicken and you can order as much of everything you want at no additional cost.

The food is delicious, and the service fast courteous. The dining area's atmosphere is casual, and the Boarding House also has a bar. Michelob draft beer is available with your meal or in the tavern for 25¢ a glass or $1.00 for a pitcher.

I highly recommend this restaurant. It's filling to the student's stomach but isn't hard on the student's wallet.

In an attempt to include more school sports coverage in The Avion, the staff has decided to feature an intramural football team each week.

This week the deserving team is the Delta Chi Jets. The Jets were strictly an independent team in their first year during the fall of 1969. That first year they finished in third place, but many of the players on the Jets pledged Delta Chi Fraternity, and together they formed two unbeatable teams in 1970. The leagues were separated, one being inter-fraternity (only fraternity members could play) and the other open intramural. The Jets, made up of Delta Chi members and only three independents, would play one game Sunday morning, and then play the interfraternity game later that afternoon, with the same basic team minus the three independents.

The situation occurred in 1971 and both teams once again were undefeated. The intramural league ran until the end of the year and now one player can play on only one team. Once again the Jets are in the intramural league. The start of the football season saw the Delta Chi Jets defeat the Cowboys 36-0. This spring the Delta Chi and Jets victory string is now 24 straight! The team has a potent offense and defense which has been scored upon only 5 times in 2 years.

The Delta Chi Jets would make no predictions on the outcome of this season, only stating it will take a better team to beat them.

Intramural Again

by Robert Aguila

The 1973 intramural football league got underway less Sunday, and old rivalries began once again.

This action started at 9:00 a.m., and when most everyone else was sleeping, Sigma Chi Delta and the Coyotes met on the gridiron. The Coyotes look as if they are well organized and possible contenders for the Little.

In the second game we saw the Vets, another top team, beat Sigma Chi, 6-0. The Vets have been playing together a couple of years and their tough defense has proven to be one of its major attributes.

It was 11 o'clock and two more teams battled it out. This time Shining Co, met Lambda Chi. Lambda Chi was defeated 12-0, with Sunshine Co's touchdowns being the result of the bomb.

Then the stage was set for the Delta Chi Jets and Cowboys game. The Jets scored a couple of times, but not enough, and they lost to the Coyotes 20-0.

Last Friday evening we had a Rush, and what a Rush it was! We elected maybe two hundred people, but as it turned out we had at least twice that. We went through five hops and still some people went away. They all came out like that should have a good number of prospective pledges at our smoker Monday night at 8:00 p.m. The Delta Chi Jets played their first game last Sunday, defeating the Cowboys 14-0. The Wings hung up a rough defensive line with the help of Coach, our FE-222 instructor. The Wing led the team in points with his two touchdowns and one extra point. We must have had a lucky day! After the game, Delta Chi took over the SSA fish fry serving food, drinks, and beer. When it was all over, we took on the task of cleaning up the mess. The beer was excellent, and the fish left something to be desired. Our next football game is Sunday at 9 a.m. Be sure and be there to see the Jets win their second consecutive game.

Alpha Rho Omega Professional Aviation Maintenance Fraternity was founded right here in ERAU during March, 1971. During this past summer the incorporation papers were corrected, and the fraternity was left so any schools wishing to start a branch fraternity of Alpha Rho Omega can do so under our incorporation.

Alpha Rho Omega is currently aligned with a national aviation and an international association. The national is P.A.M.E. Professional Aviation Maintenance Association; headquarters at Pittsburgh, Pa., and the international is S.A.E.T.-Society of Licensed Aircraft Engineers and Technologists, headquarters at Luton, England. The purpose of these organizations is to promote a high degree of professionalism among aviation mechanics, foster and improve methods, skills, learning and achievement within the field of Aviation Maintenance, so conduct international, national, state and local meetings and seminars; to publish, distribute and disseminate news, technical bulletin, journals, and other appropriate publications dealing with the trade of Aviation Maintenance.

APU, PAMA, and SAE are composed of non-profit, non-sectarian and non-union. Membership in the above mentioned can be retained for the rest of your life. The dues are extremely reasonable and it is in the best way to keep up with the maintenance profession.

For further information, contact us through box 1478 or if you are welcome to attend any meetings. The next meeting will be on Oct. 4th (Wednesday) at 7:30P.M. at the Lake nw Park Recreation Hall, Nova Rd. and Need Canal Rd.

Mansfield Travels To Munich

by John Miller

"Politics obtruded on the scene terribly and the ethic of the Games was lost." With this statement, Dean Mansfield described the Olympic Games after his first-hand experience in Munich, Germany.

When he arrived, he found the city beautifully decorated and the people most gracious and hospitable. However, this was soon overshadowed by the murders of the Israeli wrestling team members. "After the shootings, a black curtain seemed to pass over the city," Mansfield said. The tragedy, along with the mishandling of the Games themselves, caused Dean Mansfield to call his remaining tickets and return early.

Among the events the Dean did attend were track and field, soccer and basketball. Speaking as Soccer Coach, Mansfield noted, with disappointment, the performance of the American Soccer Team. He felt that since the rest of the world plays the game, it is "not Democratic for us to play sub-standard soccer." (The U.S. team tied their first game but didn't make it to the quarter finals.)

The Mint Made A Mistake

You Can Collect

By Joe Green

Usually, a penny is worth a penny, except for Indian head pennies, and quite a few old Lincoln cents. In 1955, the U.S. Mint erred and minted a few thousand double stamped pennies, but these are out of circulation now.

It is very rare that the U.S. Mint goes with their stringent methods of manufacture and quality control—but this year they did.

That's right, they double stamped a few thousand, or perhaps as many as a hundred thousand, 1972 Lincoln one cent pieces. What does this mean to you? Well, if you're a numismatic, you can put one in your collection. Or, you can sell them to a coin dealer in Daytona or anywhere else in the country.

What's the price? Well, it's up in the air right now, but they've usually been selling for 50 to 100 dollars each. A young man in Port Orange found 230 of them and sold them for $11,500 to a coin dealer in Philadelphia.

There are still plenty in circulation, so, after you pay your 4 1/2 Florida sales tax, look at the pennies you get in change. Match those pennies you spend; a handful could finance your education.
