ERAU Students Chosen For Who’s Who

Twenty eight students attending Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University have been nationally recognized in the Directory of Who’s Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Selection of students currently enrolled in degree programs was made by the Dean of Student's Office. Evaluation was based on highest honor point credits and the individual's extra curricular responsibilities and accomplishments. Special emphasis in selection was placed upon character, leadership, and anticipated potential. The names of those selected are:

John J. Andre
Louis A. Arroyo
James A. Baerwolf
Robert P. Barrett

Safety Helmets May Not Be Safe

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has got news for you concerning motorcycle helmets. A newsletter sent to President Burks was as follows:

"Almost 50 percent of the motorcycle helmets tested for the Government did not meet the performance requirements set by industry specifications, the Department of Transportation announced today."

The Safety Administration also noted that the test results are not reliable as conclusive, "but offer an initial attempt at comparison of the performance of safety helmets and illustrate the need for examination.

If you're alarmed at this preliminary report, stop by the ERAU traffic office in Schow administration building and rent a helmet. We have 54 different model helmets and how they fared in the tests. Some even cracked apart after weighing 50 lbs. off storing shelves.

Now that everyone knows where the Student Employment Office is located (where the EGA use to be), there are expecting to be bargained with millions upon millions of dollars. Concerning part-time and summer employment, you will have listings of opportunities for local jobs which will help you to earn money so you can have fun while in college. Many local businesses list jobs which will work right into your schedules or will work around the odd hours you might keep. Security offices are just screaming for help now that the Christmas season is upon us.

Also, it is not too early to start planning for summer jobs. If you intend to return to campus, you should start looking for work right now. And you should keep looking for work in the summer. Good luck!

The first medal, the Legion of Merit, was awarded to Colonel Kasler, Air Defense Artillery, for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services from April 1962 to March 1972. His inspiring leadership, professional competence, sound judgment, and devotion to duty were reflected in the results achieved in the preparation of Special Forces teams for operations in politically sensitive areas of the world and his numerous contributions to the development of future concepts in the special warfare field.

The Great Government Silver Dollar Rip Off

1904 "O" silver dollar was going for $2500. The three released bags of 1903 and 1904 silver dollars in 1963, and the price? 1964 the $30. 1964 the 1902 was $30. Today you can buy a 1903 for $40. and a 1904 for $50. Imagine the unfortunate collector who paid $1500 and $350 for these coins in 1963:

Another factor to consider is that these coins were moved around the entire country since they were minted. They might be tarnished, have nicks, scratches, etc. If you buy one, be sure you know exactly what you are getting as you can inspect it first.

But if the Government sale is like buying a pig in a poke. Rule of thumb on how to order these "uncirculated" have not previ- ously been issued not for circulation. No other good reasons to have 1903 and 1904 were given. No inscriptions are permitted, the coins are not sold on an additional basis.

If you want to save in case it is different, spend about 5-8 months you can probably expect to have one for about $10.

Today's Music And Buzz Scaggs

by Rory Donnelly

The first thing that you notice about the new Buzz Scaggs album is how his style has evolved from Steve Miller Boogie to Van Morrison and John Lee Hooker.

Buzz Scaggs has one of the sweetest, friendliest voices around. His crackly vocal talents, combined with his new enthusiasm for soft, mellow music, has resulted in a highly-praised, commercially successful album.

Buzz Scaggs' voice is soft and mellow, and his songs are built around simple, catchy melodies. His music is perfect for relaxing or just listening to in the background.

He has released several albums over the years, each one showcasing his unique style and sound. His music is a fusion of blues, jazz, rock, and folk, and he is known for his smooth vocals and heartfelt lyrics.

His latest album is a testament to his growth as an artist, and it's clear that he is continuing to evolve and push the boundaries of his musical style. Whether you're a fan of jazz, blues, or rock, Buzz Scaggs is an artist you won't want to miss.

Vets And Jets Tied For First Place
In Last Week Of Intramural Football
by Bob Argila

As the final week of intramural football approached, two teams will be out practicing vigorously for their final game. This final game will determine the 1972 championship because both teams are undefeated and have a total of nine wins. The teams are the Vets and the Delta Chi Jets.

The action started last Thursday when the Jets knocked off Sigma Phi Delta, 46-0. Quarterback Larry Froedge led the Jets offensively.

Regular quarterback Paul Barry started at halfback, and what he lacked in size, he made up for in the size of his heart. As both players accounted for two thirds of the scoring, defensively, the Jets picked off four passes to make the day complete.

The Sigma Phi Delta team deserves a lot of credit this year. They have a total of nine players, and everyone plays the whole game without a rest. They have been out there fighting every week without missing any games. So, three cheers for Sigma Phi!

The Cowboys beat Lambda Chi Alpha by the result of a final score of 1-0. Just for fun, the Cowboys and Jetas scrimmaged each other. The game turned into a farce as members from each team switched sides. Can you imagine Mr. playing for the Delta Chi Jets?

A big game for the Six In A Row As ERAU Eagles Go Rolling On
by Rory Donnelly

Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University soccer team stretched its winning streak to six in a row. This streak proved to be this season's most successful one, in which the ERAU Eagles have scored a total of 1-0. This last game, however, was apparently led to overestimate the team's potential. The Eagles have not been able to move the ball into the goal since the second half. They went on to win the game by a final score of 6-5. It was the fourteenth meeting of the two schools; the Eagles have won 11 and tied 3. Thursday, November 9, at 3 p.m. in Embry-Riddle will host to Florida Institute of Technology at the airport field. The game is a rematch, Embry-Riddle winning the first game. The results of this game will be covered in the next issue of The Avion.

Also, this Saturday, at 2 p.m., the Eagles will face Mount Berry College of Georgia for the NAIA District #25 championship. A neutral field in Valdosta, Georgia has been chosen for the game site.

Motocross Racing
by Bob Argila

The relatively young motocross races have been gaining popularity throughout the world as crowds get a thrill out of seeing cyclists jump over hills, slide around corners, and travel through these courses at extremely high speeds.

Two weeks ago, in Orlando, the Trans-Am 500 cc Open International motocross series and the 250 cc National Trans-Am motocross series were held, and a 250,000 purse plus over $9,000 in gifts and cash were contributed by various manufacturers.

The winner of the 500 cc Open race was Ake Jonsson from Vasteras, Sweden riding a Maico. Second place went to Henrik Mikkola of Sweden riding a Husqvarna, and third to Arne Kring, also of Sweden and also riding a Husqvarna.

The 250 cc race was won by Peter Lampoff from California, and he rode a Kawasaki to victory.

Coach Brown
Don Kent US Vs.
J.M. Fields (conclusion)
by John H. Miller, Jr.

GUARDIAN OF PAST EVENTS: ERAU student Don Kent attempted to purchase a television set from J.M. Fields. According to the "double-the-difference" policy, J.M. Fields would double the difference between the set's price and the lower price quoted by K-Mart in this case, the price was subtracted from their (J.M. Fields') original price. The new price was established and both Don and J.M. Fields agreed concerning the sale terms.

The supposed sale agreement, at least according to that J.M. Fields was not going to deliver the set, (for details of the "hassle", see October issue of The Avion), J.M. Fields said that the implementation of the "double-the-difference" policy was at the store manager's discretion; that the "discretion" clause was not stated in any advertisement, was not posted anywhere in the appliance department or was not stated verbally to Don during negotiations. Don felt he had grounds to take the issue to small claims court.

NOV. 2: The small claims hearing was held at 1:10 p.m. J.M. Fields representative was asked if J.M. Fields had made the sale, but "due to other circumstances", they were unprepared to set up Don. They explained the circumstances that the manager would make the final decision on "double-the-difference" sales and did not elaborate further. The representative stated that the issue would have to go to trial at a later date. The Judge also asked if J.M. Fields would settle by returning to Don the price paid plus forty-five dollars. The representative stated that he would have to check with the store manager. The hearing was then dismissed.

At 3:00 p.m., Don received a call from small claims court indicating that J.M. Fields was going to settle by complying with the terms of the sale. At 6:15 p.m., Don received the television set.

Writers note: The plight of the consumer is well illustrated here. It is certainly unfortunate that Don was inconvenienced by a "redundant membership." It is fortunate, however, that Don was persistent and, using one of many tools of consumer protection, was able to win the battle that arose over a simple attempt to purchase merchandise.

Cypruss Gardens
Located just 9 miles from Winter Haven, Florida, Cypruss Gardens is one of the best known tourist spots in Florida. This attraction is the home of the world famous water ski show.

The drive to the Winter Haven area is rather long for the amount of area to be seen upon arrival. We spent a portion of one afternoon and had seen the entire grounds.

The gardens are a collection of thousands of flowers and other plant life from all over the world. They are, indeed, very beautiful. There are several miles of lovely walking paths, and the various varietals of plant life are identified by plaques.

Also available on a cable boat ride through the gardens. This ride does not completely cover the garden area, but, at best, the second choice of methods here in the gardens. Also, the cost is $1.00 per person and, in my opinion, not a good investment.

Considering the distance to the area, I would not recommend the trip for just the gardens. There are other attractions in the area and a trip to that area could be planned to encompass all the attractions in one day.

The cost is approximately that of the other attractions. However, the amount of entertainment is not comparable, and, therefore, does not get my recommendation.

There is no truth to the rumor that Mr. Bolton’s new Jet Lab will be built by Fall, '73.
